

Regarding rising divorce and domestic violence cases in Punjab and across India

According to the Punjab Police, the number of cases of domestic violence has increased significantly in the last few years. This is due to the rising awareness of women's rights and the increasing number of women who are reporting such cases. The Punjab Police has taken steps to deal with these cases, including the establishment of special cells for domestic violence and the appointment of women police officers to handle such cases. The Punjab Police has also launched a campaign to raise awareness of domestic violence and to encourage women to report such cases.

The Punjab Police has also taken steps to deal with the rising number of divorce cases. This is due to the rising awareness of women's rights and the increasing number of women who are reporting such cases. The Punjab Police has taken steps to deal with these cases, including the establishment of special cells for domestic violence and the appointment of women police officers to handle such cases. The Punjab Police has also launched a campaign to raise awareness of domestic violence and to encourage women to report such cases.

The Punjab Police has also taken steps to deal with the rising number of divorce cases. This is due to the rising awareness of women's rights and the increasing number of women who are reporting such cases. The Punjab Police has taken steps to deal with these cases, including the establishment of special cells for domestic violence and the appointment of women police officers to handle such cases. The Punjab Police has also launched a campaign to raise awareness of domestic violence and to encourage women to report such cases.

The Punjab Police has also taken steps to deal with the rising number of divorce cases. This is due to the rising awareness of women's rights and the increasing number of women who are reporting such cases. The Punjab Police has taken steps to deal with these cases, including the establishment of special cells for domestic violence and the appointment of women police officers to handle such cases. The Punjab Police has also launched a campaign to raise awareness of domestic violence and to encourage women to report such cases.