Introduction

India observes National Voters' Day on January 25 each year. It celebrates democracy and empowers every citizen to take part in the electoral process. The day marks the foundation of the Election Commission of India (ECI), which was established on January 25, 1950, under Article 324 of the Indian Constitution.

The ECI is a pivotal constitutional authority responsible for the control, supervision, and conduct of elections in the world's largest democracy. It has conducted 18 general elections and over 400 State Legislative Assembly elections till date. The Commission also oversees elections to the Rajya Sabha, State Legislative Councils (wherever they exist), the Union Territories of Puducherry and the National Capital Territory of Delhi, as well as the esteemed offices of the President and Vice President of India. It is a multi-member body comprising the Chief Election Commissioner and two other Election Commissioners.

The theme for National Voters' Day 2026 is "My India, My Vote" with a tagline of Citizen at the Heart of Indian Democracy. It symbolizes the efforts of ECI to design citizen centric electoral processes. The Commission keeps the convenience of citizens in mind. It encourages their participation in the electoral processes.

The main event of NVD is held in New Delhi. The President of India addresses the event. The President gives Electors' Photo Identity Cards (EPIC) to a group of newly enrolled young voters and honors electoral officers for their phenomenal work. These awards recognize their distinguished contribution to electoral management. Civil service organizations are also honored for their work.

Significance of the National Voters Day

Voters' participation in the democratic and electoral processes is integral to the successful running of any democracy. It is the very basis of wholesome democratic elections.

In India, ECI ensures that every eligible Indian is on the Electoral Roll. It must also work to get everyone on the roll to voluntarily vote. NVD helps fulfil this constitutional responsibility. It creates awareness about voter registration and participation. The day encourages eligible citizens to enrol themselves and exercise their democratic right to vote. The day is dedicated to all voters of the nation. Enrolment of new voters is a key focus of this celebration. Across India, new voters are honoured on this day.

NVD is being celebrated across the country at around 11 lakh polling booths, at district level by District Election Officers (DEO) and at State level by Chief Electoral Officers (CEO). The Booth Level Officers (BLOs) organize event at each polling station area and felicitate newly registered voters.

In order to reach out to the masses, the Election Commission of India (ECI) initiated the practice of celebrating National Voters' Day (NVD) on its Foundation Day, i.e., 25 January, in 2011. It is celebrated with great enthusiasm across the country, accompanied by a series of outreach measures such as symposia, cycle rallies, human chains, folk art programmes, mini-marathons, competitions, and awareness seminars. Most of these activities target young people to build awareness about voting and democracy.

The Election Commission of India organizes several activities for National Voters' Day celebrations.

The Declaration establishes Five Pillars for strengthening global democratic electoral processes through cooperation and innovation:

- Pillar II: Conduct of Elections - Ensuring participative, inclusive, transparent, efficient, free, and fair elections, with EMBs operating in line with constitutional or legal mandates and involving all stakeholders.
- Pillar III: Research and Publications - Committing to produce an Encyclopaedia of Democracies, including an Atlas of global electoral systems (approved by respective EMBs). Along with elaborative reports on 7 themes led by International IDEA and 36 themes led by India's IIIDEM.

- Pillar V: Training and Capacity Building - IIIDEM, the world's largest election training institute, has trained over 10,000 Indian staff and personnel from more than 100 countries over 15 years. Leveraging this extensive experience, India offers training facilities and exchange of best practices to EMBs worldwide.

Participating nations resolved to operationalize these pillars via measurable actions, collaboration, and annual progress reviews, with the next meeting scheduled for December 3-5, 2026, at IIIDEM in New Delhi. This landmark declaration highlights India's leadership in advancing electoral integrity and global democratic standards.

Under this leadership, India aims to promote democratic innovation, strengthen global partnerships, and advance inclusive, peaceful, resilient, and sustainable democratic systems worldwide. India's vast electoral experience and strong democratic institutions position it uniquely to lead International IDEA in 2026. The Chairship is anchored in the theme "Democracy for an inclusive, peaceful, resilient and sustainable world," guided by two core pillars:

- Reimagining Democracy for the Future (focusing on AI, diversity, sustainability, SDGs, and future-ready systems)
