Union Minister of State, Smt. Raksha Nikhil Khadse, chaired a district-level review meeting in Hojai under the initiative of the Ministry of Development of North Eastern Region (MDoNER) to assess the progress of Central Sector Schemes and Centrally Sponsored Schemes across key sectors including health, education, agriculture, infrastructure, financial inclusion, skill development, and basic service delivery.

During the meeting, the Union MoS reviewed sector-wise performance and interacted with district officials and stakeholders to understand ground-level challenges and opportunities. She listened to their concerns and suggestions, provided guidance, and assured full support from the Government of India for timely resolution of key issues affecting service delivery and development outcomes.

The Union MoS also highlighted key provisions of the Union Budget relevant to Assam and the North Eastern Region, emphasizing their role in strengthening infrastructure, livelihoods, and social services. She appreciated the district administration for efficient project execution, timely completion of works, and achievement of targets under various schemes.

The meeting emphasized the need for strengthening implementation mechanisms, improving convergence among schemes, and accelerating holistic and inclusive development in the district.

The review meeting was attended by the District Commissioner of Hojai, Shri Bidyut Bilash Bhagwati, along with senior officials of the district administration and line departments.
