

Education: A Pathway to Opportunity and Empowerment

Ajay Kumar Ahirwar's Journey Through the National Fellowship Scheme for Scheduled Caste Students

Posted On: 14 OCT 2026 5:25PM by PIB Delhi

Access to timely financial assistance help students from economically disadvantaged backgrounds pursue higher education and research.

Ajay Kumar Ahirwar's journey reflects the importance of fellowship support in reducing financial barriers and enabling continued academic and professional development.

Ajay Kumar Ahirwar, a 37-year-old Scheduled Caste beneficiary, is working as a Guest Faculty member while pursuing his academic and research aspirations. Coming from a financially constrained family background, he faced difficulties in managing educational expenses, study materials, fieldwork, research-related requirements and daily living costs. Balancing his academic responsibilities with his professional commitments as a Guest Faculty member also presented challenges. Despite these constraints, he remained committed to higher education and research.

The National Fellowship Scheme for Scheduled Caste Students (NFSC) provided crucial financial assistance to Shri Ahirwar, helping him continue his higher education and research without major financial interruptions. Under the scheme, he receives fellowship assistance of ₹31,000 per month, which supports his educational and research-related expenses and essential living costs.
