The Media Registration for India Mining Week (IMW) 2026 is now open for journalists, media professionals and content creators wishing to cover the three-day international event, scheduled to be held from 15 to 17 November 2026 at Yashobhoomi Convention Centre, New Delhi.

The three-day summit will be organised under the theme “Stronger Resources, Smarter Mining, Sustainable Tomorrow”, reflecting India's vision of building a technologically advanced, globally competitive and environmentally responsible mining sector. The event will bring together policymakers, government representatives, mining and mineral companies, investors, technology innovators, equipment manufacturers, researchers and international stakeholders to deliberate on developments across the mining and minerals sector.

The summit will feature a high-level conference, international exhibition, technical sessions, leadership dialogues and dedicated networking opportunities. Discussions will focus on critical themes including mineral security, exploration, digitisation, automation, mine safety, sustainability, critical minerals, resource efficiency, innovation and the future of mining in an evolving global landscape. The event is expected to provide a platform for discussions on the future of India's mining ecosystem and the evolving global mineral landscape.

Media registration is open through the official India Mining Week website- <https://www.indiaminingweek.org/media-registration/>
