As part of the ongoing Swachhata campaign aligned with the vision of Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi to transform cleanliness into a sustained, people-led movement, the Senior citizens residing at the SAIDS (Social Action for Integrated Development Services) Old Age Home located in Adilabad, Telangana, actively participated in a cleanliness and sanitation campaign. This distinctive initiative reaffirmed the spirit of Jan Bhagidari and collective responsibility towards building a cleaner, healthier and more sustainable society.

The Swachhata Hi Seva 2026 campaign, being observed with the theme “Swachhata Mein Sahbhag, Swachh Bharat, Viksit Bharat”, places emphasis on active participation of citizens, institutions and communities in cleanliness and sanitation activities.

Demonstrating enthusiasm and a strong sense of civic responsibility, the senior citizens came forward and participated in cleanliness activities in and around their surroundings. Their involvement conveyed a powerful message that the responsibility for maintaining clean and hygienic surroundings is shared by every section of society.

The participation of the elderly citizens also highlights the valuable role that senior citizens can play in community mobilization and social awareness. Through their experience, commitment and active participation in civic initiatives, they serve as an inspiration to the wider community and demonstrate that age is no barrier to contributing to the collective well-being of society.

The initiative further reinforces the importance of Seva, community participation and social responsibility in achieving the objectives of Swachh Bharat. The active involvement of senior citizens reflects the inclusive character of the Swachhata movement, wherein every citizen can contribute meaningfully towards creating cleaner and healthier living environments.

The participation of the senior citizens at SAIDS Old Age Home reinforces the message that Swachhata is not merely a campaign but a collective responsibility and a way of life. Their contribution exemplifies the spirit of Jan Bhagidari and strengthens the broader vision of a Swachh Bharat and Viksit Bharat.
