

PM shares an article on the Government's farmer-first approach, through crop insurance, soil health cards, direct benefit transfers and modern irrigation, that has strengthened livelihoods, enhanced productivity and ensured resilience in India's agricultural sector

Posted On: 12 AUG 2025 12:33PM by PIB Delhi

The Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi today shared an article by Rajya Sabha MP, Shri Satnam Singh Sandhu highlighting how the Government's farmer-first approach, through crop insurance, soil health cards, direct benefit transfers and modern irrigation, has strengthened livelihoods, enhanced productivity and ensured resilience in India's agricultural sector.

The PMO India handle on X posted:

“In this insightful read, @satnamsandhuchd Ji highlights how the Government's farmer-first approach, through crop insurance, soil health cards, direct benefit transfers and modern irrigation, has strengthened livelihoods, enhanced productivity and ensured resilience in India's agricultural sector.”

In this insightful read, @satnamsandhuchd Ji highlights how the Government's farmer-first approach, through crop insurance, soil health cards, direct benefit transfers and modern irrigation, has strengthened livelihoods, enhanced productivity and ensured resilience in India's...
pic.twitter.com/8vHLRcwQri

— PMO India (@PMOIndia) August 12, 2025

MJPS/SR

(Release ID: 2155383)