- (c) whether Goods and Services Tax (GST) is levied on the production, sale or distribution of bio-fertilizers, cow dung-based fertilizers and other organic fertilizers, if so, the details thereof indicating their current rate; and
- (d) the reason for not exempting such products from tax despite the promotion of environmental protection, natural farming and sustainable agriculture?

ANSWER

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF CHEMICALS & FERTILIZERS

(ANUPRIYA PATEL)

(a) At present, there is no such scheme to encourage the establishment of production and processing units for bio-fertilizers, cow dung and fertilizers manufactured from other agriculture and livestock waste-materials.

(b) In view of (a) above, question does not arise.

(c) & (d) GST is levied on the supply of fertilizers. Currently, supply of animal or vegetable fertilizers, whether or not mixed together or chemically treated, fertilisers produced by the mixing or chemical treatment of animal or vegetable products and organic manure, other than pre-packaged and labelled attract Nil GST.
