Goa, 12 February 2026

As part of Financial Literacy Week 2026 (February 9–13), themed KYC – Your First Step to Safe Banking, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), Panaji Regional Office organized a thematic quiz titled Are You Account Able...? at Goa Business School on February 10, 2026. The quiz aimed to enhance awareness of Know Your Customer (KYC) norms among undergraduate students.

Smt. Sandra Rodrigues, Deputy General Manager, Financial Inclusion and Development Department (FIDD), RBI Panaji, highlighted the importance of financial literacy and KYC compliance in ensuring secure banking and empowering youth in the financial ecosystem.

Students from various non-technical colleges under the Directorate of Higher Education, Goa, participated in the quiz. Following a preliminary elimination round, the top six teams competed in the final round, which tested practical knowledge related to customer verification, fraud prevention, regulatory compliance, and KYC procedures.

VVM's Shree Damodar College of Commerce & Economics, Margao, secured first place, followed by CES's Parvatibai Chowgule College of Arts and Science and Goa Multi Faculty College in second and third place respectively.

The initiative reinforced RBI's commitment to promoting financial literacy and safe banking practices among youth.
