A joint Military Civil Fusion (MCF) exercise, “Sanjha Shakti”, was successfully conducted from 08 to 09 January 2026 at the Diggi Range, Khadki Military Station, under the aegis of MG & G Area, Southern Command. The exercise highlighted seamless coordination and joint preparedness among civil and military agencies to address complex security challenges and emergency situations.

The exercise witnessed active participation from the Indian Army and 16 key civilian agencies including Maharashtra Police, Force One and Fire Fighting Departments, wherein more than 350 personnel, excluding Army personnel, participated in the exercise.

The exercise focused on enhancing interoperability, rapid response, and coordinated action in evolving emergency and security scenarios.

Realistic situations were simulated to test standard operating procedures, communication mechanisms, and decision-making at various operational levels. Appreciating the Indian Army's endeavour, all participating agencies overwhelmingly reaffirmed their commitment towards ensuring public safety, swift crisis management, and strengthened civil-military synergy.

Lt Gen DS Kushwah, AVSM, SM, General Officer Commanding, MG & G Area, while addressing the gathering, emphasised the Indian Army's effective role in flood relief operations, key aspects of rear area security, and ongoing welfare initiatives for veterans and Veer Naris.

He highlighted that strong synergy between the Indian Army and all organs of the State is the need of the hour to safeguard the hinterland, provide humanitarian assistance during natural disasters, and ensure holistic support for veterans and their families.

Such joint exercises play a vital role in refining operational synergy and preparedness to effectively respond to emerging security challenges.
