The India-Russia Round Table was held today at the Ministry of Steel. The meeting was co-chaired by the Secretary, Ministry of Steel, Government of India, and Mr. Mikhail IURIN, Deputy Minister of Industry and Trade of the Russian Federation.

The Russian delegation, comprising representatives from industry and related sectors, participated in the discussions along with Indian counterparts. The meeting provided a platform for constructive engagement and exchange of views on matters of mutual interest in the steel sector, including raw material sourcing, technological collaboration, equipment manufacturing and research opportunities.

During the meeting, both sides discussed various aspects of bilateral cooperation and reviewed the existing engagement between the two countries. Discussions were held on broad areas concerning the steel sector and related industries, with a view to further strengthening cooperation.

The interaction also enabled both sides to gain a better understanding of each other's perspectives and explore possibilities for continued engagement in the sector. The importance of sustained dialogue and cooperation was emphasized during the meeting.

The discussions were held in a cordial and constructive atmosphere, reflecting the longstanding partnership between India and the Russian Federation. Both sides expressed their intent to continue engagement and further strengthen cooperation in the steel sector.
