The 8th edition of PM Mementos, featuring unique gifts and artefacts presented to the Prime Minister, is now live and has been extended until October 31, 2026.

This edition features 30 different mementos showcasing the diverse dimensions of Delhi. Open for public bidding, the collection brings together a diverse range of artworks, objects of devotion, handcrafted items and institutional memorabilia that can serve as unique keepsakes. The proceeds from the auction will go to the Namami Gange Project.

The 30 mementos include nine photo frames, nine mementos, and six idols, sculptures and statues. The collection also includes two Delhi Metro models, a sports memorabilia item, a painting, art and craft items, among others.

Religious and Cultural Traditions

The collection features several mementos linked to India's religious traditions. Four pieces depict Lord Ram or scenes from the Ramayana. These include a Ram Darbar sculpture, a brass plaque depicting Ram, Sita and Lakshman crossing a river with Kevat, a painting of Saint Dada Dev from Palam Village, and a carved wooden statue of Ram Lalla.

The collection also includes a representation of the Eight Auspicious Symbols of Buddhism. The memento, also known as the Eight Auspicious Symbols of Ashtamangala, holds deep spiritual significance and is traditionally associated with Buddhist teachings and the enlightenment of the Buddha.

Delhi's Institutions and Infrastructure

The collection includes representations of several institutions and landmarks of Delhi. A framed artwork depicts St. Stephen's College, while a crystal memento of the Old Secretariat building and a textile artwork representing the New Parliament Building capture different facets of Delhi's institutional heritage.

Public Life and Achievement

The collection brings together objects that represent achievement, public service and personal expression. Among the featured items is a highly detailed pencil sketch showing a close-up portrait of Hon'ble Prime Minister Narendra Modi by a student from Rohini.

The discus of Paralympic silver medallist Yogesh Kathuniya represents sporting achievement and perseverance. The NCC's gold-polished Param Vir Mati Kalash carries the spirit of service and remembrance. Besides this, a portrait meticulously rendered on a natural, skeletonised Bodhi leaf adds another dimension of personal and artistic expression.

From a student in Rohini to the Delhi Metro, the Legislative Assembly and the New Parliament, these mementos carry stories from across Delhi. The auction gives these memories a larger public purpose, with the proceeds going to the Namami Gange Project.
