

Prime Minister shares an article on transformation of Indian agriculture

Posted On: 07 OCT 2026 11:24AM by PIB Delhi

The Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi, today, shared an article written by Shri Ashok Gulati on the transformation of Indian agriculture. The article highlights that Shri Modi's 25-year journey, from Gujarat's agrarian transformation to a broader transformation of Indian agriculture, shows how better irrigation, reliable power, rural roads, technology and market access helped farmers increase productivity and income.

Shri Modi posted on X;

PM @narendramodi's 25-year journey, from Gujarat's agrarian transformation to a broader transformation of Indian agriculture, shows how better irrigation, reliable power, rural roads, technology and market access helped farmers increase productivity and income.

At the national level, this approach has expanded to direct farmer support, diversification and better rural infrastructure.

A must-read on the transformation of Indian agriculture.
