A two-day Blood Donation Camp was inaugurated today at the Composite Hospital (CH), Pune, in collaboration with all institutions co-located on the Group Centre CRPF Pune campus. The camp is being organized as part of the celebrations of the CRPF Raising Day.

The camp witnessed an enthusiastic and overwhelming response from officers and personnel of the Force. The initiative aims to promote voluntary blood donation and contribute towards saving precious lives.

On the inaugural day, Shri Vaibhav Nimbalkar, IPS, DIG, GC CRPF Pune, along with other senior officers, participated in the noble cause by donating blood alongside the jawans, encouraging personnel to actively participate in this humanitarian initiative.

Speaking on the occasion, Shri Nimbalkar stated that blood donation is one of the noblest services to humanity and reflects the spirit of dedication and compassion that CRPF personnel uphold—not only in safeguarding the nation but also in serving society.

The blood donation camp will continue tomorrow, with a target of collecting around 200 units of blood, further strengthening the spirit of service and solidarity among Force personnel during the Raising Day celebrations.
