The Government of India stands with Nepal in this hour of crisis. I spoke with the Chief Ministers of Bihar and Uttar Pradesh regarding the disaster in Nepal. In border areas likely to be affected, the local administration and rescue teams, along with the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF), have been placed on high alert.

As per the Advisory of the Central Water Commission (CWC) and media reports, a sudden rise in river water level in the Trishuli river at Furke Khola in Nepal, around 160 km from the Indian border, due to suspected Flash flood/GLOF activity near the Nepal–China border, has been reported. The impact of flood is likely to travel downstream in the Gandak river, in India.

State government of Bihar and Uttar Pradesh have taken measures such as required evacuation and other support to local Indian communities near the India–Nepal border. Both states have been advised to remain alert and maintain close monitoring of the situation.

Officers of Ministry of Home Affairs along with Ministry of External Affairs (MEA), Ministry of Jal Shakti and Ministry of Defence are continuously monitoring the situation. As per CWC, the water level on Nepal side reservoirs is reducing and the situation is under control. No panic-like situation has arisen.
