Further, these Non-GAAP Measures and other operating matrices are not a measurement of our financial performance or liquidity under Ind AS, IFRS or US GAAP and should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to cash flows, profit for the period / year or any other measure of financial performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or cash flows generated by operating, investing or financing activities derived in accordance with Ind AS, IFRS or US GAAP. In addition, these Non-GAAP Measures are not a standardised term, hence a direct comparison of similarly titled Non-GAAP Measures and other operating matrices between companies may not be possible. Similarly, statements that describe the strategies, objectives, plans or goals of our Company are also forward-looking statements. All statements regarding our expected financial conditions, results of operations, business plans and prospects are forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements include statements as to our business strategy, plans, revenue and profitability (including, without limitation, any financial or operating projections or forecasts) and other matters discussed in this Prospectus that are not historical facts. However, these are not the exclusive means of identifying forward-looking statements.

These forward-looking statements are based on our current plans, estimates and expectations and actual results may differ materially from those suggested by such forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties, expectations and assumptions about us that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by the relevant forward-looking statement.

Actual results may differ materially from those suggested by the forward-looking statements due to risks or uncertainties associated with our expectations with respect to, but not limited to, regulatory changes pertaining to the industry in which our Company operates and our ability to respond to them, our ability to successfully implement our strategy, our growth and expansion, technological changes, our exposure to market risks, general economic and political conditions in India and globally which have an impact on our business activities, investments, or the industry in which we operate, the monetary and fiscal policies of India, inflation, deflation, unanticipated turbulence in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity prices or other rates or prices, the performance of the financial markets in India and globally, changes in domestic laws, regulations and taxes, changes in competition in the industry in which we operate and incidents of any natural calamities and/or acts of violence. 3. We are in the process of expanding our operations and establishing a network of distributors & customers in regions where we do not have a significant presence or prior experience. Any failure to expand into these new regions could adversely affect our sales, financial condition, result of operations and cash flows.

4. Our proposed capacity expansion plans are subject to the risk of unanticipated delays in implementation and cost overruns.

5. Certain of our corporate records and filings made by us are either untraceable or incorrect. We cannot assure you that legal proceedings or regulatory actions will not be initiated against us in the future, or that we will not be subject to any penalty imposed by the competent regulatory authority in relation to such discrepancies.

INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

BUSINESS RELATED RISKS

1. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, we derived 73.20%, 80.93%, 81.59% and 80.49% of our revenue from the sale of wire and cable polymer compounds. Any loss of sales due to reduction in demand for such products would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

   We are a manufacturer of multiple grades of custom formulated polymer compounds, catering to diversified critical industries such as telecommunication, power, railways, water, oil and gas distribution, among others. As per CRISIL Report, polymer compounds are used as an essential raw material for sheathing, jacketing and insulation of wires and cables used in power, telecommunication and railway industries as well as coating of underground oil, gas and water pipelines, in order to provide a protective infrastructure from corrosion and external environmental factors. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. We rely heavily on revenue generated from the sale of polymer compounds used in the wire and cable industries, therefore any reduction in the demand of our products or any downturn in the wire and cable industries, may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

   As per CRISIL Report, in the wire and cable industry, polymers serve crucial functions in electrical insulation, mechanical protection, and overall cable performance. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. Therefore, the success of our products and of our business is dependent upon the success of the wire and cable industries and on the performance of the products of our customers, who are engaged in manufacturing wires and cables. Our success is also dependent upon our ability to diversify and grow our operations, retain our existing customers and expand our customer base. In the event, we are unable to scale our operations or retain or increase our wire and cable customers, our revenue from operations and cash flow may experience a decline. The table below set out the revenue from operations earned from our product categories for the period indicated below:

Product Categories	For the three months period ended June 30, 2026		Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	(₹ in lakhs)	% of total sales	(₹ in lakhs)	% of total sales	(₹ in lakhs)	% of total sales	(₹ in lakhs)	% of total sales
Pipelines	2,868.41	26.80%	6,663.20	19.07%	6,045.39	18.41%	5,782.85	19.51%
Total	10,702.55	100.00%	34,942.83	100.00%	32,843.59	100.00%	29,635.83	100.00%

   In the event, there takes place a shift of practice, wherein the end use customers integrate their operations by setting up manufacturing units for manufacturing the required raw materials, it may have an adverse impact on our business and results of operations. It may also happen that our competitors are able to improve the efficiency of their manufacturing process and thereby offer similar or high quality products at competitive prices. While the aforementioned events have not materially occurred in the past, however upon occurrence of any such events, our Company may be unable to adequately react to such developments which may affect our revenues and profitability. In order to mitigate the risk relating to dependency on wire and cable compounds, we have strategically diversified our product portfolio by developing polyethylene pipe coating and adhesives for 3LPE applications. The revenue earned from such products (Pipelines) increased from 19.07% in Fiscal 2026 to 26.80% in the three months period ended June 30, 2026, indicating the successful diversification of our product portfolio. Any failure to successfully expand and diversify our operations, could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

2. Our business largely depends upon our top 10 customers which contributed 61.34%, 66.81%, 64.44% and 50.52% in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and for the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024. The loss of any of these customers could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

   We derive a significant portion of our revenue from our top 10 customers. Loss of all or a substantial portion of sales to any of our top 10 customers, in particular for any reason including, due to loss of business or failure to negotiate acceptable terms, loss of market share of these customers in their industries, disputes with these customers, adverse change in the financial condition of these customers, decline in their sales, plant shutdowns, labour strikes or other work stoppages affecting production of these customers, could have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. While there has been reduction in volume of orders received from our top ten customers in the preceding three Fiscals, however there has not been any instance of loss of such customers during the said period. There is no assurance that such instance will not arise in the future.

The following table sets forth revenue from our top five and top ten customers in the years indicated:

Our dependence on our top five/ten customers subjects us to various risks which may include, reduction, delay or cancellation of orders, failure to renew contracts, failure to renegotiate favourable terms or the loss of these customers entirely which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. There is no assurance that customers will continue to place orders with us at volumes or rates consistent with, and commensurate to, the amount of business received from them historically, or at all. Our customers typically place orders with us based on their internal requirements, which depend on factors such as, price fluctuations, capacity limitations, demand of end products, dynamic industry trends, etc. On account of the changing demand of our customers, our top five and top ten customers vary, and we may not receive consistent volume of orders from such customers. While, we believe that replacing an existing supplier presents significant exit barriers for our customers, which include high switching costs, dependence on tailored solutions, confidentiality, and intellectual property risks, among others, however, there can be no assurance that despite such exit barriers, we will be able to retain our existing key customers or maintain the current level of business from them or that such customers shall continue to be within our top ten customers, in the future. In order to mitigate the risks relating to dependence on our top customers, we are working on diversifying our customer base to reduce our dependence on our top five and top ten customers. For further details, please see the chapter titled "Our Business – Our Business Strategies" on page 264 of this Prospectus.

3. We are in the process of expanding our operations and establishing a network of distributors & customers in regions where we do not have a significant presence or prior experience. Any failure to expand into these new regions could adversely affect our sales, financial condition, result of operations and cash flows.

In order to cater to the growing market demand for our products, specifically for adhesives for 3LPE applications, and expand our presence in new regions, we are in the process of deepening our presence in the existing regions where we operate as well as in new regions such as, Tunesia, Algeria, Nigeria and Oman. To support our global expansion efforts, we intend to appoint sub-agents in selected international markets, who shall identify and map potential demand for our products within their regions. We aim to leverage the increasing demand from international markets to enhance our exports. Our expansion into these new regions exposes us to operational, regulatory, and market-entry risks. In particular, certain jurisdictions in which we intend to grow our exports, including Nigeria and Algeria, have recently increased import tariffs on polymer-based materials or introduced local content requirements and other regulatory barriers. These measures may restrict our ability to price competitively, delay or hinder market entry, require additional compliance efforts, or necessitate local partnerships or on-ground capabilities. Changes in such regulations may occur with little notice and could materially impact our access to these markets. As per CRISIL Report, a subdued global economic climate dampened export potential, with weaker-than-expected Chinese economic recovery causing spillover effects within the country's trading partners. Moreover, the onset of the Israel-Hamas war in Q4 2023 led to increased energy market volatility as well as raised concerns of a regional conflict spillover. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161.

Due to our lack familiarity with the economic conditions of the new international regions, fluctuations in the local economy, currency exchange rates, and regulatory environment can pose risks to our operations and financial stability. Without an established customer and distributor network or end customer base in these regions, we face uncertainty regarding the demand for our products. It may take considerable time and resources to build relationships and gain market acceptance, potentially delaying the realization of sales volume. Further, our products may not gain market acceptance or meet the specific requirements of customers in these new markets and regions. Adapting our offerings to local preferences, regulatory standards, and customer needs can be complex and may require additional investments and resources. This could lead to lower product pricing as we struggle to establish ourselves and higher expenditure on reputation building, impacting our profitability. If we fail to successfully navigate these challenges and establish a strong presence in the new regions, our sales, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows could be significantly and adversely affected.

4. Our proposed capacity expansion plans are subject to the risk of unanticipated delays in implementation and cost overruns.

Based on the expected potential growth in the polymer industry and the consequent increase in demand for our products in the recent years, we anticipate an increase in the production capacity. In order to support our growth strategy across India, we intend to increase the installed capacity of our existing Manufacturing Facility. As we continue our growth by investing in the capacity expansion of our Manufacturing Facility, we may encounter regulatory, personnel and other difficulties that may increase our expenses, which could delay our plans or impair our ability to become profitable in these areas. For details of the proposed expansion, please refer to the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue – Financing the capital expenditure requirement towards expansion of our Manufacturing Facility by increasing the manufacturing capacity of certain of our existing products" on page 124 of this Prospectus.

There can be no assurance that the proposed capacity additions and expansion will be completed as planned within the cost estimates and in a timely manner, or at all. Any shortfall in our net owned funds, internal accruals and our inability to raise debt in future would result in us being unable to meet our capital requirements, which in turn will negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations. Further, we have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to raise money from this issue or any shortfall in the issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule and could adversely affect our growth plans. Further, the estimated schedule completion dates are based on estimates and we cannot assure you that such proposed expansion will culminate into production on schedule. There can be no assurance that such plans will be successfully implemented or completed or that if completed, they will result in the anticipated growth in our revenues or improvement in the results of operations we anticipate from the implementation of such initiatives.

5. Certain of our corporate records and filings made by us are either untraceable or incorrect. We cannot assure you that legal proceedings or regulatory actions will not be initiated against us in the future, or that we will not be subject to any penalty imposed by the competent regulatory authority in relation to such discrepancies.

We have not been able to trace certain of our Company's corporate records and regulatory filings, as set out below:

In the past, there have been lapses in compliance with certain provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the rules made thereunder, details of which have been provided below:

a) In accordance with the provisions of Rule 9A of the Companies (Prospectus and Allotment of Securities) Rules, 2014, relating to the dematerialization of existing securities, our Company failed to facilitate the dematerialization of its securities as required under the applicable provisions from October 2, 2018 to July 14, 2024. Additionally, a disclosure in this regard was not made in the report of the Board of Directors, on account of an oversight.

Our Company has filed an application through Form GNL-1 dated August 3, 2025 bearing SRN AB5820008 before the Registrar of Companies, National Capital Territory of Delhi and Haryana under Section 441 of the Companies Act, 2013, read with provisions of Section 135(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 for compounding the non-compliance arising from the above. We cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any legal proceedings or regulatory actions, including monetary penalties by statutory authorities on account of any inadvertent discrepancies in our secretarial filings and/or corporate records in the future, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and reputation.

7. Information relating to our annual installed capacity, annual average available capacity and the historical capacity utilization of our Manufacturing Facility included in this Prospectus is based on various assumptions and estimates and future production and capacity utilization may vary.

The information relating to the annual installed capacity, average annual available capacity and capacity utilization of our Manufacturing Facility included in this Prospectus are based on various assumptions and estimates of our management that have been taken into account by the independent chartered engineer in the calculation of our capacity. These assumptions and estimates include standard capacity calculation practice in the Indian polymer industry and capacity of other ancillary equipment installed at the relevant manufacturing facility. Assumptions and estimates taken into account for measuring installed capacities and the annual average available capacities include 300 working days in a year, in three shifts of eight hours each. Actual production levels and capacity utilization rates may therefore vary significantly from the annual installed and annual average available installed capacity of our Manufacturing Facility. Undue reliance should therefore not be placed on our capacity information or historical capacity utilization information for our existing facility included in this Prospectus. For information regarding capacity of our Manufacturing Facility, see "Our Business – Capacity Utilization" on page 267.

8. We have experienced negative cash flows in relation to our operating activities in the three months period ended June, 2026 and the last three financial years. Any negative cash flows in the future would adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Cash flow of a company is a key indicator to show the extent of cash generated from operations to meet its capital expenditure, pay dividends, repay loans and make new investments without raising finance from external resources. If we are not able to generate sufficient cash flow, it may adversely affect our business and financial operations. We experienced negative cash flows in the following periods as indicated in the table below:

Particulars	For the three months period ended June 30, 2026	Financial Year ended March 31, 2026	Financial Year ended March 31, 2025	Financial Year ended March 31, 2024
Net cash used/ generated from operating activities	(407.69)	3,533.47	2,485.26	268.35
Net cash used/ generated from investing activities	(579.26)	(363.05)	85.68	(75.11)
Net cash used/ generated from financing activities	923.72	(3,104.71)	(2,571.76)	(224.07)
Net increase/ (decrease) in cash and cash equivalent	(63.23)	65.71	(0.82)	(30.83)

In the case of cash flow from Investing activities, we experienced negative cash flows in three months period ended June 30, 2026 and preceding three Fiscals, the primary reason being the addition of property, plant and equipment. We added plant and machinery to enhance our production capabilities.

In terms of cash flow from financing activities, we reported negative cash flows in the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024. This was primarily due to the repayment of unsecured loans from related parties i.e. Basant India Limited, a group company, and working capital demand loans. The outstanding working capital demand loan decreased from ₹2,200 lakhs on March 31, 2025 to ₹1,800 lakhs on August 31, 2026, while the unsecured loan carried a 10% p.a. interest rate and was utilized for working capital purposes. The loan was short-term in nature and was repaid in Fiscal 2025. In Fiscal 2024, the negative cash flow was mainly attributed to increased interest payments resulting from higher borrowings from banks.

There can be no assurance that our net cash flows shall be positive in the future. Any negative cash flows in the future over extended periods, or significant negative cash flows in the short term, could materially impact our ability to operate our business and implement our growth plans. As a result, our cash flows, business, future financial performance and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. For further details, see "Restated Financial Statements" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" beginning on pages 322 and 387, respectively.

9. Fluctuations in the average selling prices of polymer resins could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

The average selling prices of our products may be subject to fluctuations depending on the market conditions. The average selling prices of our products are affected by the general market conditions, such as pricing by competition and raw material costs, which could have an impact on the businesses of our distributors and, in turn, their demand for our products. As per CRISIL Report, the most significant determinant is the volatility in global crude oil prices, as polymers are derived from petrochemical feedstocks like ethylene and propylene. Any disruption in oil supply, OPEC+ production decisions, or geopolitical events could affect raw material costs. Additionally, global supply chain dynamics, such as freight costs and port congestion, will continue to impact import prices. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161.

Further, based on an internal analysis we also sell our raw materials to take advantage of arbitrage opportunities, without affecting our normal operations. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the Fiscal 2026, Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2024, revenue from procurement and supply of various grades of HDPE resin and LLDPE resin accounted for ₹ 1,885.49 lakhs, ₹ 11,132.00 lakhs, ₹ 8,572.30 lakhs and ₹ 4,100.00 lakhs, representing 17.62%, 31.86%, 26.10% and 13.83% of our total revenue from operations. Our revenue from trading activities has been consistently increasing, as compared to our revenue from operating activities. An inflexible pricing policy may result in reduction in sales as well as our revenue from trading of materials, on account of reduced price competitiveness. While, we have not experienced any material fluctuation in our average selling prices in the preceding three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that we will not experience declining average selling prices for our products or that our average selling prices can remain at the same level in the future. A decline in the average selling prices for our products could adversely affect our business and financial condition, operating results, and cash flows.

10. As on date of this Prospectus, 3,32,851 Equity Shares are held by 46 Shareholders of our Company who are untraceable.

As on the date of this Prospectus, our Company has 46 Shareholders who hold 3,32,851 Equity Shares and are currently not traceable or unresponsive. While our Company has made multiple attempts, we have been unable to establish contact with these Shareholders, as they are either untraceable or non-responsive. Our Company has also made further attempts to establish contact with such Shareholders in order to facilitate dematerialisation of Equity Shares. We have also published a public announcement dated July 24, 2025 in English editions of Financial Express, a widely circulated English newspaper and Hindi editions of Jansatta, a widely circulated, Hindi newspaper, Hindi also being the official language of New Delhi, where our Registered Office is situated, requesting the untraceable and unresponsive shareholders to contact the Company Secretary and Compliance Officer for undertaking necessary corporate actions. However, we have not received any response from such shareholders, as on date of this Prospectus. In respect of such Shareholders, we have credited 2,61,881 Equity Shares allotted pursuant to a bonus issued undertaken on May 28, 2025, to a demat suspense account "BLS POLYMERS LIMITED-SUSPENSE ESCROW DEMAT ACCOUNT". The Equity Shares credited to the demat suspense account shall be subject to lock-in for a period of six months from the date of Allotment, as required under the SEBI ICDR Regulations.

As on date of this Prospectus, we have not received any response from these shareholders If any of the Shareholders become responsive and establish communication with our Company, we will take necessary corporate actions in accordance with applicable laws. We are unable to ascertain if we will be subject to any adverse response from any such Shareholder, in case we are able to establish contact with them. However, once we are able to establish such contact with the untraceable shareholders we shall initiate the process of dematerialisation of shares held by the untraceable shareholders accordingly.

11. We do not have firm commitment agreements with our customers. If our customers choose not to source their requirements from us, there may be a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Further, if there are any fluctuations in the demand for our products, it could affect our inventory levels, operations, financial condition and cash flow.

We do not enter into formal agreements or arrangements with our customers and typically rely on blanket purchase orders issued by our customers from time to time that set out the price per unit of the products that are to be supplied to/ purchased by them from us. Pursuant to the purchase order, our customers provide us the product specification, quantities of units to be supplied along with the delivery schedules specifying the details of delivery. In the event our customers terminate their arrangements with us or commit defaults in payment of amounts owed to us, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be impacted.

Due to the absence of long-term agreements with our customers, the actual sales by our Company may differ from the estimates of our management. We cannot assure you that we will be able to maintain historic levels of business and/or negotiate and execute terms of arrangements with our customers that are commercially viable or that we will be able to significantly reduce customer concentration in the future. In the absence of formal agreements, if our customers arbitrarily terminate work orders or fail to make payment towards the products offered by us, we may not be in a position to claim compensation. Our inventory levels are determined by firm orders and the products required to be manufactured. To effectively manage our inventories, we must be able to accurately estimate customer demand and supply requirements and manufacture and procure inventory accordingly. If our management misjudges expected customer demand, it could adversely impact the results by causing either a shortage of products or an accumulation of excess inventory. Set out below are details of our inventories for the years indicated:

Particulars	For the three months period ended June 30, 2026	Fiscals
Inventories (₹ lakhs)	7,248.16	7,258.85	5462.31	6243.56
Inventory days[(1)] (in days)	80	85	80	93
Inventory turnover ratio[(2)]	4.53	4.29	4.54	3.92

Not annualised*

Note:

[(1)] Inventory days is calculated as 365 days divided by inventory turnover ratio.

[(2)] Inventory turnover ratio is calculated as cost of goods sold divided by Average Inventory

While, we take advance payments from our customers to mitigate risks relating to default in payment by our customers, however there can be no assurance that such advance payments would be commensurate with the work undertaken and resourced deployed on an order. We also maintain the required levels of inventory as our customers require us to manufacture and supply our products to them in a short interval of time, and in case of delayed delivery of products they may cancel the orders placed with us. While, such instances have not materially occurred in the three month period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, however occurrence of events may affect our business, financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

We cannot assure you that we will be able to continue our arrangements with our customers on terms that are commercially acceptable to us, or at all. We cannot assure you that such customers shall fulfil their obligations entirely, or at all, shall not breach certain terms of their arrangements with us, including with respect to payment obligations or quality standards, or shall not choose to terminate their arrangements with our Company. While there have been instances in the past, wherein our Company failed to renew its arrangements with its customers, however we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future and will not adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. In order to mitigate such risks, we are working on diversifying our customer base. For further details, please see the chapter titled "Our Business – Our Business Strategies" on page 264 of this Prospectus.

12. Activities involving our manufacturing process can be dangerous and can cause injury to people or property in certain circumstances. A significant disruption at our Manufacturing Facility may adversely affect our production schedules, costs, sales and ability to meet customer demand.

Our business involves complex manufacturing processes that can be dangerous to our employees. Although we employ safety procedures, including providing safety equipment, in the operation of our Manufacturing Facility and maintain adequate insurance, there is a risk that an accident or death may occur in our Manufacturing Facility. An accident may result in destruction of property or equipment, environmental damage, manufacturing or delivery delays, or may lead to suspension of our operations and/or imposition of liabilities. Any such accident may result in litigation, the outcome of which is difficult to assess or quantify, and the cost to defend litigation can be significant. As a result, the costs to defend any action or the potential liability resulting from any such accident or death or arising out of any other litigation, and any negative publicity associated therewith, may have a negative effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. While we maintain legally mandated insurance policies such as accident and medical insurance policies for our employees, we cannot assure you that the coverage under such policies will be sufficient to cover loss sustained or that an affected employee or third party will not additionally seek legal recourse against us. While, such instances have not occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, however any such events may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

13. We have in past entered into related party transactions and we may continue to do so in the future.

We have entered into transactions with related parties in the past and from, time to time, we may enter into related party transactions in the future. These transactions include, among other things, rent, sale of finished goods, purchase of raw materials, short term employee benefits and directors sitting fees and remuneration. While all such transactions have been conducted on an arm's length basis, in accordance with the Companies Act and other applicable regulations pertaining to the evaluation and approval of such transactions and all related party transactions that we may enter into post-listing, will be subject to Board or Shareholder approval, as necessary under the Companies Act, the SEBI Listing Regulations and other application laws. Further, it is likely that we may enter into additional related party transactions in the future. Such future related party transactions may potentially involve conflicts of interest. The table below provides details of absolute sum of all related party transactions and the percentage of such related party transactions to our revenue from operations in the years/ period indicated:

	(in ₹ lakhs)	(in ₹ lakhs)	(in ₹ lakhs)	(in ₹ lakhs)
Absolute sum of sale to all related parties	-	5.29	330.40	946.29

Percentage of absolute sum of sale to all related parties (in %)	-	0.02%	1.01%	3.19%

For further details, see "Summary of Related Party Transactions" and "Financial Statements- Restated Financial Statements – Notes to Restated Financial Statements – Annexure VI – Note 38 - Disclosures in respect of related parties pursuant to Ind AS 24" on pages 88 and 373, respectively.

All our related party transactions have been conducted on an arm's length basis, we cannot assure you that we may not have achieved more favourable terms had such transactions been entered into with unrelated parties. The related party transactions undertaken by our Company are in compliance with applicable provisions of Companies Act, 2013 and all other applicable laws. There can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or taken together, will not have an adverse effect on our business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition, including because of potential conflicts of interest or otherwise. In addition, our business and growth prospects may decline if we cannot benefit from our relationships with them in the future.

14. We may not be able to collect receivables due from our customers, in a timely manner, or at all, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Our scope of work and payment terms are typically governed by the purchase orders executed with our customers. As per our business model, we typically supply our products directly to our customers after receiving a certain amount as advance payment. In the event, a customer terminates the order, or delays or defaults the payments due to us, we shall not be able to recover the amount or resources invested in an order thereby affecting our cash flow, results of operations and financial condition. There have been instances in the past, wherein our customers have delayed or defaulted in making payments due to us. The table below sets forth details relating to our trade receivables as of the dates indicated below and allowances for expected credit losses during the periods indicated below, and as a percentage of our revenue from operations as per restated financial statement during the periods indicated below:

	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of total revenue from operations	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of total revenue from operations	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of total revenue from operations	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of total revenue from operations

As of June 30, 2026, March 31, 2026, 2025 and 2024, ₹434.03 lakhs, ₹ 554.63 lakhs, ₹ 1142.24 lakhs and ₹ 607.86 lakhs or 4.56%, 7.63%, 14.88% and 9.25%, respectively, of our total trade receivables, had been outstanding for a period exceeding six months from their respective due dates of payments. For details in relation to ageing of debtors of our Company, please refer to "Financial Statements- Restated Financial Statements – Notes to Restated Financial Statements – Annexure VI – Note 7.1 - Trade receivables due for payment" on page 322 of this Prospectus. The holding level of our trade receivables has remained constant from Fiscal 2025 to Fiscal 2026 at 76 days. We extend credit to our customers, with post-billing credit terms of up to 90 days and in certain cases, we may experience delays in payments by our customers even beyond the credit period afforded to them. As a result, we have, and may continue to have, high levels of outstanding receivables.

We cannot assure you that we will be able to collect our receivables on time or at all, which could adversely affect our cash flows, results of operations and financial condition. We may have to initiate arbitration proceedings or legal proceedings against our customers, in order to recover the pending dues, which could adversely affect our relationships with our current or future customers, result in costly litigation, cause delay or stoppage in our projects, divert management's attention and resources and wastage of time and resources. We may also incur costs in collecting payments from our customers and we may not be able to recover such costs. As per the Restated Financial Statements bad debts of our Company pursuant to default in payment by our customers for the three months period ended June 30, 2026, Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024 were ₹ 11.05 lakhs, ₹ 20.95 lakhs, ₹ 2.58 lakhs and ₹ 27.98 lakhs, respectively. While such events have occurred in the preceding three Fiscals, occurrence of any such instances in the future could adversely affect our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations.

15. Our Company may not be able to obtain, renew or maintain our statutory and regulatory permits and approvals required to operate our businesses on time or at all. Any failure to renew the approvals that have expired or apply for and obtain the required approvals, licenses, registrations or permits, or any suspension or revocation of any of the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits that have been or may be issued to us, may adversely affect our operations.

    We require certain statutory and regulatory licenses, registrations and approvals to operate our business, some of which our Company has either received, applied for or is in the process of application. There can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain these registrations and approvals including approvals in relations to our operations in a timely manner or at all.

    Our Company is generally required to obtain (i) registration and undertake compliances under employee welfare laws such as, Employees State Insurance Act, 1948, Employee Provident Fund Act, 1952 and Factories Act, 1948; (ii) environmental registration and approvals under Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974, the Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981, the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986 and the Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Cess Act, 1977; (iii) weights and measurement verification certificates under Legal Metrology (General Rules), 2011; and (iii) taxation registration and approvals such as, Central Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017 and the Income-tax Act, 2025. The details of such licenses and approvals have been disclosed in the chapter titled "Government and other Statutory Approvals" on page 437. For details in relation to the regulations under which our licenses and approvals are issued, please refer to the chapter titled "Key Industrial Regulations and Policies" on page 279 of this Prospectus. Even after we have obtained the required licenses, permits and approvals, our operations are subject to continued review and the governing regulations which may change. As on date of this Prospectus, our Company has made the following applications, which are pending before various statutory and regulatory authorities:

S. No.	Date of application	Regulatory Authority	Particulars of the application/ registration
1.	June 06, 2025	Central Pollution Control Board	Registration as a producer under the Plastic Waste Management Rules, 2016 for our Manufacturing Facility

The application is presently pending. Further, while we have obtained an updated consent to establish for the Proposed Expansion from the Goa State Pollution Control Board under Section 25 of the Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974 and Section 21 of the Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981, we will also be required to obtain various other licenses, approvals and consents in connection with the Proposed Expansion, which are expected to be obtained in due course. For further details, please see "Objects of the Issue - Financing the capital expenditure requirement towards expansion of our Manufacturing Facility by increasing the manufacturing capacity of certain of our existing products - Government approvals" on page 124 of this Prospectus. We cannot assure you that our Company will be able to receive such approvals in a timely manner or at all. The details of such licenses, for which applications have been made by our Company have been disclosed in the chapter titled "Government and Other Approvals" on page 437 of this Prospectus.

Even after we have obtained the required licenses, permits and approvals, our operations are subject to continued review and the governing regulations which may change. We cannot assure you that we will be able to obtain or comply with all necessary licenses, permits and approvals required for our Manufacturing Facility in a timely manner to allow for the uninterrupted manufacturing operations. Furthermore, the government approvals and licenses, including environmental approvals are subject to numerous conditions, some of which are onerous and require us to incur substantial expenditure, specifically with respect to compliance with environmental laws. We cannot assure you that the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits issued to us would not be suspended or revoked in the event of non-compliance or alleged non-compliance with any terms or conditions thereof, or pursuant to any regulatory action. If we fail to comply with all applicable regulations or if the regulations governing our business or their implementation change, we may incur increased costs, be subject to penalties and suffer a disruption in our operations, any of which could materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations. There have not been any instances in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and preceding three Fiscals, wherein fines and penalties were imposed on our Company on account of any failure to comply with statutory regulations. Any failure to renew the approvals that have expired or apply for and obtain the required approvals, licenses, registrations or permits, or any suspension or revocation of any of the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits that have been or may be issued to us, may adversely affect our operations.

16. As of June 30, 2026, we derive 90.84% of our revenue from operations from repeat orders of our customers. Any loss of, or a significant reduction in the repeat orders received by us could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We have historically been dependent, and expect to depend, on repeat orders, for a substantial portion of our revenue and the loss of any of them for any reason including due to loss of, or termination of existing arrangements; limitation to meet any urgent demand, failure to address issues with quality of products, or disputes with a customer; adverse changes in the financial condition of our customers, such as possible bankruptcy or liquidation or other financial hardship, change in business practices of our customers, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We derive a significant portion of our revenue from operations from repeat orders, which we identify as orders placed by customers, who have previously placed orders with our Company. A "repeat order" means an additional order placed by an existing customer for the same product at the same price or at the prevailing price at the time of supply, generally following satisfactory fulfilment of a previous order. A "repeat customer" means a customer placing orders on a recurring basis, whether for the same or different products, during the relevant month or year. Set forth below are the number of repeat customers and new customers during the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals provided below:

Particulars	June 30, 2026		Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	No. of Customers	% of revenue from operations	No. of Customers	% of revenue from operations	No. of Customers	% of revenue from operations	No. of Customers	% of revenue from operations

Total Customers	107	100%	190	100%	166	100%	175	100%

Set forth below is our revenue from repeat customers and new customers as a percentage of our revenue from operation –

Particulars	For the three months period ended June 30, 2026		Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	Revenue (₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations	Revenue (₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations	Revenue (₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations	Revenue (₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations

Our relationship with our customers is dependent to a large extent on our ability to regularly meet customer requirements, including price competitiveness, efficient and timely product deliveries, and consistent product quality. Acquiring new customers involves additional expenses relating to marketing and onboarding while, retaining existing customers typically offsets any additional costs incurred by their ongoing business. Accordingly, we intend to maintain and grow the revenue share from our existing customers, which increases the number of repeat orders received from them. In the event we are unable to meet such requirements in future, it may result in decrease in orders or cessation of business from affected customers. While, the aforementioned events have not occurred during the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and preceding three Fiscals, however occurrence of any such events may adversely affect our revenues and profitability. In order to mitigate the risk relating to loss of repeat customers, we intend to cater to new customers by expanding our geographic presence. For further details, please refer to "Our Business - Our Business Strategies – Expansion through deeper penetration in existing international markets and strategic entry into new global geographies" on page 265 of this Prospectus.

17. We highly depend on a few key suppliers who help us procure raw materials for manufacturing our products. Our Company has not entered into long-term agreements with most of its suppliers for supply of raw materials. In the event we are unable to procure adequate amounts of raw materials, at competitive prices our business, results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected. Any fluctuation in prices of our raw materials, may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, prospects and financial condition.

We are engaged in the business of manufacturing polymer compounds which are coated on wires and cables as well as on underground pipelines to protect from corrosion and external environmental factors. We are dependent on a few raw materials, including but not limited to LLDPE resin, HDPE resin and HDPE recycle, for manufacturing our products. For further details, please see "Our Business – Raw Materials and Suppliers" on page 269 of this Prospectus. Any inability on our part to procure sufficient quantities of raw materials, on commercially acceptable terms, may lead to a decline in our sales volumes and profit margins which could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We procure these raw materials from reputed domestic and global manufacturers. The table below provides cost of raw materials consumed as a percentage of our total revenue from operations during the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the years indicated:

For the three months period ended June 30, 2026		Financial Years ended

Our Company maintains a list of suppliers from whom we procure the materials on order basis as per our internal demand projections. While, we have entered into memorandum of understanding with leading domestic petrochemical manufacturers, however we have not entered into long term contracts with a majority of our suppliers and prices for raw materials are normally based on the quotes we receive from various suppliers. Since we have no formal arrangements with majority of our suppliers, they are not contractually obligated to supply their products to us and may choose to sell their products to our competitors. Any discontinuation of production by these suppliers or a failure of these suppliers to adhere to the delivery schedule or the required quality and quantity could hamper our manufacturing schedule. There can be no assurance that strong demand, capacity limitations or other problems experienced by our suppliers will not result in occasional shortages or delays in their supply of raw materials to us. Further, we cannot assure you that our suppliers will continue to be associated with us on reasonable terms, or at all. Owing to the nature of the industry, the aforementioned events have occurred in the past, occurrence of any such events in the future could adversely impact our business, results and financial condition. Additionally, in accordance with the industry practices, we are required to make advance payments to our international raw material suppliers while placing an order with them, which may expose us to risks relating to failure to deliver raw materials in adequate quantities and in conformity with the quality standards. While, such instances have not occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and preceding three Fiscals, occurrence of any such events may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

If we face difficulties in procuring our raw materials or if the prices of such raw materials increase due to government restrictions, supply chain disruptions, market pressures or other factors, we may be unable to pass these increased costs onto customers. While the aforementioned events have not materially occurred in the three month period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that there will not be any difficulties in procuring polymer resins in future. Any inability to secure these materials due to government restrictions or other reasons could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows, and results of operations.

18. Our Company is dependent on the demand from industries where our products find application. Any downturn in such industries could have an adverse impact on our Company's business and results of operations.

We are a manufacturer of multiple grades of custom formulated polymer compounds, catering to diversified critical industries such as telecommunication, power, railways, water, oil and gas distribution, among others. While our products are generally capable of being used in various application industries, a significant part of our revenue from the sale of our products is generated from wire and cables, as well as the oil and gas industries. The following table sets forth a breakdown of our revenue from operations from various end-user industries, in absolute terms and as a percentage of revenue from operations, during the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and preceding three Fiscals:

End-use Industry	For the three months period ended June 30, 2026		Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of Revenue From operations	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of Revenue From operations	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of Revenue From operations	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of Revenue From operations
Power & Telecommunication	7,834.14	73.20%	28,279.63	80.93%	26,798.20	81.59%	23,852.98	80.49%

End-use Industry	For the three months period ended June 30, 2026		Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of Revenue From operations	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of Revenue From operations	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of Revenue From operations	Amount (₹ in lakhs)	% of Revenue From operations
Infrastructure (Oil & Gas & Water Supply)	2,868.41	26.80%	6,663.20	19.07%	6,045.39	18.41%	5,782.85	19.51%
Total	10,702.55	100.00%	34,942.83	100.00%	32,843.59	100.00%	29,635.83	100.00%

Our growth is indirectly dependent on the growth of the infrastructure industry, as well as, government spending in such industry. In case of growth of the infrastructure industry goes down, we may face reduction in demand of our products. While, we have not faced any material instances of decline in our revenue in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, on account of volatility in the end use industries of our products, we cannot assure you that such events shall not occur in the future. In order to mitigate risks relating to dependency on end use industries, we intend to diversify our operations by venturing into export markets. There can be no assurance that the lack of demand from any one of these industries can be off-set by sales to other industries in which our products find application. Accordingly, any significant downturn in the application industries could have a significant impact on our financial condition and our growth prospects.

19. Our Group Company, Vinsul Makardi Limited may have conflicts of interest as it is engaged in similar business and may compete with us.

Our Group Company and one of the members of our Promoter Group, Vinsul Makardi Limited is engaged in a similar line of business as our Company. We have not entered into any non-compete agreement with our Group Company, and there can be no assurance it will not compete with our existing business or that we will be able to suitably resolve any such conflict without an adverse effect on our business and financial performance.

While, our Group Company is engaged in a similar line of business, however it undertakes trading of polymers and polymer compounds, and is not engaged in manufacturing of such products. Further the scale of its operations and jurisdictions in which it operates is different from that of our Company. While, we do not foresee any conflict, however we cannot assure you that conflicts of interests will not arise in the future in allocating business opportunities amongst our Company, our Group Company. Any such instances may adversely affect our growth, business operations and the financial condition of our Company.

Any shutdown of our Manufacturing Facility or other production problems caused by unforeseen events may reduce sales and adversely affect our business, cash flows, results of operations and financial condition

We operate out of a single Manufacturing Facility which is located at Goa which is spread across an aggregate parcel of land admeasuring about 24,220 sq. mt. Any significant localized social unrest, natural disaster or breakdown of services or any other natural disaster in and around Goa or any disruption in production at, or shutdown of, our Manufacturing Facility could have material adverse effect on our business and financial condition.

Our business is dependent upon our ability to manage our manufacturing activities, which are subject to operational risks. We may encounter manufacturing problems or experience difficulties or delays in production as a result of occurrence of the following events or any other events beyond our control:

- forced or voluntary closure of manufacturing plants, including as a result of regulatory actions or comply with the directives of relevant government authorities;
- problems with supply chain continuity, including as a result of natural or man-made disasters at any of our Manufacturing Facility;
- manufacturing shutdowns, breakdown or failure of equipment, equipment performance below expected levels of efficiency, obsolescence of our equipment and production facility, industrial accidents and the need to

- labour disputes, strikes, lock-outs that may result in temporary shutdowns or manufacturing disruptions;
- any changes in the availability of power or water availability which impacts the entire region; and
- failure of a supplier to provide us with the critical raw materials or components for an extended period of time, which could impact continuous supply.

There has been an instance of temporary shutdown of our Manufacturing Facility for less than 21 days during the lockdown imposed in the year 2020, on account of Covid-19 pandemic. There have not been any other instance of material disruptions in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, which had an adverse effect on our business, financial conditions, cash flows and results of operations. We cannot assure you that our business and financial results may not be adversely affected by any disruption of operations at our Manufacturing Facility, including as a result of any of the factors mentioned above. Disruption in our operations may result in reduced production and reduced sales or higher costs to arrange for alternative arrangements to meet our customer obligations.

22. Our Company has ventured into manufacturing of adhesives for 3LPE applications in the year 2022, and therefore has a limited operating history, which will make it difficult for the investors to evaluate our historical performance or future prospects.

Our Company since its incorporation has been carrying on the business of manufacturing polymer compounds for wire and cable industries. With a view to capitalize the opportunity to offer specialised products, in the year 2022, our Company diversified its business operations by developing polyethylene pipe coating and adhesives for 3LPE applications in the pipe coating industry. As per CRISIL Report, 3LPE Coating is an effective solution for protecting high-capital-intensive pipelines from corrosion, chemicals and moisture, thereby ensuring long-term durability. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. The table below provides the revenue earned from the sale of adhesives for 3LPE applications as a percentage of our total revenue from operations during the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three fiscals indicated:

		March 31, 2026		March 31, 2025		March 31, 2024
2,868.42	26.80%	6,663.20	19.07%	6,045.39	18.41%	5,782.85	19.51%

Due to our limited operational history in manufacturing of adhesives for 3LPE applications we may not be able to identify the risks involved in offering such products and therefore could fail to achieve timely fulfilment of our orders. We may not be successful in identifying our competitors or keeping up with the requirement of the customer base. Additionally, we may face difficulty in understanding the demand and supply patterns, marketing segments which may pose a risk in the smooth operation, and working of our logistical division. In the event that we fail to understand the market operations and the risks related to the same, our business, financial performance and cash flows may be affected. While, such instances have not occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, occurrence of any such events in the future, may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

23. Our Company is dependent on a domestic market for its sales and any downturn in it could reduce our sales.

During the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, we have historically derived majority of our revenues from the domestic market. Our Company is majorly dependent on domestic sales while our products are also sold in Bangladesh, Egypt, Africa, Oman, Saudi Arabia, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, United States of America and Zambia. Thus, the sales of our Company are widely dispersed throughout the domestic markets and any failure to maintain such dispersion may impact sales, revenues, and consequently, the financial performance of the Company. Details for the revenue generated from domestic market and through export as per restated financials are as follow:

	(₹ in Lakhs)	(%)	(₹ in Lakhs)	(%)	(₹ in Lakhs)	(%)	(₹ in Lakhs)	**(%)

Export Sales	569.89	5.32%	1,908.23	5.46%	2,767.63	8.43%	1,194.88	4.03%

Our Company relies heavily on the domestic market for its sales. Any economic downturn or adverse changes within this market could significantly impact on our sales performance. Consequently, fluctuations in the domestic economy pose a considerable risk to our financial stability and growth prospects.

Additionally, we generate major sales from our customers situated at select geographical regions. Such geographical concentration of our business in these regions heightens our exposure to adverse developments related to competition, as well as economic and demographic changes in these regions which may adversely affect our business prospects, financial conditions and results of operations. The table sets forth below revenue earned by our Company in various states as a percentage of our revenue from operations during the period indicated:

Existing and potential competitors to our businesses in these states may increase their focus on these states. Further, any significant interruption to our operations directly or indirectly as a result of any severe weather or other natural disasters could materially and severely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. The concentration of our operations heightens our exposure to adverse developments related to competition, as well as economic, political, demographic and other changes, which may adversely affect our business prospects, financial conditions and results of operations. While we strive to geographically diversify our service portfolio and reduce our concentration risk, we cannot assure you that adverse developments associated with the region will not impact on our business. If we are unable to mitigate the concentration risk, we may not be able to develop our business as planned and our business, financial condition and results of operation could be adversely affected.

Changes in consumer preferences, increased competition, or regulatory shifts within the domestic market can also adversely affect our sales. Our heavy dependence on this single market means that we are particularly vulnerable to its economic conditions. Diversifying our market presence and reducing reliance on the domestic market could be crucial strategies to mitigate these risks and ensure sustained growth. While, the aforementioned events have not occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, occurrence of any such events may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition. occurrence of any such events may adversely affect our revenues and profitability. In order to mitigate such risks, we intend to expand our geographic presence. For further details, please refer to "Our Business - Our Business Strategies – Expansion through deeper penetration in existing international markets and strategic entry into new global geographies" on page 265 of this Prospectus.

While the procurement of raw materials and sale of finished products to Vinsul Makardi Limited is miniscule in nature, however transactions with our Promoter Group entity may result in conflict of interest in allocating business opportunities amongst our Company and such entity, in circumstances where our respective interests diverge.

Further, we undertake business with Vinsul Makardi Limited through purchase orders, do not enter into definite-term agreements. In the absence of formal agreements, we cannot assure you that our Promoters and Directors will not provide competitive services or otherwise compete in business lines in which we are already present or will enter into in the future or supply raw materials at more competitive price to our competitors or supply raw materials to us on time or at all. Should we face any such conflicts in the future, there is no guarantee that they will be resolved in our favour. While, the transactions with Vinsul Makardi Limited have been conducted in the ordinary course of business, in accordance with the provisions of applicable laws and on an arm's length basis, in compliance with the Companies Act, 2013 and other applicable laws, and have not been prejudicial to the interests of our Company, however we cannot assure you that we shall continue to do the same in future. While, as of date of this Prospectus, there are no material conflicts, any such present and future conflicts could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. For further details see "Our Promoters and Promoter Group" and "Financial Statements- Restated Financial Statements – Notes to Restated Financial Statements – Annexure VI – Note 38 - Disclosures in respect of related parties pursuant to Ind AS 24" on pages 309 and 322, respectively.

25. We are subject to strict performance requirements, including, but not limited to, quality and delivery, by our customers, and any failure by us to comply with these performance requirements may lead to reduction in our order value, recalls or liability claims.

We are engaged in the business of manufacturing polymer compounds which are used for sheathing and jacketing of wires and cables and coating of underground pipelines. The products supplied by us play a critical and complex role in the wire and cables and the piping industries and therefore are required to meet precise and specific requirements including in terms of quality, composition and tolerances. Our quality testing procedures are in line with the testing standards prescribed under standards such as, American Society for Testing and Materials ("ASTM"), International Organization for Standardization ("ISO") and Bureau of Indian Standards ("BIS"). Failure by us to achieve or maintain compliance with these requirements or quality standards may disrupt our ability to supply products sufficient to meet our customers' demands, leading to return of deficient quality products and loss of revenue against such products. We may face liability claims if the use of any of our products results in personal injury or property damage. While, we limit our liability to the extent of the value of products supplied by us, however we may still be subject to such claims by our customers. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, we have not faced any liability claim for our products which has resulted in personal injury or property damage.

We may also have to incur additional costs for replacing defective products as well as conducting product recalls, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. In order to mitigate the risks relating to supply of deficient supply of products, our Quality Team undertakes testing of raw materials and finished products in our in-house laboratory. We also retain batch-specific product samples to enable product traceability, and address concerns raised by our customers. There have been a couple of instances, in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, wherein we have replaced defective products supplied, however we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future or that they will not affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

26. Our Company requires significant amounts of working capital and significant portion of our working capital is consumed in trade receivables and inventories. Our inability to meet our working capital requirements including failure to realize receivables and inventories may have an adverse effect on our results of operations and overall business.

Our business requires significant working capital, such as to finance the purchase of raw materials, consumables, stores and spares and payments for operating expenses before we receive payment from our customers. In addition, the actual amount of our future capital requirements may differ from estimates as a result of, among other factors, cost overruns, unanticipated expenses, regulatory changes, economic conditions, additional market developments and new opportunities in the industry. A significant portion of our working capital is consumed in trade receivables and inventories. Summary of our working capital position during the period indicated is given below:

Note: As confirmed by Statutory Auditor, by way of its report dated October 16, 2026.

Our inventories as a % of total current assets as on June 30, 2026, March 31, 2026, 2025 and 2024 were 36.37%, 40.94 %, 34.71% and 42.52%, respectively. Our trade receivables were ₹7,270.86 lakhs, ₹ 7,270.86 lakhs, ₹ 7,372.84 lakhs and ₹ 6,269.01 lakhs as on June 30, 2026, March 31, 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively aggregating to 20.81 %, 20.81%, 22.45% and 21.15% of revenue from operation, for the said period, respectively. Further, our Statutory Auditors have included certain emphasis of opinion in the independent auditors' report for the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024 relating to certain export receivables of our Company which have remained overdue beyond the permissible timeline of nine months prescribed under the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 ("FEMA"). In Fiscal 2024, our overdue export bills amounted to ₹40.35 lakhs, of which ₹7.20 lakhs has since been recovered, reducing the overdue to ₹35.23 lakhs in Fiscal 2025. Additionally, one more overdue export bill of ₹1.25 lakhs has been included in Fiscal 2025. In accordance with the provisions of FEMA, our Company has sought an extension of time from the RBI for realization of the pending export bills, which is pending. While we have taken corrective steps, there can be no assurance that RBI will grant such extension, or that no penalties or other regulatory actions will be imposed for such delays. It may be noted, however, that FEMA has not stipulated any specific penalties in this regard, as the requirement is in the nature of an advisory. Further, there exists a provision under FEMA to write off such export bills, which the Company may resort to, if necessary. Our working capital requirements may increase if the payment terms in purchase orders received include reduced advance payments or longer payment schedules, or if there is delayed realization from our customers. These factors may result in an increase in the amount of our receivables. The average number of days of pending receivables as on June 30, 2026, March 31, 2026, 2025 and 2024 were 72 days, 76 days, 76 days and 77 days, respectively. Our Company generally extends credit periods ranging from 30 to 90 days to its customers. For one of our top ten customers during Fiscal 2024 and 2025, the credit terms were '150 days against LC', however, the effective period was reduced to 30–45 days, as the proceeds were realized through discounting of the LC without recourse to our Company. Continued increase in our working capital requirements may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Our inability to maintain sufficient cash flows, realize existing inventories & trade receivables, maintain credit facility and other sources of fund, in a timely manner, or at all, to meet the increasing requirement of working capital may have significant adverse effect on our financial condition and result of our operations. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue – Funding Working Capital Requirements of our Company" beginning on page 132 of this Prospectus.

The disclosures made in the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue" in relation to funding of long-term working capital requirements are based on certain assumptions and estimates, and have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. These assumptions may prove to be inaccurate, or the estimates of working capital requirements may turn out to be lower than anticipated.

27. Our inability to meet the changing preferences of our customers or our inability to accurately predict and successfully adapt to changes in market demand could reduce demand for our products and harm our sales.

Our results of operations and future growth are largely dependent upon the demand for our products in the Indian and other international markets in which we are currently present and propose to expand to. Demand for our products depends primarily on consumer-related factors such as demographics, local preferences, lifestyle preferences and macroeconomic factors such as the condition of the economy and the level of consumer confidence. Over a period of time, there have been significant changes in consumers' preferences relating to polymer products in Indian as well as overseas market. There has been a shift towards specialized polymers, such as, PE compounds, XLPE compounds and HFFR compounds, in recent times. The polymer market is currently moving toward the design, manufacture and use of efficient, effective, safe and more environmentally friendly chemical products and processes. Our management team tracks the trend of our product portfolio and accordingly plans the supply of our products on that basis. Therefore, an unanticipated change in customer demand may adversely affect our liquidity and financial condition as a result of the operating expenses that are relatively fixed and have been incurred by us.

We may be also subject to the policies and guidelines of the countries or regions where our customers are located, relating to the quantity, quality, characteristics and variety of the products sold to such countries, which may be changed from time to time. Any non-compliance with such policies and quality standards could have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, reputation and results of operation. While we attempt to, on a regular basis, keep pace with the preferences and quality requirements and standards of our domestic and international customers, provide the desired quality product, and continually monitor and adapt to the changing market demand there can be no assurance that we will be able to keep up with the changing trends and adhere to all quality specifications mandated by governmental agencies. While, the aforementioned events have not materially occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, any such change in preferences or our inability to meet the consistent quality requirements of our customers or adhere to the quality standards mandated by the government agencies and regulators could harm our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

28. We engage third party consultants on a case to case basis for developing varied grades of existing products as well as new products. We have not entered into formal agreements with such third party consultants, which may expose us to risks relating to replication or duplication of products.

We engage third party consultants for developing varied grades of existing products as well as developing new products with diverse industry applications. We have not entered into formal arrangements with such consultants which exposes us to risks relating to non-performance or misuse of confidential information.

We have an in-house product development team which is assisted by third party consultants to develop varied grades of our existing products as well as develop new products with diverse industry applications. In certain cases, such engagements have been based on informal arrangements or verbal understandings without written agreements clearly defining the scope of work, deliverables, confidentiality obligations, or liability terms. The absence of formal agreements may expose us to a range of operational and legal risks, including lack of recourse in case of non-performance, or misuse of confidential information. Additionally, without clearly defined contractual terms, we may face challenges in enforcing timelines, quality standards, or cost controls, which could adversely impact project execution or regulatory compliance. While such events have not occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, any such disruption or dispute could affect our ability to meet customer requirements, delay product commercialization, or result in unforeseen costs thereby impacting our business operations, financial condition, and reputation.

29. In the past SEBI has issued summons against BLS International Services Limited, one of the members of our Promoter Group. Any future instance of such actions against our Promoters or members of our Promoter Group may impact our reputation, goodwill and financial condition.

On January 10, 2023, SEBI vide its email to BLS International Services Limited, sought various information pertaining to the board meeting held on April 13, 2022, to consider the proposal for issuance of bonus shares to its equity shareholders, for which detailed reply was submitted on January 17, 2023. Subsequently, SEBI vide its letter bearing no. SEBI/HO/IVD/ID3/OW/SJ/2023/4418/1 dated February 02, 2023, summoned the company secretary of BLS International Services Limited, Mr. Dharak Mehta under Section 11(C) of the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992, for production of documents and personal appearance on February 10, 2023, to investigate the matter of "trading activities of certain entities in the scrip of BLS International Services Limited". Consequently, the company secretary appeared before SEBI. However, as on the date of this Prospectus, SEBI has not sought any additional information from BLS International Services Limited, and no subsequent correspondences were received from SEBI in the said investigation matter. Except as disclosed in this Prospectus, we confirm that there have been no other summons/enforcement action by SEBI against our Company or its Promoters, Directors and KMPs in the preceding three Fiscals. We cannot assure you that such summons will not result in investigations, enquiries or legal actions by any courts, tribunals or regulatory authorities against our Promoters or members of our Promoter Group.

30. Any future under-utilization of our manufacturing capacity may have an adverse effect on our business, future prospects and future financial performance.

The success of any capacity investment and expected return on investment on capital expenditure is subject to, among other factors, the ability to procure requisite regulatory approvals in a timely manner; recruit and ensure satisfactory performance of personnel; and the ability to absorb additional infrastructure costs and develop new expertise. Our continued profitability depends upon our ability to optimize the product mix to support high-margin products and products with consistent long-term demand and the demand and supply balance of our products in the principal and target markets. In particular, the level of our capacity utilization can impact our operating results. Capacity utilization is also affected by our product mix and the demand and supply balance. Our break-up of the capacity utilization in our Manufacturing Facility for the period indicated has been provided below:

Period	Capacity (MTPA)	Production (MTPA)	Utilization (%)
For the three months period ended June 30, 2026	8,813*	6,451	73.20%
Fiscal 2026	35,251	23,265	66.00%
Fiscal 2025	35,251	23,930	67.88%
Fiscal 2024	35,251	23,343	66.22%

Has been mentioned in quarterly capacity*
As certified by V M Shanbhag, Independent Chartered Engineer vide his certificate dated October 16, 2026.

For further information, see "Our Business - Capacity Utilisation" on page 267 of this Prospectus.

These capacity utilization details are not indicative of future capacity utilization rates, which are dependent on various factors, including demand for our products, availability of raw materials, our ability to manage our inventory and improve operational efficiency.

Any future under-utilization of our manufacturing capacity over extended periods, or significant under-utilization in the short-term, could materially and adversely impact our business, growth prospects and future financial performance. Our capacity utilization levels are dependent on our ability to carry out uninterrupted operations at our Manufacturing Facility, the availability of raw materials, industry/ market conditions, as well as by the product requirements of, and procurement practice followed by us. In the event we face prolonged disruptions at our Manufacturing Facility including due to interruptions in the supply of water, electricity or as a result of labour unrest, or are unable to procure sufficient raw materials, we would not be able to achieve full capacity utilization of our current Manufacturing Facility, resulting in operational inefficiencies which could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition.

31. Any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds shall be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior approval of the shareholders of our Company.

We propose to utilize the Net Proceeds for (i) financing the capital expenditure requirement towards expansion of our Manufacturing Facility by increasing the manufacturing capacity of certain of our existing products; (ii) funding working capital requirements of our Company; and (iii) general corporate purposes. For further details, see the section titled "Objects of the Issue" on page 122. The proposed utilization is based on current business plans, management estimates, prevailing market conditions, vendor quotations, and other commercial and technical factors, and has not been appraised by any bank, financial institution, or independent party. These estimates may be inaccurate, and we may require additional funds to fully implement the proposed objectives. Moreover, unforeseen changes in external conditions, costs, financial situation, or business strategies may require us to vary the use of the Net Proceeds. In accordance with applicable laws and regulations, our Company has appointed CRISIL Ratings Limited, as the Monitoring Agency to oversee the utilization of the Gross proceeds of the Issue. The Monitoring Agency shall review the utilization of the Gross Proceeds, or any variation in relation to the same, and issue reports basis the same.

Any delay in implementation may lead to additional costs, adversely impacting our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows. As per the Companies Act, 2013 and SEBI ICDR Regulations, any variation in the utilization of Net Proceeds would require shareholder approval via a special resolution. If such approval is not obtained in a timely manner, or at all, it could negatively affect our operations. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled "Object of the Issue" on page 122 of this Prospectus. As a result, even if variation in deployment of unutilized Net Proceeds is in the interest of our Company, our ability to do so may be restricted, thereby limiting our flexibility to respond to changing business or financial conditions, and adversely affecting our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

32. Majority of our export operations are concentrated in the countries forming part of Middle East regions, specifically in Saudi Arabia. Any adverse changes in economic and political conditions in these regions may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

During the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the last three Financial Years, our export operations are spread across 7 countries and as of June 30, 2026, 5.32 % of our revenue from operations was generated from our export operations. While, we have created a global footprint, our operations are concentrated in countries forming part of Middle East, specifically in Saudi Arabia. We have in the past derived, and we believe that we will continue to derive, a significant portion of our revenue from such geographic region. In the events we are unable to expand our operations to other regions, adverse changes in economic and political conditions of the aforementioned regions may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

Below is a country-wise bifurcation of our exports:

Any downturn in the Middle East region or any deterioration of the financial conditions of our customers in such region or any renegotiation of arrangements may result in a reduction in the scope of our operations and the revenue booked against such region. Further, there are a number of factors outside of our control that might result in the loss of a client, including a demand for price reductions; market dynamics and financial pressures; and a change in strategy by moving more work in-house or to our competitors. Any failure to retain our customers in the Middle East region, expand the size of our business with them, or expand to new clients in new geographies could have an adverse effect on our business, profits and results of operations. The concentration of our clients in the Middle Eastern region exposes us to adverse economic or political circumstances in such region, including on account of any on-going economic slowdown and inflationary trends in such economies. There have been instances in the past, wherein we suffered a loss of business in Bangladesh on account of the political and social changes and resultant economic deterioration. Further, during the recent West Asia conflict, we experienced a decline in orders from the Middle Eastern region, accompanied by an increase in domestic sales. The conflict also resulted in higher raw material costs, thereby increasing our working capital requirements These factors disrupted industrial activity and supply chains, which led to reduced demand from key customers. Additionally, the depreciation of the Bangladeshi Taka and tightening of import regulations further impacted order volumes and payment cycles. This resulted in decline in revenue earned from such region from 69.33% in Fiscal 2024 to 48.49%% in the three months period ended June 30, 2026. Occurrence of any such events in the regions we operate, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be impacted. In order to mitigate such risks, we intend to expand our geographical presence in additional countries in the Middle Eastern region. For further details, please refer to "Our Business - Our Business Strategies – Expansion through deeper penetration in existing international markets and strategic entry into new global geographies" on page 265 of this Prospectus.

33. Pricing pressure from customers may affect our gross margin, profitability and ability to increase our prices, which in turn may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Being in a competitive market, we face pricing pressures from our customers. Accordingly, polymer manufacturers like us must be able to reduce our operating costs in order to maintain profitability. Such price reductions may affect our sales and profit margins. If we are unable to offset customer price reductions in the future through improved operating efficiencies, new manufacturing processes, sourcing alternatives or other cost reduction initiatives, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be materially adversely affected. Our customers also negotiate for larger discounts in price as the volume of their orders increase. To maintain our profit margins, we seek price reductions from our suppliers, improved production processes to increase manufacturing efficiency to reduce costs. There can be no assurance that we will be able to avoid future customer price reductions or offset the impact of any such price reductions through continued technology improvements, improved operational efficiencies, cost-effective sourcing alternatives, new manufacturing processes, cost reductions or other productivity initiatives. We cannot assure you that we shall be able to successfully pass on increased costs of raw materials to our customers in the future, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

34. In order to sell our products to the industries in which we operate, we are required to enlist our products with government agencies. Inability to enlist our products, may limit our access to key infrastructure projects as well as business scalability.

Our ability to sell our products in specific sectors and geographies is dependent on obtaining and maintaining enlistments or approvals from government bodies, industry regulators, public sector undertakings, or large institutional buyers. In the event we are unable to enlist our products with domestic and international agencies, our market outreach and business scalability may be limited.

Our products are integral to high-performance applications in critical industries, such as oil, gas and water, among others. The quality and effectiveness of products supplied by us is a significant indicator in ensuring longevity and sustenance of the industrial project, thereby mitigating the risk of leakage or public accidents or loss of resources invested in such projects. As per CRISIL Report, in industries such as power transmission, telecommunications, and coatings, polymer compounders must have their products, manufacturing processes, and standard operating procedures rigorously tested and approved by regulatory bodies or public sector enterprises. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. Therefore, in order to sell our products in such industries, we are required to enlist our products with government agencies, which subject our products, manufacturing processes and standard operating procedures, to rigorous testing parameters and approves their specific usage. Accordingly, we have enlisted our products with a Maharatna CPSE power transmission company, a Navratna CPSE engineering consultancy company, a Miniratna CPSE telecommunication company and Government of Gujarat. For further details of the products enlisted by our Company in the preceding five years, please refer to the chapter titled "Our Business - Competitive Strengths - Enlisted with prominent government agencies with pre-approved product portfolio" on page 217 of this Prospectus.

Our ability to sell our products in specific sectors and geographies is dependent on obtaining and maintaining enlistments or approvals from government bodies, industry regulators, public sector undertakings, or large institutional buyers. These enlistments are often subject to detailed technical assessments, quality certifications, field performance reviews, and compliance with evolving regulatory standards. While such enlistments act as a barrier to entry for new or unqualified players, they also pose a risk to our business operations in the event of delays, rejections, or non-renewal.

Further, the process for product enlistment can be time-consuming and resource-intensive, requiring sustained engagement, product modifications, and technical demonstrations. If we are unable to secure requisite enlistments for new products or maintain approvals for existing ones, we may lose access to key markets or customers, which could adversely affect our revenue, profitability, and business operations. Additionally, any change in standards or policies governing such enlistments may necessitate requalification of our products, leading to unforeseen costs or disruption in supply. Further, in the event that the prescribed requirements for enlistment of products are not fulfilled or maintained, the concerned products and/or our Company may face consequences such as disbarment from tender participation or delisting from the approved vendor database. While such instances have not occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, occurrence of any such events may impact our business results of operations and financial condition.

35. We are yet to place orders for purchase of certain equipment which are proposed to be funded through this Issue. In the event of any delay in placing the orders, or in the event the vendors are not able to provide the equipment in a timely manner, or at all, it may result in time and cost over-runs and our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows may be adversely affected.

We are yet to place orders for purchase of certain equipment which are proposed to be funded through this Issue. Out of the total capital expenditure which we propose to fund from the Net Proceeds, we have placed orders for an amount of ₹ 481.31 Lakhs, representing 13.89% of the total plant and machinery proposed to be purchased. In respect of such portion, we have not entered into any definitive agreements to utilize the Net Proceeds and have relied on the quotations received from third parties for estimation of the cost. The completion of such projects is dependent on the performance of external agencies, which are responsible for inter alia procurement and installation of machinery and equipment. If the performance of these agencies is inadequate, it may result in incremental cost and time overruns which could adversely affect our business and results of operations. We may also be unable to identify suitable replacement external agencies in a timely manner. In addition, the actual amount and timing of our future capital requirements may differ from our estimates as a result of, among other things, unforeseen delays or cost overruns, unanticipated expenses, regulatory changes, engineering design changes and technological changes.

The quotations received by us for such plant and machinery as of the date of this Prospectus are valid for a limited period of time and may be subject to revisions and other commercial and technical factors. Additionally, in the event of any delay in placement of orders, the proposed schedule, implementation and deployment of the Net Proceeds may be extended or may vary accordingly. We cannot assure you that the actual costs incurred will not exceed the quotation amounts. Our inability to procure such machinery and equipment at acceptable prices or in a timely manner, may result in an increase in capital expenditure, the proposed schedule implementation and deployment of the Net Proceeds may be extended or may vary accordingly, thereby resulting in an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

36. Our revenues are primarily derived from direct sales, with limited reliance on tenders and service agreements, which may expose us to concentration and negotiation risks.

A substantial portion of our business is generated through direct sales to customers rather than through competitive tenders or long-term service agreements. The revenue concentration by sales channel (e.g., direct sales, tender-based sales, distributor/service-agreement route) during the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals have been provided below:

Particular	For the three months period ended June 30, 2026	% of total Revenue from operations	Fiscal 2026	% of total Revenue from operations	Fiscal 2025	% of total Revenue from operations	Fiscal 2024	% of total Revenue from operations
Sale under tender	-	-	103.71	0.30%	306.01	0.93%	826.69	2.79%
Sales through service agreement /agent (export)	163.24	1.53%	210.89	0.60%	39.66	0.12%	597.60	2.02%
Direct sale	10,539.32	98.47%	34628.23	99.10%	32,497.92	98.95%	28,211.55	95.19%
Total Revenue from Operations	10,702.55	100%	34,942.83	100.00%	32,843.59	100.00%	29,635.83	100.00%

While direct sales allow greater flexibility in pricing and customer engagement, they also expose us to risks such as variability in order flow, dependence on ongoing customer relationships, limited revenue visibility, and greater susceptibility to competitive pricing pressures. Further, in a direct-sales environment, customers often negotiate more aggressively on pricing, discounts, credit terms, and delivery schedules. Increased competition from other vendors may require us to reduce margins or extend favorable terms, which could adversely impact our profitability. Further, the absence of long-term contractual commitments restricts predictability of our future revenues and cash flows. If we are unable to consistently secure direct sale orders, expand our tender participation, or increase our portfolio of service agreements, our business, results of operations, and financial condition may be adversely affected.

37. Estimates and forward-looking statements made by our Company may prove to be inaccurate due to various risks, uncertainties, and assumptions, which could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied.

Our Company's financial statements, projections, and other forward-looking statements are based on management's current estimates, expectations, and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions are inherently subject to risks, uncertainties, and inaccuracies that may cause actual results, performance, or achievements to differ materially from those expressed or implied. Factors such as changes in market conditions, regulatory developments, economic environment, and other unforeseen circumstances may impact the accuracy of such forward-looking statements. Investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements.

38. We are dependent on third parties for the transportation and timely delivery of our products to customers. Any failure by or loss of a third party transport service provider could result in delays and increased costs, which may adversely affect our business.

We rely on third parties for the transportation services for the timely delivery of our products to our customers located in India and other countries. The following table sets forth the transportation costs incurred as a percentage of our total expenses and revenue from operations in the years indicated:

	(₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations	(₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations	(₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations	(₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations
Transportation costs*	158.83	1.48%	685.76	1.96%	729.16	2.22%	729.49	2.46%
Total	158.83	1.48%	685.76	1.96%	729.16	2.22%	729.49	2.46%

Transportation costs include cartage outward.*

We use different modes of transportation, including road and sea for our domestic and overseas operations. We engage third-party logistic service providers to provide support our transportation requirements. In the event that these third-party logistic service providers are unable to provide services for our operations for reasons which are beyond our control and we are unable to secure alternate transport arrangements in a timely manner and at an acceptable cost, or at all, our business, cash flows, financial condition, results of operations and reputation may be adversely affected. In order to mitigate risk relating to dependence on transportation providers, we generally maintain alternative service providers, to ensure business continuity and timely execution of orders. While, the aforementioned events, have not materially occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, however occurrence of any such events, may have a material impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Disruptions of transportation services because of natural disasters, pandemics, mass protests, civil unrest, strikes, lockouts or other events may affect our delivery schedules and impair our supply to our customers. For instance, there was mass protest by farmers in several parts of the country like Delhi, Haryana and Punjab, against three farm acts which were passed by the Parliament of India in September 2020. Further, disturbance in the Red Sea owing to attacks on cargo ships resulted in a steep rise in ocean-shipping rates and weekslong delays on account of diversion of ships to avoid attacks, could also impact completion of our orders. While delivery of products to customers within India is generally shipped by road, our shipments to the foreign markets are by sea and subject to associated risks, including damage or loss of containers due to shipwreck, mishandling of our shipment at port or at sea, damage during transportation and loading and unloading. While, there have been instances in the past, wherein our raw materials and finished products were damaged on account of moisture absorption, occurrence of any such events may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

While we maintain sales turnover insurance policy to cover various risks during the transit of goods, any damage suffered by us in excess of coverage amounts, or in respect of losses not covered by such insurance policies will have to be borne by us. We may also be affected by an increase in fuel costs, as it will have a corresponding impact on freight charges levied by our third-party transportation providers. Further, the unavailability of adequate port and shipping infrastructure for transportation of our products to our foreign markets may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. While, the aforementioned events, have not materially occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, however occurrence of any such events, may have a material impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

39. Restrictions on import of raw materials may impact our business and results of operations.

We currently import a small portion of our raw materials from Houston, Dubai, Thailand and Saudi Arabia. The raw material imports are regulated by certain specific laws and regulations that permit concerned authorities to stop any import if it is deemed that the goods proposed to be imported may be hazardous. While the raw materials we import may not be hazardous in nature, we cannot assure you that such regulations will not be made applicable to us or that such regulations will not evolve into more stringent regulations, which would place onerous requirements on us and consequently restrict our ability to import raw materials. During the recent geopolitical tensions in West Asia, we experienced certain challenges in the import of such raw materials, including an increase in transit periods and delays in shipments. While these disruptions did not have a material adverse impact on our operations, we cannot assure you that similar or more significant disruptions will not occur in the future. For the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the Fiscal 2026, Fiscals 2025 and Fiscal 2024, our purchase of imported raw materials and components consumed amounts to ₹812.19 lakhs, ₹3,738.67 lakhs, ₹ 4,956.59 lakhs and ₹ 7,306.84 lakhs, representing 12.81 %, 12.42%, 26.18% and 34.80%, respectively, of our total raw material purchase. As per CRISIL Report, in light of the volatile tariff rates and ongoing war like situations in various countries, the import of raw materials could be affected in the future. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. In the event we are unable to import these materials, there can be no assurance that we will be successful in identifying alternate suppliers for raw materials or we will be able to source the raw materials at favorable terms in a timely manner or at all. Any change in law or applicable governmental policies relating to imports, change in international geo-political situations, restriction on import of raw materials could have an adverse effect on our ability to deliver products to our distributors, business and results of operations.

40. One of our Directors, namely, Vinod Aggarwal, does not have any prior experience of being a director in any other listed company in India and this may present certain potential challenges for our Company and in the event of any material non-compliance where our Directors are held liable and responsible, we may have to appoint new directors.

Our current Board comprises six directors which includes one Managing Director, one Executive Director, one Non-Executive Director and three (03) Independent Directors. One of our Directors, namely, Vinod Aggarwal, does not hold directorship in any other listed company in India. While our Board members are qualified and have relevant experience in their respective fields, not having any significant contemporary experience of being a director in any other listed company in India may present certain potential challenges for our Company. In the event of any material non-compliance where our Directors are held liable and responsible, we may have to appoint new directors or replace our current Directors, which could be time consuming and may involve additional costs for our Company. While, we have not experienced the aforementioned events in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instances shall not occur in the future. For further details, see "Our Management" on page 288 of this Prospectus.

41. Despite our quality check and control processes, if there are any defects or malfunction of our products, we could be liable for claims against us which may reduce demand for our products and damage to our reputation.

We are engaged in the business of manufacturing polymer compounds. We have implemented quality assurance systems and standard operating procedures in our Manufacturing Facility, which we believe enables us to meet the requirements of our customers and maintain our track record of reliability. We are susceptible to risk of supply of defective products or product which do not conform to the requirements of our customers, which may disrupt our ability to supply products to our customers, leading to adverse effect on our business and financial performance. In instances of supply of deficient quality of products, our customers are entitled to reduce the cost of the returned products from the total cost of the products supplied by our Company. The details of sales returns are provided below:

Revenue from Operations (A)	10,702.55	34,942.83	32,843.59	29,635.83
Sales Return (B)	81.34	345.29	258.29	327.21
Sales Return % (B/A)	0.76%	0.99%	0.79%	1.10%

While, there have been no material cases of sales return due to deficient quality or composition in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, however we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future or that they will not affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

42. Our inability to manage our growth or to successfully implement our growth strategy could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Our principal growth strategy is continuous expansion of our business by increasing our product portfolio and geographic footprint. For instance, we have expanded our product portfolio by venturing into manufacturing of adhesives for 3LPE applications. We have a PAN-India presence and have also established a market presence in the Middle Eastern region. We are in the process of expanding our business operations and adding fresh capacities in our Manufacturing Facility in order to cater to the increased demand of our products. We intend to utilise a portion of the Net Proceeds to fund capital expenditure requirements of our existing Manufacturing Facility. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue – Financing the capital expenditure requirement towards expansion of our Manufacturing Facility by increasing the manufacturing capacity of certain of our existing products" on page 124 of this Prospectus. While, we have experienced growth in our manufacturing and business operations, we cannot assure you that we will be able to sustain the past growth in our revenue or implement our growth strategy successfully, or that we will be able to expand further or diversify our operations effectively.

Our inability to execute our growth strategies in a timely manner or within budget estimates or our inability to meet the expectations of our customers and other stakeholders, could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Our future prospects will depend on our ability to grow our business and operations. The development of such future business could be affected by many external factors or strategies in respect of polymer industry, prevailing interest rates and price of raw materials. Further, in order to manage our growth effectively, we must implement, upgrade and improve our operational systems, procedures and internal controls on a timely basis. If we fail to implement these systems, procedures and controls on a timely basis, or if there are weaknesses in our internal controls that would result in inconsistent internal standard operating procedures, we may not be able to meet our customers' needs, hire and retain new employees or operate our business effectively. Failure to manage growth effectively could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

43. We depend on our Senior Management Personnel, Key Managerial Personnel and other personnel with technical expertise, and if we are unable to recruit and retain qualified and skilled personnel, our business and our ability to operate or grow our business may be adversely affected.

Our future performance would depend on the continued service of our Senior Management Personnel, Key Managerial Personnel, persons with technical expertise, and the loss of any senior employee and the inability to find an adequate replacement may impair our relationship with key customers and our level of technical expertise, which may adversely affect our business, cash flows, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. For details in relation to the changes in the Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management of our Company during the preceding three years, please refer to the chapter titled "Our Management - Changes in the Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management in last three years" on page 306 of this Prospectus. While there has been no instance in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals where the resignation of any Senior Management Personnel or Key Managerial Personnel had an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows or financial conditions, there is no assurance that such instance will not arise in the future. Set forth below are details of our employees by function as of the dates indicated, and attrition rate for the periods indicated:

Particulars	As of and for the three months period ended June 30, 2026	As of and for the Fiscal 2026	As of and for the Fiscal 2025	As of and for the Fiscal 2024
Number of permanent employees	122	119	119	138
Attrition Rate (%)	2.46%	3.45%	8.7%	Nil

Our future success, amongst other factors, will depend upon our ability to continue to attract, train and retain qualified personnel, particularly engineers and other associates with critical expertise, know-how and skills that are capable of helping us develop sustainable and technologically advanced polymer products and support our key customers. We may therefore need to increase compensation and other benefits in order to attract and retain personnel in the future, which may adversely affect our business, financial conditions, cash flows and results of operations.

44. Instances of cheque dishonour by our customers, may adversely affect our cash flows and any future occurrences may impact our business.

In the past, certain customers issued cheques to our Company that were subsequently dishonoured, leading us to initiate cheque-dishonour proceedings under applicable law. While these matters are currently under litigation, any future cheque dishonour by customers, whether due to financial stress or other reasons, may delay recovery of our dues, adversely affect our cash flows, and result in additional legal costs. Repeated or significant occurrences may also impact our assessment of customer creditworthiness and could adversely affect our business operations and stakeholder confidence. For details in relation to reasons for dishonour, action taken by our Company, outcome of the case, etc. please see chapter titled "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments" on page 382.

45. A portion of our recent financial performance is attributable to favourable procurement terms and discretionary vendor discounts rather than broader market trends, which may not be sustainable.

For the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the financial year ended 2026, 2025 and 2024 our financial results were influenced by specific trade discounts provided by our vendors. These arrangements allowed us to manage our input expenses at levels lower than those indicated by prevailing market data and industry benchmarks. We procure these supplies on the basis of short-term arrangements, typically through memoranda of understanding executed with leading domestic petrochemical manufacturers or purchase orders. These arrangements are often discretionary, linked to specific purchase volumes, or subject to periodic negotiations. We cannot assure you that these vendors will continue to offer such terms or that we will be able to renew these arrangements on similar conditions in the future.

During the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the last 3 financial years, our Company had received trade discounts, which are an integral part of the purchase and procurement process. The trade discounts from our vendors aggregated to an amount of ₹ 389.78 lakhs, ₹ 1,625.90 lakhs, ₹ 1,675.74 lakhs and ₹ 712.96 lakhs, respectively, representing 28.49%, 45.18%, 59.28% and 73.55% of our profit before tax during the three months ended June 30, 2026 and Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024. These discounts are discretionary, are not backed by long-term contractual commitments, and may be reduced or withdrawn. These discounts effectively allowed our Company to procure raw materials at lower values from the market. By strategically sourcing key inputs from a select group of suppliers, the company leveraged higher purchase volumes to negotiate more favorable rates and ensure consistent input quality. However, if these discounts are reduced, withdrawn, or if our relationships with these key suppliers are terminated, our operating costs would increase to align with independent market rates. Any such increase in our expenditure on raw materials and services, if not mitigated by a corresponding increase in our selling prices, would materially and adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

46. Our Promoters, Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management Personnel have interests in our Company other than reimbursement of expenses incurred or normal remuneration or benefits.

Our Promoters, Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management Personnel may be deemed to be interested in our Company, in addition to the regular remuneration or benefits, reimbursements of expenses, Equity Shares held by them or their relatives, their dividend or bonus entitlement, benefits arising from their directorship in our Company. Our Promoters, Director and Key Managerial Personnel may also be interested to the extent of any transaction entered into by our Company with any other company or firm in which they are directors or partners. For further details please refer to the paragraph titled — "Properties" in the chapter titled — "Our Business", the paragraphs titled — "Interest of Directors" in the chapter titled — "Our Management", the paragraphs titled — "Interest of our Promoters" in the chapter titled — "Our Promoter and Promoter Group", "Financial Indebtedness" and "Financial Statements- Restated Financial Statements – Notes to Restated Financial Statements – Annexure VI – Note 38 - Disclosures in respect of related parties pursuant to Ind AS 24" on pages 248, 276, 309, 425 and 373, respectively of this Prospectus. We confirm that the transactions have been conducted in the ordinary course of business, and on an arm's length basis, in compliance with the Companies Act, 2013 and other applicable laws.

There can be no assurance that our Promoters, Directors, Key Management Personnel will exercise their rights as shareholders to the benefit and best interest of our Company. Our Promoters and members of our Promoter Group will continue to exercise significant control over our Company, including being able to control the composition of our Board of Directors and determine decisions requiring simple or special majority voting of shareholders.

47. We do not own certain premises used by our Company. Disruption of our rights as licensee/ lessee or termination of the agreements with our licensors/ lessors would adversely impact our manufacturing operations and, consequently, our business.

As on the date of this Prospectus, our Registered Office, Corporate Office, warehouses and guest houses, have been taken on lease by our Company from related parties or third parties. The details of our leasehold properties, as of date of this Prospectus have been disclosed in the chapter titled "Our Business – Properties" on page 276 of this Prospectus.

Majority of the properties have been leased from our Promoters and they are interested in our Company to the extent of the rents being paid to them under such lease agreements. These transactions with our Promoters have been entered into in accordance with applicable laws, including after taking necessary consents and approvals from the board of directors and/or from the shareholders of the Company and at an arm's length basis. Hence, we believe there might not be a conflict of interest on account of these properties being leased to our Company by our Promoters. Our Company incurs significant expenditure due to leasing of space for our Registered Office, Corporate Office, warehouses and guest house. The table below indicates payments under the leases which accounted for a significant portion of our cash outflow for the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the Fiscals ended 2026, 2025 and 2024:

Payments under the leases (in ₹ lakhs)	15.36	86.27	107.35	117.13

We expect any future offices or manufacturing units which we open in the future to be on leased property. As a result, our Company may incur higher expenses for leasing spaces which could lead to lower margins in our business in the future. While we do not believe that the increase in expenses due to lease payments will significantly affect our business operations in the future, we cannot assure you that our profit margins will not be affected by such increased expenses in the future. As our leases expire, we may fail to negotiate renewals, either on commercially acceptable terms or at all, which could cause us to pay increased occupancy costs or to close manufacturing unit, offices or storage spaces, in desirable locations or to shift them, which may not necessarily yield best results. While, the long-term leases are renewable and extendable in nature, however in the event for unforeseen reasons such lease agreements are not renewed, we may be required to vacate the premises on the expiry of the lease period. While, there have not been any instances of non-renewal of leases by the lessor, however instances of termination have occurred during the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Financial Years, such terminations were initiated by the Company in the ordinary course of business and did not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations or cash flows. We cannot assure you that any future termination of customer or supplier relationships, whether initiated by us or otherwise, will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Further, in most of the leases we cannot terminate the lease agreement, unless we provide the owners with a written notice for the same. Most of the lease agreements entitle the lessor to terminate the agreement with cause or on specific breach of the terms and conditions. In order to mitigate the risk relating to abrupt termination, our lease arrangements typically require parties to serve a notice period for terminating the lease agreement. While, instances of abrupt termination have not occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the past three Fiscals, however, we cannot assure you that such instances would not occur in the future, and if they do, we cannot assure you that we shall be able to arrange for alternative properties within the same location, in a timely and cost-effective manner or at all. In the event, we are required to vacate our properties, especially our Corporate Office and Registered Office, our business operations may come to a standstill, which may have an adverse impact on our business operations, financial conditions and results of operations.

48. Our Directors and Promoters, Vinod Aggarwal and Karan Aggarwal have extended personal guarantees with respect to loan facilities availed by our Company. Revocation of any or all of these personal guarantees may adversely affect our business operations and financial condition.

Our Directors and Promoters, Vinod Aggarwal and Karan Aggarwal have provided guarantees for the loans availed by our Company from various lenders. The details of the personal guarantees and corporate guarantees extended have been provided below:

(₹ in lakhs)

S. No.	Name of the lender	Name of the Promoter/Promoter Group	Name of the Facility	Amount of Guarantee as on August 31, 2026
1	HDFC Bank Limited	Vinod Aggarwal and Karan Aggarwal	Working Capital	4,395.00
2	ICICI Bank Limited			4,000.00
3	Yes bank Limited			3,000.00
4	DBS Bank India Limited			1,500.00
5	Bank of Baroda		Channel Financing	1,000.00
Total				13,895.00

For details, please refer to the chapter titled — "Financial Indebtedness" on page 425 of this Prospectus.

In the event any of these guarantees are revoked, our lenders may require us to furnish alternate guarantees or may demand a repayment of the outstanding amounts under the said facilities sanctioned or may even terminate the facilities sanctioned to us. There can be no assurance that our Company will be able to arrange such alternative guarantees or provide an alternate collateral security in a timely manner or at all. The breach of covenants on borrowing entitles the lenders to invoke the penal interest provisions. However, if the lenders opt to recall the facility, not merely on the basis of breach of covenants but for some event of default on account of non-payments on the relevant due dates, the lender bank after classifying the accounts under NPA (Non-performing assets) category, may move to NCLT by initiating CIRP proceedings under the IBC 2016. If our lenders enforce these restrictive covenants or exercise their options under the relevant debt financing agreements, our operations and use of assets may be significantly hampered and lenders may demand the payment of the entire outstanding amount and this in turn may also affect our further borrowing abilities thereby adversely affecting our business and operations.

49. Our Chairman and Managing Director, Karan Aggarwal has extended personal guarantee in relation to loan facilities availed by our Group Company, Vinsul Makardi Limited. Any defaults committed by our Group Company or invocation of guarantee extended by our Chairman and Managing Director may adversely affect our business operations and financial condition.

Our Chairman and Managing Director, Karan Aggarwal has issued personal guarantee in favour of ICICI Bank Limited for securing the working capital facilities availed by our Group Company, namely Vinsul Makardi Limited. The details of the guarantee provided by our Chairman and Managing Director have been provided below:

(₹ in lakhs)

ICICI Bank Limited	Personal Guarantee of Karan Aggarwal	Working Capital	800

In the event the business and operations of our Group Company deteriorates and if it commits a default in payment of principal or interest due to the lender, the personal guarantee extended by our Chairman and Managing Director may get invoked. On the occurrence of any of the above-mentioned situations, the lender might demand repayment of the outstanding amounts under the said facilities sanctioned to our Group Company. While, the events mentioned above have not occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the past three Fiscals, however occurrence of any such instances in the future may affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

50. We may be subject to forex losses, export-import duties for our international business.

We are exposed to foreign currency fluctuations, arising from import of our raw materials and export of our finished goods. The details of such transactions are presented as under:

Particulars	For the three months period ended June 30, 2026		Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	Amount (₹ lakhs)	% of revenue of operations	Amount (₹ lakhs)	% of revenue of operations	Amount (₹ lakhs)	% of revenue of operations	Amount (₹ lakhs)	% of revenue of operations
Imported raw material	812.19	7.59%	3,751.58	12.46%	4,249.86	12.94%	7,046.62	23.78%
Export of finished goods	569.89	5.32%	1,908.23	5.46%	2,767.63	8.43%	1,194.88	4.03%

We will continue to face foreign currency transaction risk to the extent that the amounts and relative proportions of various currencies in which our costs and liabilities are denominated deviate from the amounts and relative proportions of the various currencies in which our sales and assets are denominated. We do not have a formal hedging policy and the impact of future exchange rate fluctuations among different currencies on our results of operations and financial condition cannot be accurately predicted, and our attempts to mitigate the adverse effects of exchange rate fluctuations may not be successful. Such exchange rate fluctuations may in the future have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and future prospects.

In addition, the policies of the Reserve Bank of India may also change from time to time, which may limit our ability to effectively hedge our foreign currency exposures and may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. In order to mitigate the risks relating to our international operations, we intend to enter into additional geographies. However, we may face competition in other countries from companies that may have more experience with operations in such countries or with international operations generally. Moreover, the growth in size or scope of our business, expansion of our footprint in existing regions in which we operate and entry into new geographies also may expose us to regulatory regimes with which we have no prior direct experience. In addition, the costs associated with entering and establishing ourselves in new markets, and expanding such operations, may be higher than expected, and we may face significant competition in those regions. Any of these developments, alone or in combination, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and future prospects.

51. Our Company has applied for registration of certain trademarks in its name. Until such registrations are granted, our Company may not be able to prevent unauthorised use of such trademarks by third parties, which may lead to the dilution of our goodwill.

Our Company has made applications for registering our logo under the Trade Mark Act, 1999. Pending the registration of these trademarks, any other vendor in the similar line of business as ours may use such trademarks and we may have a lesser recourse to initiate legal proceedings to protect our intellectual property. Further, our applications for the registration of certain trademarks may be opposed by third parties, and we may have to incur significant cost in relation to these oppositions. In the event we are not able to obtain registrations due to opposition by third parties or if any injunctive or other adverse order is issued against us in respect of any of our trademarks for which we have applied for registration, we may not be able to use such trademarks and / or avail the legal protection or prevent unauthorized use of such trademarks by third parties, which may adversely affect our goodwill and business. In this regard, our Company has received examination reports dated July 25, 2026 from the Trade Marks Registry in respect of two of our trademark applications (Application Nos. 6977144 and 6977145, filed for registration of "BLS POLYMERS LTD" in Class 1 and Class 35, respectively), raising an objection under Section 11(1) of the Trade Marks Act, 1999 on the ground of similarity with an earlier registered trademark of a third party, together with a requirement to submit documentary evidence of continuous use of the mark since January 16, 1991. Our Company has filed replies to both examination reports along with supporting documentary evidence, refuting the said objections, and such applications are currently pending disposal before the Registrar of Trade Marks. For further details on the trademarks, registered or pending registration, please refer to the chapters titled "Our Business - Intellectual Property" and "Government and Other Approvals - Intellectual property" on pages 276 and 443, respectively, of this Prospectus.

52. The shortage or non-availability of power may adversely affect our business, result of operations, financial conditions and cash flows.

We require substantial power for our Manufacturing Facility. The following tables set forth below our power expenses in the years indicated:

	(₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations	(₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations	(₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations	(₹ in lakhs)	% of revenue from operations

Our Manufacturing Facility depends on adequate and uninterrupted supply of electrical power. We rely on local power authorities for procuring power for our Manufacturing Facility. We also rely upon diesel generator sets for our Manufacturing Facility to ensure continuity of operations in case of power outage. There have been no major instances of power failure in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the last three years. For further details, see "Our Business – Utilities" on page 270 of this Prospectus. There can be no assurance that electricity supplied to our Manufacturing Facility will be sufficient to meet our requirements or that we will be able to procure adequate and uninterrupted power supply in the future at a reasonable cost. If the per unit cost of electricity is increased by the state electricity board our power cost will increase. Any changes in government policies or local power and water shortages could adversely affect our production facility and ultimately our operations or financial condition may be adversely affected. While, we have not faced any material instances of power failure in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the past three Fiscals, a prolonged suspension in production could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

57. Our operations are labour intensive and our manufacturing operations may be subject to unionization, work stoppages or increased labour costs, which could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our manufacturing activities are labour intensive and expose us to the risk of various labour related issues. Whilst we have not faced any strike by our workforce, we cannot assure you that we will not be subject to work stoppages, strikes, lockouts or other types of conflicts with our employees or contract workers in the future. The success of our operations depends on availability of labour and maintaining a good relationship with our workforce. As of June 30, 2026, we employed about 122 permanent employees and 94 contract labourers. We do not have any trade union registered under the Trade Unions Act, 1926. In the past three years, we have not experienced any labour dispute. We do not have any formal policy for redressal of labour disputes Shortage of skilled/ unskilled personnel or work stoppages caused by disagreements with employees could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. We may also have to incur additional expenses to train and retain skilled labour. We are also subject to a number of stringent labour laws that protect the interests of workers, including legislation that imposes financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. There can be no assurance that we will not experience labour unrest in the future, which may delay or disrupt our operations. In the event of any prolonged delay or disruption of our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

Our industry is labor intensive and our dependence on contract labor may result in significant risks for our operations, relating to the cost, availability and skill of such contract workers in India, as well as contingencies affecting availability of such contract workers during peak periods in labor intensive sectors such as ours. Any increase in wage rates payable to such contract labour, changes in applicable labour laws and regulations, or requirements imposed on the Company to fund their wage and benefit obligations could increase operating costs. Further, any disputes, strikes, or work stoppages by such contract labour, or any action taken by regulatory authorities in relation to their engagement, could disrupt operations. While, such instances have not occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, any such events may adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

India has stringent labour legislation that protects the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for the establishment of unions, dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. We are also subject to laws and regulations governing relationships with employees, in such areas as minimum wage and maximum working hours, overtime, working conditions, hiring and terminating of employees and work permits. Non-compliance with any such laws may lead to imposition of fines and penalties and initiation of actions by regulatory authorities, which may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

58. Our operations are subject to environmental and health and safety laws and other government regulations which could result in increased liabilities and increased capital expenditures.

We are subject to environmental, health and safety and other regulatory and/ or statutory requirements in the jurisdictions in which we operate. Our manufacturing processes and products are subject to stringent quality, environmental and occupational health and safety standards. We are subject to various national, state, municipal and local laws and regulations concerning environmental protection in India. In India, these include the Factories Act, 1948, Payment of Wages Act, 1936, etc. A failure by us to comply with the relevant labour regulations, could lead to enforced shutdowns and other sanctions imposed by the relevant authorities, as well as the withholding or delay in receipt of regulatory approvals for our new products. We may be involved in future litigation or other proceedings or be held liable in any litigation or proceedings including in relation to labour, safety, health and environmental matters, the costs of which may be significant. Environmental laws and regulations in India are becoming more stringent and the scope and extent of new environmental regulations, including their effect on our operations, cannot be predicted with any certainty. In case of any change in environmental or pollution regulations, we may be required to invest in, among other things, environmental monitoring, pollution control equipment and emissions management. While, the aforementioned events, have not materially occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, however occurrence of any such events, may have a material impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

As a consequence of unanticipated regulatory or other developments, future environmental and regulatory related expenditures may vary substantially from those currently anticipated. A risk of environmental liability is inherent in our manufacturing activities, and we are subject to numerous environmental laws and regulations in the countries in which we operate. The costs of complying with current and future environmental laws and other regulations may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, or cash flows. In addition, we could incur substantial costs, our products could be restricted from entering certain markets and we could face other sanctions, if we were to violate or become liable under environmental laws or if our products become non-compliant with applicable regulations. Our potential exposure includes fines and civil or criminal sanctions, third-party property damage or personal injury claims and clean-up costs. The amount and timing of costs under environmental laws are difficult to predict. While, such events have not occurred in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the past three Fiscals, occurrence of any such events could have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

59. We operate in a competitive organised and unorganised industry with low barriers to entry and may be unable to compete with a range of unorganized players.

In the dynamic landscape of the polymer business, one of the formidable challenges arises from competition in the unorganized sector. We operate in the manufacturing and distribution of raw materials utilized in the wire and cable and the industrial pipe industries which is competitive and fragmented and we compete with a range of unorganized players, at the national and international level. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled "Our Business - Competition" on page 272 of this Prospectus. Further, while we have an expanding portfolio of products, our competitors may have the advantage of focusing on concentrated products. Further, we compete against established players also, which may have greater access to financial, technical and marketing resources and expertise available to them than us in the products in which we compete against them.

Further, industry consolidation may affect competition by creating larger, more homogeneous and potentially stronger competitors in the markets in which we compete. Our competitors may further affect our business by entering into exclusive arrangements with our existing or potential clients. There can be no assurance that we will be able to compete successfully against such competitors or that we will not lose our key core employees, associates or clients to such competitors. Additionally, our ability to compete also depends in part on factors outside our control, such as the availability of skilled resources, pricing pressures in the staffing industry and the extent of our competitors' responsiveness to their client's needs. Our continued success depends on our ability to compete effectively against our existing and future competitors. With the potential entry of new competitors, given the low entry barriers in the industry where we operate, our ability to retain our existing clients and to attract new clients is critical to our continued success. As a result, there can be no assurance that we will not encounter increased competition in the future nor can there be any assurance that we will, in light of competitive pressures, be able to effectively compete with our competition in the various product and service segments we operate in, whether on the basis of pricing, quality or range of products or otherwise, which could have material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

60. Fraud or misconduct by our employees could adversely affect our reputation, business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our operations may be subject to incidents of theft or damage to inventory in transit and prior to or during godown stocking. The business may also encounter some inventory loss on account of employee theft, vendor fraud and general administrative error. Employee's misconduct could also involve inter alia misappropriation of funds, cheating our customers, which could result in regulatory sanctions and serious reputational or financial harm. It is not always possible to deter fraud or misconduct by employees and the precautions we take and the systems we have put in place to prevent and deter such activities may not be effective in all cases. In the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the past three Fiscals, there have not been any material instances of fraud, cheating and misappropriation. There can be no assurance that we will not experience any fraud, theft, employee negligence, security lapse, loss in transit or similar incidents in the future, which could adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Additionally, losses due to theft, fire, breakage or damage caused by other casualties, could adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

61. A downgrade in our credit rating could adversely affect our ability to raise capital in the future.

As on date of this Prospectus, our Company has not obtained any credit ratings in relation to its debt obligations. The interest rates of certain of our borrowings as well as the enhancement and sanction of any future borrowings may be significantly dependent on the credit ratings obtained by us. A downgrade of the credit ratings obtained by us in the future, could lead to greater risk with respect to refinancing our debt and would likely increase our cost of borrowing and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and future prospects.

62. We are dependent on information technology systems in carrying out our business activities and it forms an integral part of our business. Further, if we are unable to adapt to technological changes and successfully implement new technologies or if we face failure of our information technology systems, we may not be able to compete effectively which may result in higher costs and would adversely affect our business and results of operations.

We are dependent on information technology system in connection with carrying out our business activities and such systems form an integral part of our business. Any failure of our information technology systems could result in business interruptions, including the loss of our customers, loss of reputation and weakening of our competitive position, and could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Additionally, our information technology systems, specifically the business central enterprise resource planning software may be vulnerable to computer viruses, piracy, hacking or similar disruptive problems. Computer viruses or problems caused by third parties could lead to disruptions in our business activities. Fixing such problems caused by computer viruses or security breaches may require interruptions, delays or temporary suspension of our business activities, which could adversely affect our operations. While, there have not been any instances of cyberattack or breach of our systems in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Financial Years, occurrence of such events may have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

63. Our success depends upon our ability to attract, develop and retain trained manpower while also maintaining low labour costs.

Our customers expect a high quality standard of our products. To meet the needs and expectations of our customers, we must attract, train and retain a number of qualified skilled employees, while maintaining low employee costs. In case of any disputes with the employees in connection with tasks performed by them in the course of their employment, including in relation to the collection of payments from customers may have an adverse impact on the business operations and financial collections.

As of August 31, 2026, we have a total of 175 employees and lay significant emphasis on our employees' overall welfare. For details, see 'Our Business – Employees' on page 276. However, there can be no assurance that there will not be any future disruptions in our operations due to any disputes with our employees or that such disputes will not adversely affect our business and results of operations.

We will need to continue to recruit, train and retain a greater number of employees, including skilled and unskilled labour, at various levels. Our ability to maintain low labour costs is subject to numerous external factors, including prevailing wage rates, as well as the impact of legislation or regulations governing labour relations and minimum wages. An inability to provide wages and/or benefits that are competitive within the markets in which we operate could adversely affect our ability to retain and attract qualified personnel, which in turn may affect our business, prospects and financial condition. Further, in the event of a labour dispute, protracted negotiations and strike action may impair our ability to carry on our day-to-day operations, which could materially and adversely affect our business, future financial performance and results of operations. While, the aforementioned events, have not materially occurred in the preceding three Fiscals, however occurrence of any such events, may have a material impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

64. Our insurance coverage may not be adequate to protect us against all potential losses, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The table below shows the total amount of our insurance coverage and its percentage contribution to our total assets in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024 respectively:

Particulars	For the three months period ended June 30, 2026	March 31, 2026	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024

We maintain (i) insurance for standard fire and special perils; (ii) insurance for burglary for plant and machinery, office/lab equipment, stock of raw material, finished goods and stock in process, furniture, fixture, fittings and office equipment, electrical installations; (iii) insurance for goods transported through sea, air, rail, courier, road, registered post, inland waterway; (iv) insurance for land and building; and (v)

insurance for motor vehicles. For further information on the insurance policies availed by us, see "Our Business – Insurance" on page 272. Notwithstanding the insurance coverage that we carry, we may not be fully insured against certain types of risks. There are many events, other than the ones covered in the insurance specified above, that could significantly impact our operations, or expose us to third-party liabilities, for which we may not be adequately insured. There can be no assurance that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honoured fully, in part, on time, or at all. There have been instances during the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals wherein claims were filed by our Company to recover the losses caused on account of theft in one of our warehouses and damage of goods during transit. The details of insurance cover for the assets, claims filed and received and sum assured for the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals are given below:

To the extent that we suffer any loss or damage that is not covered by insurance or exceeds our insurance coverage, our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected. Any damage suffered by us in excess of such limited coverage amounts, or in respect of uninsured events, not covered by such insurance policies will have to be borne by us.

Our policies are subject to standard limitations, including with respect to the maximum amount that can be claimed. Therefore, our insurance policies might not necessarily cover all losses incurred by us and we cannot provide any assurance that we will not incur losses or suffer claims beyond the limits of, or outside the relevant coverage of, our insurance policies. Further, several of our insurance policies exclude the insurer's liability in relation to loss or damage to goods due to moisture or change in temperature, among others. Thus, any loss or damage caused on account of such reasons would be excluded from our insurance cover, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

65. Our Promoters and members of the Promoter Group have significant control over the Company and have the ability to direct our business and affairs; their interests may conflict with your interests as a shareholder. However, the interest of all the shareholders of our Company, especially minority shareholders will be protected, in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and other applicable laws.

Upon completion of this Issue, our Promoters and members of our Promoter Group will collectively hold 71.53%* of the Equity share capital of our Company. As a result, our Promoters will have the ability to exercise significant influence over all matters requiring shareholders' approval. Accordingly, our Promoters will continue to retain significant control, including being able to control the composition of our Board of Directors, determine decisions requiring simple or special majority voting of shareholders, undertaking sale of all or substantially all of our assets, timing and distribution of dividends and termination of appointment of our officers, and our other shareholders may be unable to affect the outcome of such voting. There can be no assurance that our Promoters will exercise their rights as shareholders to the benefit and best interests of our Company. Further, such control could delay, defer or prevent a change in control of our Company, impede a merger, consolidation, takeover or other business combination involving our Company, or discourage a potential acquirer from making a tender offer or otherwise attempting to obtain control of our Company even if it is in our Company's best interest. The interests of our Promoters could conflict with the interests of our other equity shareholders, and our Promoters could make decisions that materially and adversely affect your investment in the Equity Shares.

subject to finalisation of basis of allotment*

66. The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares held by our Promoters could be lower than the Issue Price.

The details of the average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares held by our Promoters, as at the date of this Prospectus is set out below:

67. Our future fund requirements, in the form of further issue of capital or securities and/or loans taken by us, may be prejudicial to the interest of the Shareholders depending upon the terms on which they are eventually raised.

We may require additional capital from time to time depending on our business needs. Any further issue of Equity Shares or convertible securities would dilute the shareholding of the existing Shareholders and such issuance may be done on terms and conditions, which may not be favourable to the then existing Shareholders. If such funds are raised in the form of loans or debt or preference shares, then it may substantially increase our fixed interest/dividend burden and decrease our cash flows, thus adversely affecting our business, results of operations and financial condition.

68. In addition to our existing indebtedness for our existing operations, we may incur further indebtedness during the course of business. We cannot assure that we would be able to service our existing and/ or additional indebtedness.

As on August 31, 2026, our Company's total fund based indebtedness is ₹ 8,235.55 lakhs. In addition to the indebtedness for our existing operations, we may incur further indebtedness during the course of our business. We cannot assure you that we will be able to obtain further loans at favourable terms. Increased borrowings, if any, may adversely affect our debt-equity ratio and our ability to borrow at competitive rates. In addition, we cannot assure you that the budgeting of our working capital requirements for a particular year will be accurate. There may be situations where we may under-budget our working capital requirements, which may lead to delays in arranging additional working capital requirements, loss of reputation, levy of liquidated damages and can cause an adverse effect on our cash flows.

Any failure to service our indebtedness or otherwise perform our obligations under our financing agreements entered with our lenders or which may be entered into by our Company, could trigger cross default provisions, penalties, acceleration of repayment of amounts due under such facilities which may cause an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. For details of our indebtedness, please refer to the chapter titled — "Financial Indebtedness" on page 425 of this Prospectus.

69. Our inability to meet our obligations, including financial and other covenants under our debt financing arrangements could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. If we are unable to raise additional capital on favourable terms, or at all, our business, results of operations and financial condition could adversely affected.

As of August 31, 2026, our non-current borrowings were ₹ 598.77 lakhs while our current borrowings were ₹ 7,636.78 lakhs. Our existing operations and execution of our business strategy may require substantial capital resources and we may incur additional debt to finance these requirements in the future. However, we may be unable to obtain sufficient financing on terms favourable to us, or at all. If interest rates increase it will be more difficult to obtain credit. As a result, our development activities may have to be curtailed or eliminated and our financial performance and our ability to continue operations may be adversely affected.

We have entered into agreements for our borrowings with lenders such as, HDFC Bank Limited, ICICI Bank Limited, Yes Bank Limited, Bank of Baroda and DBS Bank India Limited. These borrowings include secured fund based and non-fund based facilities. These agreements include restrictive covenants which mandate certain restrictions in terms of our business operations such as change in capital structure, formulation of any scheme of amalgamation or reconstruction, declaring dividends, further expansion of business, granting loans to directors, repaying unsecured loans from third parties, undertake guarantee obligations on behalf of any other borrower, which require our Company to obtain prior approval of the lenders for any of the above activities. We have obtained a no-objection certificate from our lenders in relation to the Issue. Further, some of our financing arrangements include covenants to maintain our total outside liabilities and total net worth up to a certain limit and certain other liquidity ratios. It may be possible for a lender to assert that we have not complied with all applicable terms under our existing financing documents. Further we cannot assure that we will have adequate funds at all times to repay these credit facilities and may also be subject to demands for the payment of penal interest. There have not been any instances of violation of restrictive covenants, triggering of events of default or rescheduling for repayment of loans in the preceding three Fiscals. While, there have not been any instances of defaults or rescheduling of loans in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, any future instances of defaults under one or more of our Company's financing agreements may limit our flexibility in operating our business, which could have an adverse effect on our cash flows, business, results of operations and financial condition. Default in such obligations, entitles the lenders to invoke the penal interest provisions. However, if the lenders opt to recall the facility, not merely on the basis of breach of covenants but for some event of default on account of non-payments on the relevant due dates, the lender bank after classifying the accounts under NPA (Non-performing assets) category, may move to NCLT by initiating CIRP proceedings under the IBC 2016.

We will continue to incur significant expenditure in maintaining and growing our existing infrastructure. We cannot assure you that we will have sufficient capital for our current operations, any future expansion plans that we may have and our ability to complete such expansion plans. Our ability to arrange financing and the costs of capital of such financing are dependent on numerous factors, including general economic and capital market conditions, credit availability from banks, investor confidence, the continued success of our operations and other laws that are conducive to our raising capital in this manner. Any unfavourable change to terms of borrowings may adversely affect our cash flows, results of operations and financial conditions. If we decide to meet our capital requirements through debt financing, we may be subject to certain restrictive covenants. If we are unable to raise adequate capital in a timely manner and on acceptable terms, or at all, our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows could be adversely affected.

70. We are subject to risks arising from interest rate fluctuations for our borrowings, which could reduce the profitability of our operations and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Interest rates for borrowings have been volatile in recent periods. Our operations are funded to a significant extent by debt and increases in interest rate and a consequent increase in the cost of servicing such debt may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition. Changes in prevailing interest rates affect our interest expense in respect of our borrowings and our interest income in respect of our interest on short term deposits with banks. Our debt facilities carry interest at variable rates as well as fixed rates. As of August 31, 2026, the interest rates for our borrowings ranged from 5.83% to 12.00% per annum. Set forth below are details of our borrowings at floating rates as of the dates set out below.

Particulars	For the three months period ended June 30, 2026	As of
Borrowings at Floating Rate (₹ in lakhs)	6,275.96	5,154.98	7,316.92	8,033.89

Although we may in the future engage in interest rate hedging transactions or exercise any right available to us under our financing arrangements to terminate the existing debt financing arrangement on the respective reset dates and enter into new financing arrangements, there can be no assurance that we will be able to do so on commercially reasonable terms or that these agreements, if entered into, will protect us adequately against interest rate risks. Further, if such arrangements do not protect us adequately against interest rate risks, they may result in higher costs.

71. Our ability to pay dividends in the future may be affected by any material adverse effect on our future earnings, financial condition or cash flows.

Our ability to pay dividends in future will depend on our earnings, financial condition and capital requirements. Our business is working capital intensive and we are required to obtain consents from certain of our lenders prior to the declaration of dividend as per the terms of the agreements executed with them. We may be unable to pay dividends in the near or medium term, and our future dividend policy will depend on our capital requirements and financing arrangements in respect of our operations, financial condition and results of operations. Although our Company has declared dividends in the past, however there can be no assurance that our Company will declare dividends in the future also. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled "Dividend Policy" and the chapter titled "Financial Indebtedness" on pages 321 and 425 respectively, of this Prospectus.

72. Significant differences exist between Ind AS used to prepare our financial information and other accounting principles, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may affect investors' assessments of our Company's financial condition.

Our Restated Financial Statements for the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and for the Financial Years ended March 31, 2026, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024 included in this Prospectus are presented in conformity with Ind AS, in each case restated in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations and the Guidance Note on "Reports in Company Prospectus (Revised 2019)" issued by the ICAI. Ind AS differs from accounting principles with which prospective investors may be familiar, such as Indian GAAP, IFRS and U.S. GAAP.

We have not attempted to explain in a qualitative manner the impact of the IFRS or U.S. GAAP on the financial information included in this Prospectus, nor do we provide a reconciliation of our financial information to those of U.S. GAAP or IFRS. U.S. GAAP and IFRS differ in significant respects from Ind AS and Indian GAAP, which may differ from accounting principles with which prospective investors may be familiar in other countries. Accordingly, the degree to which the financial information included in this Prospectus, which are restated as per the SEBI ICDR Regulations included in this Prospectus, will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader's level of familiarity with Indian accounting practices, Ind AS, the Companies Act and the SEBI Regulations. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting practices, Ind AS, the Companies Act and the SEBI Regulations, on the financial disclosures presented in this Prospectus should accordingly be limited.

73. If we are unable to establish and maintain an effective system of internal controls and compliances, our businesses and reputation could be adversely affected.

We manage our internal compliance by monitoring and evaluating internal controls and taking reasonable steps to maintain appropriate procedures for relevant statutory and regulatory compliances. As risks evolve and develop, internal controls must be reviewed on an ongoing basis. Maintaining internal controls requires human diligence and is therefore subject to lapses in judgment and failures that result from human error. Any such errors can affect the accuracy of our financial reporting, resulting in a loss of investor confidence and a decline in the price of the Equity Shares. While, we have not faced any such instances in the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that deficiencies in our internal controls will not arise, or that we will be able to implement, and continue to maintain, adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls, in a timely manner or at all, which may have an adverse effect on our business operations and financial condition.

74. This Prospectus contains information from an industry report prepared by CRISIL Intelligence, commissioned by us for the purpose of the Issue for an agreed fee.

This Prospectus contains information from an industry report prepared by CRISIL Intelligence which we have commissioned and paid for. This Prospectus includes information that is derived from the CRISIL Report, prepared by CRISIL Intelligence, a research house, pursuant to an engagement with our Company. CRISIL Intelligence has advised that while it has taken due care and caution in preparing the commissioned report, which is based on information obtained from sources that it considers reliable (Information), it disclaims responsibility for any errors or omissions in the Information or for the results obtained from the use of the Information. CRISIL Intelligence also highlights certain industry and market data, which may be subject to estimates and/or assumptions. There are no standard data gathering methodologies in the industry in which we conduct our business, and methodologies and assumptions vary widely among different industry sources. Further, such estimates and / or assumptions may change based on various factors. Accordingly, our position in the market may differ from that presented in this Prospectus. Additionally, some of the data and information in the CRISIL Report are also based on discussions / conversations with industry sources. Further, the CRISIL Report is not a recommendation to invest or disinvest in our Company. CRISIL Intelligence has disclaimed all financial liability in case of any loss suffered on account of reliance on any information contained in the CRISIL Report.

75. We may not be able to maintain profitability in the future due to unforeseen reasons, market fluctuations and other external factors beyond our control.

Although we have been profitable in the past, we expect to make investments in growing our business and may undertake acquisitions of other synergistic companies, which could reduce our profitability compared to past periods. As a result of these increased expenditures, unforeseen reasons, market fluctuations and other external factors beyond our control, our profitability could decline in future periods. In future periods, our revenue could decline or grow more slowly than we expect. We also may incur significant losses in the future for a number of reasons, including due to the other risks described in this Prospectus, and we may encounter unforeseen expenses, difficulties, complications, delays and other unknown factors.

76. Our Promoters were not the original subscribers to the Memorandum of Association of our Company and acquired their shareholding in our Company subsequent to its incorporation.

Our Promoters, Vinod Aggarwal, Sushil Aggarwal, Madhukar Aggarwal and Diwakar Aggarwal, were not the original subscribers to the Memorandum of Association of our Company. The Equity Shares held by the original subscribers were subsequently transferred to such Promoters. Further, Karan Aggarwal was also not an original promoter of our Company and became a shareholder of our Company on January 10, 2025. For further details, please see "Capital Structure - Notes to the Capital Structure - Equity Share capital history of our Company" on page 102 of this Prospectus. Accordingly, the ownership and promoter composition of our Company has changed since its incorporation. Investors should consider the foregoing while evaluating our Company, its history and its present ownership and management structure.

Risks in relation to the Issue

77. The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions and the Issue Price of the Equity Shares could not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares upon listing on the Stock Exchanges. Investors bear the risk of fluctuations in the price of Equity Shares and there can be no assurance that a liquid market for the Equity Shares will develop following the listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges.

There has been no public market for the Equity Shares prior to the Issue, the determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions and will be determined by our Company in consultation with the BRLM. The Issue Price will be determined by our Company in consultation with the BRLM, through the Book Building Process in terms of Regulation 28 and Schedule XIII of SEBI ICDR Regulations. The relevant financial parameters based on which the Price Band will be determined shall be disclosed in the advertisement that will be issued for the publication of the Price Band. The Issue Price will be based on numerous factors, as described under in "Basis for Issue Price" on page 140. This price may not necessarily be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Issue is completed. You may not be able to re-sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price and could, as a result, lose all or part of your investment. The price at which the Equity Shares will trade at after the Issue will be determined by the marketplace and could be influenced by many factors, including:

- our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows;
- the history of and prospects for our business;
- an assessment of our management, our past and present operations and the prospects for as well
- as timing of our future revenues and cost structures;
- the valuation of publicly traded companies that are engaged in business activities similar to ours;
- quarterly variations in our results of operations;
- results of operations that vary from the expectations of securities analysts and investors;
- results of operations that vary from those of our competitors;
- changes in expectations as to our future financial condition, including financial estimates by
- research analysts and investors;
- a change in research analysts' recommendations;
- announcements by us or our competitors of significant acquisitions, strategic alliances, joint
- operations or capital commitments;
- announcements of significant claims or proceedings against us;
- new laws and government regulations that directly or indirectly affect our business;
- additions or departures of Key Managerial Personnel;
- changes in interest rates;
- fluctuations in stock market prices and volume; and
- general economic conditions.

The Indian stock markets have, from time to time, experienced significant price and volume fluctuations that have affected market prices for the securities of Indian companies. As a result, investors in the Equity Shares could experience a decrease in the value of the Equity Shares regardless of our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

The Equity Shares are expected to trade on NSE and BSE after the Issue, but there can be no assurance that active trading in the Equity Shares will develop after the Issue, or if such trading develops that it will continue. Investors may not be able to sell the Equity Shares at the quoted price if there is no active trading in the Equity Shares.

78. Investors will not be able to sell immediately on an Indian stock exchange any of the Equity Shares they purchase in the Issue. The Equity Shares will be listed on the Stock Exchanges.

Pursuant to applicable Indian laws, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and trading in the Equity Shares may commence. The Allotment of Equity Shares in this Issue and the credit of such Equity Shares to the applicant's demat account with depository participant could take approximately three Working Days from the Bid/ Issue Closing Date and trading in the Equity Shares upon receipt of final listing and trading approvals from the Stock Exchanges is expected to commence within three Working Days of the Bid/ Issue Closing Date. There could be a failure or delay in listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval or otherwise any delay in commencing trading in the Equity Shares would restrict investors' ability to dispose their Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that the Equity Shares will be credited to investors' demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the time periods specified in this risk factor. We could also be required to pay interest at the applicable rates if allotment is not made, refund orders are not dispatched or demat credits are not made to investors within the prescribed time periods.

79. QIBs and Non-Institutional Bidders are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid, and Retail Individual Bidders are not permitted to withdraw their Bids after Bid/Issue Closing Date.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Bidders are required to pay the Bid Amount on submission of the Bid and are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Retail Individual Bidders can revise their Bids during the Bid/Issue Period and withdraw their Bids until Bid/Issue Closing Date. While our Company is required to complete all necessary formalities for listing and commencement of trading of the Equity Shares on all Stock Exchanges where such Equity Shares are proposed to be listed including Allotment pursuant to the Issue within 03Working Days from the Bid/Issue Closing Date, events affecting the Bidders' decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including material adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operation, cash flows or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. Our Company may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events limit the Bidders' ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Issue or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing.

80. Fluctuations in the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and foreign currencies may have an adverse effect on the value of our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

On listing, our Equity Shares will be quoted in Indian Rupees on the NSE and BSE. Any dividends in respect of our Equity Shares will also be paid in Indian Rupees and subsequently converted into the relevant foreign currency for repatriation, if required. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time that it takes to undertake such conversion may reduce the net dividend to foreign investors. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating outside India the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares may reduce the proceeds received by Equity Shareholders. For example, the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and the U.S. dollar has fluctuated substantially in recent years and may continue to fluctuate substantially in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the trading price of our Equity Shares and returns on our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

81. There is no guarantee that our Equity Shares will be listed on BSE and NSE in a timely manner or at all.

In accordance with Indian law and practice, permission for listing and trading of our Equity Shares will not be granted until after certain actions have been completed in relation to this Issue and until Allotment of Equity Shares pursuant to this Issue.

In accordance with current regulations and circulars issued of SEBI, our Equity Shares are required to be listed on BSE and NSE within such time as mandated under UPI Circulars, subject to any change in the prescribed timeline in this regard. However, we cannot assure you that the trading in our Equity Shares will commence in a timely manner or at all. Any failure or delay in obtaining final listing and trading approvals may restrict your ability to dispose of your Equity Shares.

82. The requirements of being a listed company may strain our resources.

We are not a listed company and have historically not been subjected to the compliance requirements and increased scrutiny of our affairs by shareholders, regulators and the public at large associated with being a listed company. As a listed company, we will incur significant legal, accounting, corporate governance and other expenses that we did not incur as an unlisted company. We will be subject to the Listing Regulations which will require us to file audited annual and unaudited quarterly reports with respect to our business and financial condition. If we experience any delays, we may fail to satisfy our reporting obligations and/or we may not be able to readily determine and accordingly report any changes in our results of operations or cash flows as promptly as other listed companies.

Further, as a listed company, we will be required to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, including keeping adequate records of daily transactions. In order to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, significant resources and management attention will be required. As a result, our management's attention may be diverted from our business concerns, which may adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. In addition, we may need to hire additional legal and accounting staff with appropriate experience and technical accounting knowledge, but we cannot assure you that we will be able to do so in a timely and efficient manner.

83. Any future issuance of Equity Shares or convertible securities or other equity linked securities by our Company may dilute your shareholding and sales of the Equity Shares by our major shareholders may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Any future equity issuances by us, including a primary offering, may lead to the dilution of investors' shareholdings in us. Any disposal of Equity Shares by our major shareholders or the perception that such issuance or sales may occur, including to comply with the minimum public shareholding norms applicable to listed companies in India may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may lead to other adverse consequences including difficulty in raising capital through offering of the Equity Shares or incurring additional debt. There can be no assurance that we will not issue further Equity Shares or that the shareholders will not dispose of the Equity Shares. Any future issuances could also dilute the value of your investment in the Equity Shares. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur may also affect the market price of the Equity Shares.

84. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian laws that may limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may have a material adverse impact on the market price of the Equity Shares.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfers of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. For further details, see "Restrictions on Foreign Ownership of Indian Securities" page 486. If the transfer of shares is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or falls under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection or a tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. Further, in accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020, issued by the DPIIT, Government of India, investments where the beneficial owner of the Equity Shares is situated in or is a citizen of a country which shares land border with India, can only be made through the Government approval route, as prescribed in FDI Policy. These investment restrictions shall also apply to subscribers of offshore derivative instruments. We cannot assure you that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

85. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares and dividends paid on the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares held as investments in an Indian company and dividends paid on equity shares by an Indian Company are generally taxable in India. A securities transaction tax ("STT") is levied on equity shares sold on an Indian stock exchange. You may be subject to payment of long-term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of STT, on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold. Furthermore, any capital gain realized on the sale of our Equity Shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short-term capital gains tax in India. While non-residents may claim tax treaty benefits in relation to such capital gains income, generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India's right to impose tax on capital gains arising from the sale of shares of an Indian company. While non-residents may claim tax treaty benefits in relation to such capital gains income, generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India's right to impose tax on capital gains arising from the sale of shares of an Indian company.

Taxes payable by an assessee on the capital gains arising from transfer of long-term capital assets on or after July 23, 2024, shall be calculated at the rate of 12.5% on such long-term capital gains, where the long-term capital gains exceed ₹ 125,000 (this exemption shall be available only where the shares are sold on a Stock Exchange), subject to certain exceptions in case of resident individuals and Hindu Undivided Families. Furthermore, the short-term capital gains on transfer of listed shares shall be taxed at 20% where the shares are sold on Stock Exchange and at applicable rates if otherwise (30% in case of foreign institutional investors).

Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will not be chargeable to tax in India in cases where relief from such taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident read with the Multilateral Instrument, if and to the extent applicable, and the seller is entitled to avail benefits thereunder. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India's ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain realised upon the sale of the Equity Shares.

The stamp duty for transfer of certain securities, other than debentures, on a delivery basis is currently specified at 0.015% and on a non-delivery basis is specified at 0.003% of the consideration amount.

Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors and to carefully consider the potential tax consequences of owning, investing or trading in our Equity Shares. Any dividends paid by an Indian company will be subject to tax in the hands of the shareholders at applicable rates. Such taxes will be withheld by the Indian company paying dividends. We may or may not grant the benefit of a tax treaty (where applicable) to a non-resident shareholder for the purposes of deducting tax at source pursuant to any corporate action including dividends. Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors and to carefully consider the potential tax consequences of owning Equity Shares. Unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new, laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment and stamp duty laws governing our business and operations could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approvals.

86. Subsequent to the listing of the Equity Shares, we may be subject to pre-emptive surveillance measures, such as the Additional Surveillance Measures and the Graded Surveillance Measures by the Stock Exchanges in order to enhance the integrity of the market and safeguard the interest of investors.

Subsequent to the listing of the Equity Shares, we may be subject to Additional Surveillance Measures ("ASM") and Graded Surveillance Measures ("GSM") by the Stock Exchanges. These measures are in place to enhance the integrity of the market and safeguard the interest of investors. The criteria for shortlisting any security trading on the Stock Exchanges for ASM is based on objective criteria, which includes market based parameters such as high low price variation, concentration of client accounts, close to close price variation, market capitalization, average daily trading volume and its change, and average delivery percentage, among others. Securities are subject to GSM when its price is not commensurate with the financial health and fundamentals of the issuer. Specific parameters for GSM include net worth, net fixed assets, price to earnings ratio, market capitalization and price to book value, among others. Factors within and beyond our control may lead to our securities being subject to GSM or ASM. In the event our Equity Shares are subject to such surveillance measures implemented by any of the Stock Exchanges, we may be subject to certain additional restrictions in connection with trading of our Equity Shares such as limiting trading frequency (for example, trading either allowed once in a week or a month) or freezing of price on upper side of trading which may have an adverse effect on the market price of our Equity Shares or may in general cause disruptions in the development of an active trading market for our Equity Shares.

External Risk Factors

87. The impact of the Russian invasion of Ukraine, the Israel-Hamas war and the Iran-Israel conflict on the global economy, energy supplies and raw materials is uncertain, but may prove to negatively impact our business and operations.

The short and long-term implications of Russia's invasion of Ukraine, the Israel-Hamas war and the Iran-Israel conflict are difficult to predict at this time. As on the date of this Prospectus, while the ongoing conflicts in West Asia have resulted in certain disruptions to the import and export of goods, including logistical and supply chain challenges, we have not experienced any material interruption in our business operations. Further, the disruptions in imports have led to increased domestic demand for our products, resulting in higher domestic supplies, which has partially offset the impact of such disruptions. Accordingly, the overall impact of these conflicts on our business operations has not been material. We continue to monitor any adverse impact that the outbreak of war in Ukraine, the subsequent institution of sanctions against Russia by the United States and several European and Asian countries, and the Israel-Hamas war or the Iran-Israel conflict may have on the global economy in general, on our business and operations and on the businesses and operations of our lenders and other third parties with which we conduct business.

To the extent the wars in Ukraine or Israel or the conflict between Iran and Israel may adversely affect our business as discussed above, it may also have the effect of heightening many of the other risks described herein. Such risks include, but are not limited to, adverse effects on macroeconomic conditions, including inflation; disruptions to our global technology infrastructure, including through cyberattack, ransom attack, or cyber-intrusion; adverse changes in international trade policies and relations; disruptions in global supply chains; significant volatility in commodity prices and supply of energy resources; political and social instability; changes in consumer or purchaser preferences and constraints; volatility, or disruption in the capital markets, any of which could negatively affect our business and financial condition.

88. Political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

The Indian economy and capital markets are influenced by economic, political and market conditions in India and globally. We are incorporated in and currently functioning only in India and, as a result, are dependent on prevailing economic conditions in India. Our results of operations are significantly affected by factors influencing the Indian economy. Factors that may adversely affect the Indian economy, and hence our results of operations, may include:

- the macroeconomic climate, including any increase in Indian interest rates or inflation;
- any exchange rate fluctuations, the imposition of currency controls and restrictions on the right to convert or repatriate currency or export assets;
- any scarcity of credit or other financing in India, resulting in an adverse effect on economic conditions in India and scarcity of financing for our expansions;
- volatility in, and actual or perceived trends in trading activity on, India's principal stock exchanges;
- changes in India's tax, trade, fiscal or monetary policies;
- political instability, terrorism or military conflict in India or in countries in the region or globally, including in India's various neighbouring countries;
- occurrence of natural or man-made disasters (such as hurricanes, typhoons, floods, earthquakes, tsunamis and fires) which may cause us to suspend our operations;
- civil unrest, acts of violence, terrorist attacks, regional conflicts or situations or war may adversely affect the Indian markets as well as result in a loss of business confidence in Indian companies;
- epidemics, pandemics or any other public health concerns in India or in countries in the region or globally, including in India's various neighbouring countries, such as the highly pathogenic H7N9, H5N1 and H1N1 strains of influenza in birds and swine and more recently, the COVID-19 pandemic;
- any downgrading of India's debt rating by a domestic or international rating agency;
- international business practices that may conflict with other customs or legal requirements to which we are subject, including anti-bribery and anti-corruption laws;
- protectionist and other adverse public policies, including local content requirements, import/export tariffs, increased regulations or capital investment requirements; and
- being subject to the jurisdiction of foreign courts, including uncertainty of judicial processes and difficulty enforcing contractual agreements or judgments in foreign legal systems or incurring additional costs to do so.

While our results of operations may not necessarily track India's economic growth figures, the Indian economy's performance nonetheless affects the environment in which we operate. Any slowdown or perceived slowdown in the Indian economy, or in specific sectors of the Indian economy, could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations, and the price of the Equity Shares.

89. Changing laws, rules and regulations in India and legal uncertainties including any adverse application of corporate and tax laws, may adversely affect our business, cash flows, prospects and results of operations.

The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and is subject to change. The Government of India ("GoI") may implement new laws or other regulations and policies that could affect hyperlocal commerce in general, which could lead to new compliance requirements, including requiring us to obtain approvals and licences from the government and other regulatory bodies, or impose onerous requirements. New compliance requirements could increase our costs or otherwise adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Furthermore, the manner in which new requirements will be enforced or interpreted can lead to uncertainty in our operations and could adversely affect our operations. Any changes to such laws, including the instances mentioned below, may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

For example, the Government of India has introduced Labour Codes which consolidate, subsume, amend and replace numerous existing central labour legislations. These Labour Codes are yet to be notified by the GoI. Similarly, the Government of State of Rajasthan passed the Platform Based Gig Workers (Registration and Welfare) Act, which regulates the engagement of gig workers and aims to provide social security and other benefits to platform-based gig workers through rules which are yet to be notified. Furthermore, Parliament passed the DPDP Act to replace the existing data protection provision, as contained in Section 43A of the IT Act. The implementation of such laws can increase our employee and labour costs and data security and compliance related costs thereby adversely impacting our results of operations, cash flows, business, and financial performance. Furthermore, as we continue to grow, we will collect, store and process the personal data of more individuals. The more personal data we hold, the greater the likelihood that a significant failure in our internal controls or data security measures could result in a data breach affecting more individuals, which could expose us to greater potential liability through fines and compensation claims, significant reputational harm and a loss of trust that could deter users from using our platform. Unfavourable changes in the applicability, implementation, or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment laws governing our business and operations could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approvals. For example, our business operations are subject to Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Rules, 2019 and Consolidated Foreign Direct Investment Policy of 2020 ("FEMA Laws") relating to e-commerce marketplaces that are constantly evolving. Furthermore, the RBI or the GoI may add to or modify the FEMA Laws applicable to the ecommerce marketplace businesses as they have done in the past from time to time. We may incur increased costs and other burdens relating to compliance with new requirements under any laws applicable to us, which may also require significant management time and other resources, and any failure to comply may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and prospects. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy in the jurisdictions in which we operate, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current business or restrict our ability to grow our business in the future. Additionally, if we are affected, directly or indirectly, by the application or interpretation of any provision of such laws and regulations or any related proceedings or are required to bear any costs to comply with such provisions or to defend such proceedings, our business and financial performance may be adversely affected.

90. Any downgrading of India's debt rating by an international rating agency could have a negative effect on our business and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

India's sovereign debt rating could be downgraded due to several factors, including changes in tax or fiscal policy or a decline in India's foreign exchange reserves, all which are beyond our control. Our borrowing costs and our access to the debt capital markets depend significantly on the sovereign credit ratings of India. Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and overseas debt by international rating agencies may adversely affect our ability to raise additional external financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have an adverse effect on our business and future financial performance, our ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

91. Under Indian law, foreign investors are subject to investment restrictions that limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

As an Indian company, we are subject to exchange controls that regulate borrowing in foreign currencies, including those specified under FEMA and the rules thereunder. Under foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, the transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to compliance with sectoral norms and certain other restrictions), if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or falls under any of the exceptions referred to above, then a prior regulatory approval will be required. Further, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The RBI and the concerned ministries/departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India require a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities.

In addition, pursuant to the Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020, issued by the DPIIT, which has been incorporated as the proviso to Rule 6(a) of the FEMA Rules, investments where the beneficial owner of the equity shares is situated in or is a citizen of a country which shares a land border with India, can only be made through the Government approval route, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy dated October 15, 2020 and the FEMA Rules. We cannot assure you that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained on any particular terms or conditions, or at all, or that we will be able to continue to comply with all the conditions prescribed under the FEMA Rules.

92. Investors may have difficulty in enforcing foreign judgments against our Company or our management.

Our Company is incorporated under the laws of India and most of our Directors and key managerial personnel reside in India. Further, certain of our assets, and the assets of our key managerial personnel and Directors, may be located in India. As a result, it may be difficult to effect service of process outside India upon us and our executive officers and Directors or to enforce judgments obtained in courts outside India against us or our key managerial personnel and Directors, including judgments predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the securities laws of jurisdictions outside India. India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with only a limited number of jurisdictions, which includes the United Kingdom, United Arab Emirates, Singapore and Hong Kong. In order to be enforceable, a judgment from a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 ("Civil Code"). The Civil Code only permits the enforcement of monetary decrees, not being in the nature of any amounts payable in respect of taxes, other charges, fines or penalties. Judgments or decrees from jurisdictions which do not have reciprocal recognition with India cannot be enforced by proceedings in execution in India. Therefore, a final judgment for the payment of money rendered by any court in a non-reciprocating territory for civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon the general laws of the non-reciprocating territory, would not be enforceable in India. Even if an investor obtained a judgment in such a jurisdiction against us, our officers or directors, it may be required to institute a new proceeding in India and obtain a decree from an Indian court. However, the party in whose favour such final judgment is rendered may bring a fresh suit in a competent court in India based on a final judgment that has been obtained in a non-reciprocating territory within three years of obtaining such final judgment. Further, there are considerable delays in the disposal of suits by Indian courts. It is unlikely that an Indian court would award damages on the same basis or to the same extent as was awarded in a final judgment rendered by a court in another jurisdiction if the Indian court believed that the amount of damages awarded was excessive or inconsistent with public policy in India. In addition, any person seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain prior approval of the RBI to repatriate any amount recovered pursuant to the execution of the judgment.

In the event of any increase in the actual utilization of funds earmarked and allocated for the purposes set forth above, such additional funds for that particular activity will be met by way of means available to us, including from internal accruals and any additional equity and/or debt arrangements. Further, if the actual utilisation towards any of the Objects, as set out above, is lower than the proposed deployment, such balance will be used towards general corporate purposes, provided that the total amount to be utilised towards general corporate purposes will not exceed 25% of the Gross Proceeds, in accordance with the Regulation 7(2) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations. In case of a shortfall in raising requisite capital from the Net Proceeds towards meeting the Objects, we may explore a range of options including utilizing our internal accruals, any additional equity or debt arrangements or both. We believe that such alternate arrangements would be available with our Company to fund any such shortfalls. For further details, please see section titled "Risk Factors– Risk Factor 4 - Our proposed capacity expansion plans are subject to the risk of unanticipated delays in implementation and cost overruns" on page 29.

The above-stated fund requirements, deployment of the funds and the intended use of the Net Proceeds as described in this section are based on current business plan, management estimates, market conditions, other external commercial and technical factors, and also based on quotations obtained from certain vendors, which are subject to change in the future. However, such fund requirements and deployment of funds have not been appraised by any bank, financial institution or any other independent agency. Our Company's historical capital and operational expenditure may not be reflective of our future capital expenditure plans. We may have to revise our funding requirements and deployment on account of a variety of factors such as our financial and market condition, revision in quotations at the time of actual expenditure, our business and growth strategies, competitive landscape, general factors affecting our results of operations, financial condition and access to capital and other external factors such as changes in the business environment or regulatory climate and interest or exchange rate fluctuations, which may not be within the control of our management. This may entail rescheduling the proposed utilisation of the Net Proceeds and changing the allocation of funds from its planned allocation at the discretion of our management, subject to compliance with applicable law. See "Risk Factors – Risk Factor 31 - Any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds shall be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior approval of the shareholders of our Company" on page 50.

Note: As confirmed by Statutory Auditor, by way of its report dated September 24, 2026.

Key justification for holding levels:

The working capital projections made by our Company are based on certain key assumptions, as set out below:

Inventory	Our inventory holding period has fluctuated within a narrow range over the last three fiscals due to factors such as changes in customer demand patterns, raw material procurement cycles, and strategic stocking decisions aligned with production planning. The inventory days reduced to 65 days in Fiscal 2025, compared to 78 days in Fiscal 2024 due to enhanced inventory management and operational efficiency measures. We improved demand forecasting, synchronized production planning more closely with customer schedules, and optimized our procurement cycles. In Fiscal 2026, the inventory days marginally increased to 66 days, compared to 65 days in Fiscal 2025. For the three-month period ended June 30, 2026, inventory days stood at 62 days on an annualized basis. Going forward, we expect the inventory holding period to be in the range of 63 days in Fiscal 2027 and 65 days in Fiscal 2028. This trend aligns with our order pipeline and raw material sourcing dynamics. Also, maintaining this level of inventory supports our ability to meet tight delivery schedules and manage supply chain risks.
Trade Receivables	Our trade receivables days have been fairly constant in the range of 76 to 77 days i.e. 77 days in Fiscal 2024, 76 days in Fiscal 2025 and 76 days in Fiscal 2026. For the three-month period ended June 30, 2026, trade receivable days stood at 72 days on an annualized basis. Going forward also, we expect our trade receivables days to be in the same range i.e. 73 days in Fiscal 2027 and 77 days in Fiscal 2028. The payment terms for some of our customers of wire and cables extended to 60-90 days and for some customers even beyond the 90 days as per the industry trend. These extended credit periods were strategically offered to key customers to foster long-term business relationships and strengthen our market positioning. Further, we introduced a new product line – pipe coating, which is used for coating oil, gas, and water distribution pipelines. As part of our market development strategy, we onboarded new customers for this product line. Given the stable trend and nature of our business operations, we anticipate the trade receivable days to remain in the range of 73 to 77 days in line with the past trend. This level reflects the standard industry practices and is aligned with our customer profile, sales cycle, and payment terms.
Other Financial and Current Assets	Our other financial and current assets were ₹1,916.02 lakhs in Fiscal 2024, ₹2,727.65 lakhs in Fiscal 2025, ₹ 2,958.64 lakhs in Fiscal 2026, ₹2,981.98 lakhs for the three-month period ended June 30, 2026, and we expect our other financial and current assets to be ₹4,000 lakhs in Fiscal 2027 and ₹ 6,113 lakhs in Fiscal 2028. These are attributable primarily to an increase in discount receivables and increase in advances paid to suppliers for meeting the commitments under MOU during the Fiscal. Given the volatility in polymer prices and the need to secure critical raw materials in a timely manner, we often enter into MOU with suppliers for lifting heavy quantity of material which entitles us for increased discount on achievement of purchase under the MOU. These arrangements help us to mitigate supply chain risks and lock in more favourable terms. We anticipate our other financial and current assets will continue to remain at levels proportionate to our business operations.
Trade Payables	Our trade payables days have been in the range of 33 days to 50 days i.e. 34 days in Fiscal 2024, 33 days in Fiscal 2025 and 50 days in Fiscal 2026. For the three-month period ended June 30, 2026, trade payable days stood at 73 days on an annualized basis. Going forward also, we expect our trade payable days to be in the same range i.e. 55 days in Fiscal 2027 and 55 days in Fiscal 2028. This consistent trend reflects our approach to managing supplier payments and our relationships with vendors. As a manufacturing company engaged in the production of polymer compounds, we have to rely on timely and uninterrupted procurement of various grades of polymers, additives, and chemicals. Given the volatility in raw material prices and the importance of maintaining a reliable supply chain, we have prioritized timely payments to suppliers to ensure material availability and to build up long-term, trust-based partnerships. Going forward, we intend to maintain trade payables at similar levels, balancing working capital efficiency with the goal of availing the continuous supply of raw material and securing favourable purchase terms. We believe that continuing prompt payments will enhance our bargaining position, improve supply chain reliability, and contribute positively to our overall cost competitiveness and profitability.

Other Financial, Current, Lease Liabilities and Provisions	Our other financial, current, lease liabilities and provisions were ₹597.93 lakhs in Fiscal 2024, ₹841.01 lakhs in Fiscal 2025, ₹ 869.72 lakhs in Fiscal 2026, ₹1,001.80 lakhs for the three-month period ended June 30, 2026, and we expect this trend to continue to be ₹1,310 lakhs in Fiscal 2027 and ₹ 1,334 lakhs in Fiscal 2028. The primary drivers behind this increase are a slight rise in interest accrued on borrowings, increased provisions for income tax, reflecting improved profitability and higher advances received from customers for confirmed orders. Our company anticipates that these liabilities will remain at levels proportionate to its business operations.

Note: As confirmed by Statutory Auditor by way of its report dated September 24, 2026.

Qualitative Factors

Some of the qualitative factors which formed the basis for computing the Issue Price are as follows:

1. Enlisted with prominent government agencies with pre-approved product portfolio
   We are engaged in the manufacturing of multiple grades of polymer compounds, serving a wide range of critical industries including telecommunications, power, railways, water supply, and oil and gas distribution. Polymer compounds are used as an essential raw material for sheathing, jacketing and insulation of wires and cables used in power, telecommunication and railway industries as well as coating of underground oil, gas and water pipelines, in order to provide a protective infrastructure from corrosion and external environmental factors. (Source: CRISIL Report) Our products play a vital role in high-performance applications across critical industries, including oil, gas, and water, among others. The polymer compounding industry presents a series of formidable barriers for new players. Consequently, entry into the polymer compound industry requires a measured approach, significant resources, and deep expertise to successfully overcome these multifaceted obstacles. In industries such as power transmission, telecommunications, and coatings, polymer compounders must have their products, manufacturing processes, and standard operating procedures rigorously tested and approved by regulatory bodies or public sector enterprises. (Source: CRISIL Report) Accordingly, in order to supply our products to these sectors, it is mandatory to obtain enlistment with relevant government agencies. This process involves subjecting our products, manufacturing processes, and standard operating procedures to stringent testing and evaluation parameters, following which approval is granted for their specific applications. Accordingly, we have enlisted our products with a Maharatna CPSE power transmission company, a Navratna CPSE engineering consultancy company, a Miniratna CPSE telecommunication company and Government of Gujarat. We believe that enlistment with such agencies affirms our technical competence to supply products across a wide range of projects and industries. It also serves as a significant barrier to entry for new participants in the polymer compound industry. Notwithstanding these entry barriers, we possess longstanding experience in supplying polymer compounds to our marquee customers operating across diverse sectors.

2. Diversified industry applications and differentiated product portfolio
   Our business model is diversified by a mix of products, end use industries and customer base. As on date of this Prospectus, our Company manufactures 6 products in 127 grades across our product segments. The bouquet of products offered by us serve various end-user industries including but not limited to railways, telecommunication, among others.

3. Long-standing relationships with our customers
   We have, through our 3 decades of business operations, established long-standing relationships with several customers engaged in various industries. We have a diversified customer base and we have served 190 customers in Fiscal 2026. Our Company has established a direct relationship with our customers, which has helped us build a long-standing relationship directly with our customers along with lowering of costs and improvement in our returns. In the last three Fiscals, we catered to more than 325 customers, of which around 90.84% number of customers were repeat customers, year on year basis. Such long-term association with key customers also offers significant competitive advantages such as revenue visibility, industry goodwill and enables us to demonstrate our quality. While, we prefer to market and sell our products directly to our customers in the domestic market, however in order to further expand our export operations, we have recently entered into a service agreement with a marketing and distribution company in UAE for obtaining advisory and support services for selling certain of our products in Egypt, United Arab Emirates, Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman and Qatar. We also secure orders in respect to our products on a tender basis. In case of tenders, we make competitive bids and based our performance history, our bids and capability to deliver committed quantities, we are awarded with the orders.

4. PAN-India market presence
We are a manufacturer of various grades of polymer compounds primarily used in manufacturing of wire and cables and coating of industrial pipes. We primarily derive majority of our revenue from our domestic operations and as of June 30, 2026, 94.68% of our revenue from operations was generated from the domestic operations undertaken by our Company. In the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and last 3 fiscals, we sold our products in 23 states/union territories.

5. Integrated quality control infrastructure

1. Special tax benefits available to the Company under ITA and IDT:

Direct

The following benefits are available to the Company after fulfilling conditions as per the applicable provisions of ITA:

Section 200 grants an option to all domestic companies to compute corporate tax at a reduced rate of 25.168% (22% plus surcharge of 10% and cess of 4%). Companies opting for the concessional tax regime under Sections 200/201, will no longer be eligible to avail specified exemptions / incentives/deductions except deduction under section 146 and 148 of ITA and will also need to comply with the other conditions specified in section 200 of ITA. Further, it shall not be allowed to claim set-off of any brought forward loss arising to it on account of additional depreciation and other specified incentives. The option needs to be exercised on or before the due date of filing the income-tax return for a specific tax year. Option once exercised, cannot be subsequently withdrawn for the same or any other tax year. In case a company opts for section 200/201 of ITA, provisions of Minimum Alternate Tax ('MAT') under section 206 of ITA would not be applicable and MAT credit of the earlier year(s) will not be available for set-off. The Company has opted for the concessional tax regime u/s 200 of ITA, therefore, the MAT provisions shall not be applicable.

Note: The Company has opted the lower tax rate as per section 115BAA of the repealed ITA from FY 2024-2025 and onwards, and has filed form 10IC on 25th September, 2025 which was a pre-requisite for availing the concessional tax rates under section 115BAA of the Income Tax Act, 1961.

(ii) Deduction under section 146 of ITA

Subject to fulfilment of prescribed conditions, the Company is entitled to claim deduction under section 146 of ITA, of an amount equal to 30% of additional employee cost (pertaining to specified category of employees) incurred in the course of business in the tax year, for 3 consecutive tax years beginning from the tax year in which the employment is provided. Said deduction shall be available subject to satisfaction of specified conditions.

(iii) Deduction under section 148 of ITA

Pursuant to the provisions of section 148 of ITA, dividend received by the company from any other domestic company or a foreign company or a business trust, a deduction of an amount equal to so much of the amount of income by way of dividends received from such other domestic company or foreign company or business trust as does not exceed the amount of dividend distributed by the company at least one month prior to due date of furnishing the income-tax return under Section 263(1) of the ITA for the relevant tax year, is available as deduction.

(iv) Deduction in respect of certain preliminary expenses – Section 44 of the ITA

In accordance with and subject to the fulfilment of conditions as laid out under section 44 of the ITA, the company may be entitled to amortize preliminary expenditure, being specified expenditure incurred in connection with the issue for public subscription of shares or debentures or such other expenditure as prescribed under section 44 of the ITA, subject to the limit specified therein (viz maximum 5% of the cost of the project or 5% of the capital employed in the business of the company).

The deduction is allowable for an amount equal to one-fifth of such expenditure for each of five tax years beginning with the tax year in which the business commences or as the case may be, the tax year in which the extension of the undertaking is completed, or the new unit commences production or operation.

In order to claim deduction under section 44 of the ITA, the Company shall be required to furnish a statement in Form 5 containing the particulars of specified expenditure under section 44(2)(a) of the ITA to income tax authority prior to one month before the due date of filing income tax return as per section 263(1) of the ITA.

Note: The Company has not claimed any deduction u/s 35D of the repealed ITA for the financial year 2024-25.

(v) Set off and carry forward of Unabsorbed Depreciation under section 33(11) of the ITA

As per the provisions of section 33(11) of the ITA, where a company does not have sufficient business profits to cover the depreciation allowance for that year, the unabsorbed depreciation shall be carried forward to subsequent tax years for an indefinite period until it is fully absorbed and set off against future profits of subsequent tax years subject to the provisions of section 112(3) and 113(4) of the ITA.

Note: The Company does not have any unabsorbed depreciation u/s 32(2) of the repealed ITA as per Income tax return filed for the financial year 2024-25.

(vi) Set off & carry forward of business loss under section 112 of the ITA

As per the provisions of section 112 of the ITA, if the Company has incurred loss under the head "Profits and gains of business or profession" excluding unabsorbed depreciation stated above, and such loss has not been set-off against income under any other head of income as per section 109 of the ITA, then such loss shall be carried forward to set-off against the business income in the following eight tax years immediately succeeding the tax year for which the loss was first computed.

Note: The Company has not carried forward any business loss u/s 72 of the repealed ITA as per Income tax return of financial year 2024-25 filed in accordance with the provisions of the repealed ITA.

Also, gains arising from sale of units of Specified Mutual Funds or Market Linked debentures acquired on or after the 1 April 2023 are always considered as short-term irrespective of the period of holding in accordance with section 76 of the ITA.

Further, STCG arising from the transfer of short-term capital assets (other than listed equity shares, unit of an equity-oriented fund or unit of a business trust covered under section 196 of the ITA), shall be taxed at the normal tax rate of the Company. Further, the STCG on the sale of listed equity shares, unit of an equity oriented fund or unit of a business trust covered under section 196 of the ITA shall be taxed at the rate of 20%.

Note: The company has not earned any income from capital gains during the financial year 2024-25 as per the repealed ITA.

(viii) Set-off & carry forward of losses under the head capital gains

As per the provisions of section 108 of the ITA, if the company has incurred losses under the head capital gains in relation to a short-term capital asset, it can be set off against the taxable income in respect of any other capital asset (short – term or long-term) that year. If the loss has been incurred in relation to a long-term capital asset, it can be set-off only against the taxable income in respect of any other long term capital asset for that year.

However, if the losses are not wholly set-off within the same tax year, it shall be carried forward to set-off against the income in the following eight tax years immediately succeeding the tax year for which the loss was first computed as per section 111 of the ITA. If the loss carried forward relates to short-term capital asset, it shall be set-off either against the taxable income from any other long term capital asset or any other short term capital asset. However, if the loss carried forward relates to long-term capital asset, it shall be set-off only against the taxable income from any other long term capital asset.

Note: The Company has not carried forward any losses under the head capital gains as per section 74 of the repealed ITA as per Income tax return filed for the financial year 2024-25.

Indirect Taxation

The following benefits are available to the Company after fulfilling conditions as per the applicable provisions of IDT:

(i) Import of capital goods without payment of customs duty under Export Promotion Capital Goods Scheme ("EPCG Scheme")

EPCG Scheme allows import of capital goods for pre-production, production and post-production at zero customs duty (i.e. exemption from basic customs duty, additional customs duty along with Integrated Goods and Services Tax ("IGST") and compensation cess). EPCG Scheme covers manufacturer exporters with or without supporting manufacturer(s), merchant exporters tied to supporting manufacturer(s) and service providers. As per provisions contained under Chapter 5 of Foreign Trade Policy 2023 ("FTP") and Handbook of Procedures 2023 read with Notification No. 26/2023 – Customs dated 01 April 2023, the imports under EPCG Scheme are subject to an Export Obligation ("EO") equivalent to six times of duties, taxes and cess saved on capital goods which is required to be fulfilled within six years reckoned from date of issue of license. Further, the license is valid for undertaking import of goods for 24 months from the date of issue of license. The Company has obtained EPCG authorization (license) from Directorate General of Foreign trade ("DGFT") towards availing the benefit of duty-free import of capital goods and has recognised the export obligation against such EPCG license in its books of accounts.

(ii) Concession/exemption on customs duty on import of certain products under Notification 50/2017 dated 30th June 2017

The Customs Act, 1962, provides power to the Central Government to exempt duty of customs leviable on goods and from so much of integrated tax leviable thereon under sub-section (7) of section 3 of said Customs Tariff Act, read with 151 section 5 of the IGST Act as is in excess of the amount calculated at the rate specified in the corresponding entry in column (4) towards customs leviable under the first schedule and in column (5) towards Integrated tax leviable thereon under sub-section (7) of section 3 of said Customs Tariff Act described under in the Notification 50/2017 – Customs dated 30 June 2017 read with Customs (Import of Goods at Concessional Rate of Duty) Rules, 2017 and Notification No. 11/2021-Customs as amended from time to time.

(iii) Benefits under the Central Goods and Services Act, 2017, respective State Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017, Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017.

Export of goods or/ and services under the Goods and Services Tax ('GST') law. GST law inter-alia allows export of goods or / and services at zero rate on fulfilment of certain conditions. Exporters can export under Bond / Letter of Undertaking (LUT) without payment of IGST and claim refund of accumulated Input tax credit ('ITC'), if any. There is also an alternative available to export with payment of IGST and subsequently claim rebate (refund thereof) as per the provisions of Section 54 of Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017. The Finance Bill 2021 however has inserted suitable provisions stating that the said benefit of exporters to pay IGST on exports and subsequently claiming rebate thereof would be available only to notified persons, though the relevant notification in this regard is awaited.

(iv) Benefits under The Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act, 1992 (read with Foreign Trade Policy 2015-20) Remission of Duties and Taxes on Exported Products (RoDTEP) Scheme.

The Remission of Duties and Taxes on Exported Products (RoDTEP) scheme was announced by Government of India (GOI) on 14th September 2019 to boost exports. The objective of scheme is to refund, currently unrefunded duties/taxes/levies at the Central, State and Local level, borne on the exported product including prior stage cumulative indirect taxes on goods and services used in production of the exported product; and such indirect duties/taxes/levies in respect of distribution of exported products. As per section 75, Central Government is empowered to allow duty drawback on export of goods, where the imported materials are used in the manufacture of such exported goods. Section 214 of the ITA provides a special concessional tax regime for Non-Resident Indians (NRIs) who invest in specified assets. It offers a flat 20% tax on income earned from such investments (like interest or dividends) and 12.5% tax on long-term capital gains.

Further, any income by way of capital gains or dividends accruing to non-residents, may be subject to withholding tax as per the provisions of the ITA or under the relevant DTAA, whichever is beneficial. Global Macroeconomic Overview

Global GDP

Following the COVID-19 pandemic induced 2.7% contraction in global GDP in 2020 - which led to a sharp slowdown in industrial activity, private consumption, and exports - the world economy grew by a robust 6.6% in 2021. The adoption of an accommodative monetary policy by major world economies and the injection of fiscal stimulus measures drove resurgence in consumer spending and business sentiment in 2021. During the year, emerging economies grew by 7.0%, while their developed counterparts grew by 6.0%. There were, however, also restraints emanating from the Omicron coronavirus variant, China's strict zero-Covid policy, and elevated budgetary deficits in 2021.

Developing economies experienced a varied but significant recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic, driven largely by the revival of grassroots consumption and the transportation sector. Despite income declines reported from late 2021 through 2022, grassroots consumption helped revive local economies by maintaining demand for goods and services essential to everyday life. Community-driven responses such as mutual aid initiatives, relief distribution, and urban gardening further supported this recovery by addressing immediate hardships and fostering social cohesion, thereby sustaining consumption even under challenging conditions. Government interventions and policy measures that provided direct support to households also contributed to a faster-than-expected stabilization of consumption patterns from mid-to-late 2021 onward, although the pace of recovery varied across regions depending on local economic and income trends.

Global economic growth fell to 3.6% in 2022, with emerging economies such as India, Vietnam, Indonesia, and Brazil driving momentum. Emerging market and developing economies grew by 4.1%, while advanced economies posted 2.9% GDP growth during the year. The Russia-Ukraine war led to a sharp growth pullback in 2022. High food and fuel prices, insecurity within the global energy markets, shortage of essential food products, and China's zero COVID-19 policy impacted global trade and economic growth in 2022.

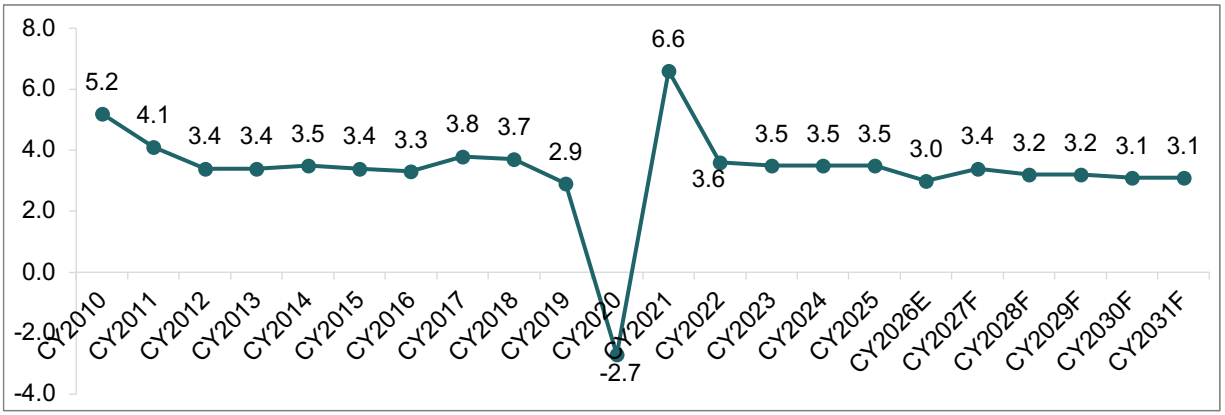

Global growth remained subdued in 2023, as elevated inflationary pressures and the resultant synchronised rate hikes by major central banks weighed on economic activity. Emerging and advanced countries are estimated to have grown by 4.7% and 1.7%, respectively, in 2023. High costs of raw materials and restrained labour market conditions within advanced economies weighed on growth in manufacturing-oriented nations such as Germany, while services-reliant countries such as France and Spain grew at a slightly stronger pace during the year. A subdued global economic climate also dampened export potential, with weaker-than-expected Chinese economic recovery causing spillover effects within the country's trading partners. Moreover, the onset of the Israel-Hamas war in Q4 2023 led to increased energy market volatility as well as raised concerns of a regional conflict spillover.

The global economy grew by 3.3% in 2024, as weakness continues to prevail in advanced economies such as the UK, Japan, and the Eurozone. While gradually easing price pressures, coupled with a normalization of monetary policy during H2 2024 provided some respite, mounting geopolitical tensions and sluggish trade flows caused some short-term setbacks.

Global real GDP growth stood at 3.4% in 2025, reflecting the completion of the post-pandemic normalization phase and signalling that the global economy has transitioned into a structurally moderate growth environment rather than a renewed expansion cycle. According to International Monetary Fund, global growth is projected to moderate to 3.0% in 2026 and remain broadly stable at around 3.1–3.2% through 2030. While inflation has eased considerably across most major economies and monetary tightening is gradually nearing its end, elevated real interest rates, weak productivity growth, ageing demographics in advanced economies, and high sovereign debt burdens continue to constrain investment, capital formation, and private consumption. Consequently, the medium-term outlook points towards a resilient but structurally lower-growth global economy compared with pre-pandemic trends.

United States: The table shows the US economy as the most stable large, advanced economy over the period, oscillating in a relatively narrow band from 2.7% in 2010 down to a pandemic contraction of -2.2% in 2020, followed by steady growth generally between 1.8% and 3.0% through the outlook years, settling near 1.8–2.3% from 2027 onward. This stability is echoed in the IMF's July 2026 WEO Update, which kept its 2026 growth forecast for the United States steady at 2.3%, one of the few major economies where the Fund made no downward revision despite global headwinds from the Middle East conflict. Earlier in 2026, IMF had also flagged that US growth was being supported by fiscal policy, a lower policy rate, and gradually waning trade-barrier effects, alongside robust AI-related investment. The consistency of the US trajectory relative to more volatile peers like the euro area and Japan reflects deeper structural advantages, technology-sector leadership, and relative energy self-sufficiency that continue to insulate it from external shocks even as global growth moderates.

European Union: The European Union's growth in the table has been the most volatile among advanced economies: a -0.7% contraction in 2012 (euro debt crisis), a sharp -5.5% collapse in 2020, a 6.4% rebound in 2021, and then a persistently sluggish 0.6–2.3% range through the forecast horizon, the weakest sustained pace of any major economy. The euro area's underlying weakness is structural as much as cyclical: manufacturing output has struggled with limited signs of recovery, weighed down by competitiveness challenges and soft external demand, even as resilient services activity and stronger household consumption provide some offsetting support. With interest-rate cutting cycles largely concluded and fiscal policy expected to turn more expansionary only gradually as defence spending rises to meet NATO commitments, the euro area's growth story remains one of cautious stabilization rather than robust expansion.

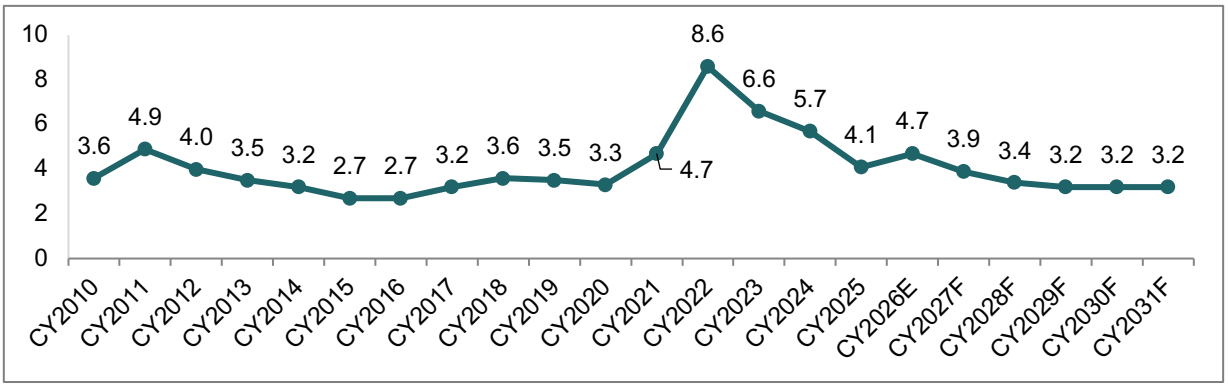

China: China's growth path illustrates a clear structural deceleration: from a robust 10.6% in 2010, growth has steadily declined through the 6–7% range in the mid-2010s to the 4–5% band that now characterizes both recent outturns and forecasts through 2031. IMF's most recent assessment noted China's economy expanded 5% in 2025, meeting Beijing's official target, and kept its 2026 growth forecast at 4.5%, while flagging a deeper-than-expected downturn in the property sector as the primary domestic risk and renewed trade tensions as the key external threat. The property downturn's drag on GDP is expected to narrow gradually as policymakers pursue mortgage-rate cuts and destocking measures, but the broader story is one of a maturing economy deliberately rebalancing away from real estate and export dependence toward domestic demand and higher-value manufacturing.

Japan: Japan's growth history is the most muted of the major economies, rarely exceeding 2%, with a deep -4.2% contraction in 2020, and forecasts converging toward a modest 0.6% by the early 2030s. Recent IMF data affirm this structurally low-growth path: Japan's real GDP for 2025 registered year-on-year growth of 1.1%, marking a year of positive growth, with momentum driven by a rebound in exports to the United States and steady private consumption and capital investment. Looking ahead, the IMF's July 2026 update projected Japan's growth moderating further to 0.6% in 2026. Japan's growth story is shaped less by cyclical swings than by deep structural constraints a shrinking, aging population and subdued productivity growth which the Bank of Japan and private forecasters alike expect to keep trend growth below 1% annually over the coming decade, even as a weaker yen and a buoyant tourism sector provide periodic tailwinds.

Global Inflation

Global inflation has followed a distinctly cyclical path over the past decade and a half. After hovering in a relatively contained 2.7–4.9% band through the 2010s, headline consumer price inflation surged to a multi-decade high of 8.6% in 2022, driven by pandemic-era supply disruptions, unprecedented fiscal and monetary stimulus, and the initial energy-price shock from Russia's invasion of Ukraine. Inflation then eased steadily through 2023–2025, falling back toward the 3–4% range as central banks' aggressive tightening cycles took hold and global supply chains normalized. However, this disinflation trend has since stalled: the IMF's July 2026 World Economic Outlook Update projects headline inflation rising from 4.1 percent in 2025 to 4.7 percent in 2026, before easing to 3.9 percent in 2027. IMF notes that this renewed pressure is driven mainly by higher energy and food prices and cautions that the return of core inflation to central bank targets will be gradual and uneven: not until mid-2027 in the United Kingdom, the end of 2027 in Japan and the United States, and only in 2028 in the euro area, while inflation in China is expected to rise from historically low levels. This divergence underscores that, unlike the broadly synchronized post-pandemic inflation wave, the current episode is being shaped by country-specific factors such as exchange-rate pass-through, labor market tightness, and the persistence of services-price inflation that will likely keep global monetary policy fragmented over the next two years.

Global Population

The total population has more than doubled since the 1950s and is forecasted to surpass the 8.3 billion mark by 2029. Populous middle-income countries account for a considerable share of the growth in world population between 2010-25. Just five nations – China, India, Indonesia, Pakistan, and Nigeria – are expected to account for around 3.6 billion people in 2024. If the current trend continues, the majority of the next billion is destined to be born in low- and middle-income countries. However, the median age of the existing population in these nations – especially Nigeria, Pakistan, and India at an estimated 19.3 years, 22.9 years, and 29.8 years, respectively in 2024 underscore the massive demographic dividend potential. A young and cost-effective labour will drive the attractiveness of these nations as offshore manufacturing destinations.

India Macroeconomic Overview

India's GDP

The Indian economy posted a robust economic rebound of 9.7% in 2021, following the Covid-19 induced 5.8% GDP contraction in 2020. In response to the economic challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic, India implemented a series of comprehensive structural reforms aimed at revitalizing its manufacturing sector and enhancing its global competitiveness. The government's disinvestment strategy underwent a significant transformation, the new approach facilitated landmark privatizations such as Air India's acquisition by the Tata Group. The primary objectives behind this disinvestment push were to reduce the fiscal burden on government finances, improve operational efficiency through private sector management, and generate substantial resources for funding critical development programs. The Indian government as part of its proactive fiscal and monetary policies introduced several stimulus measures such as loan moratoriums, credit guarantees, and direct cash transfers to support businesses and households during the year. These measures helped sustain domestic consumption and mitigate the economic impact of the pandemic in 2021. Recovery within manufacturing as well as the services industry – particularly within segments such as information technology, healthcare, and e-commerce – provided further impetus.
GDP growth fell to 7.6% in 2022, mainly due to the Russia-Ukraine war and the resultant supply disruptions which led to a sharp increase in food and fuel prices. To curtail these high price pressures, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) adopted a restrictive monetary policy – with the repo rate hiked to 6.25% by the end of 2022. This dampened consumer spending and business confidence during the year. As per International Monetary Fund (IMF) World Economic Outlook April 2025, GDP grew by 9.2% in 2023 considering strong domestic consumption and demand, public infrastructure investment and an upswing in household investments in real estate.

India's real GDP grew by 6.5% in 2024, a bright spot in an otherwise subdued global economic environment. The focus on infrastructural development, expanding manufacturing and services sectors, resilient credit growth and robust private consumption propelled economic momentum in 2024.

India's growth momentum through 2025 has been underpinned by resilient private consumption, a strong services sector, and steady government capital expenditure, even as global trade faced headwinds from tariff uncertainty and shifting supply chains. The performance reaffirmed India's position as the anchor of growth among major emerging markets, with the IMF explicitly noting that despite global headwinds, including elevated US tariffs on Indian exports, a strong first-quarter carryover allowed India's growth rate. Inflation, meanwhile, remained supportive of domestic demand, easing toward target levels on the back of subdued food prices through much of 2025, giving the Reserve Bank of India policy space that would prove valuable once external shocks emerged in 2026.

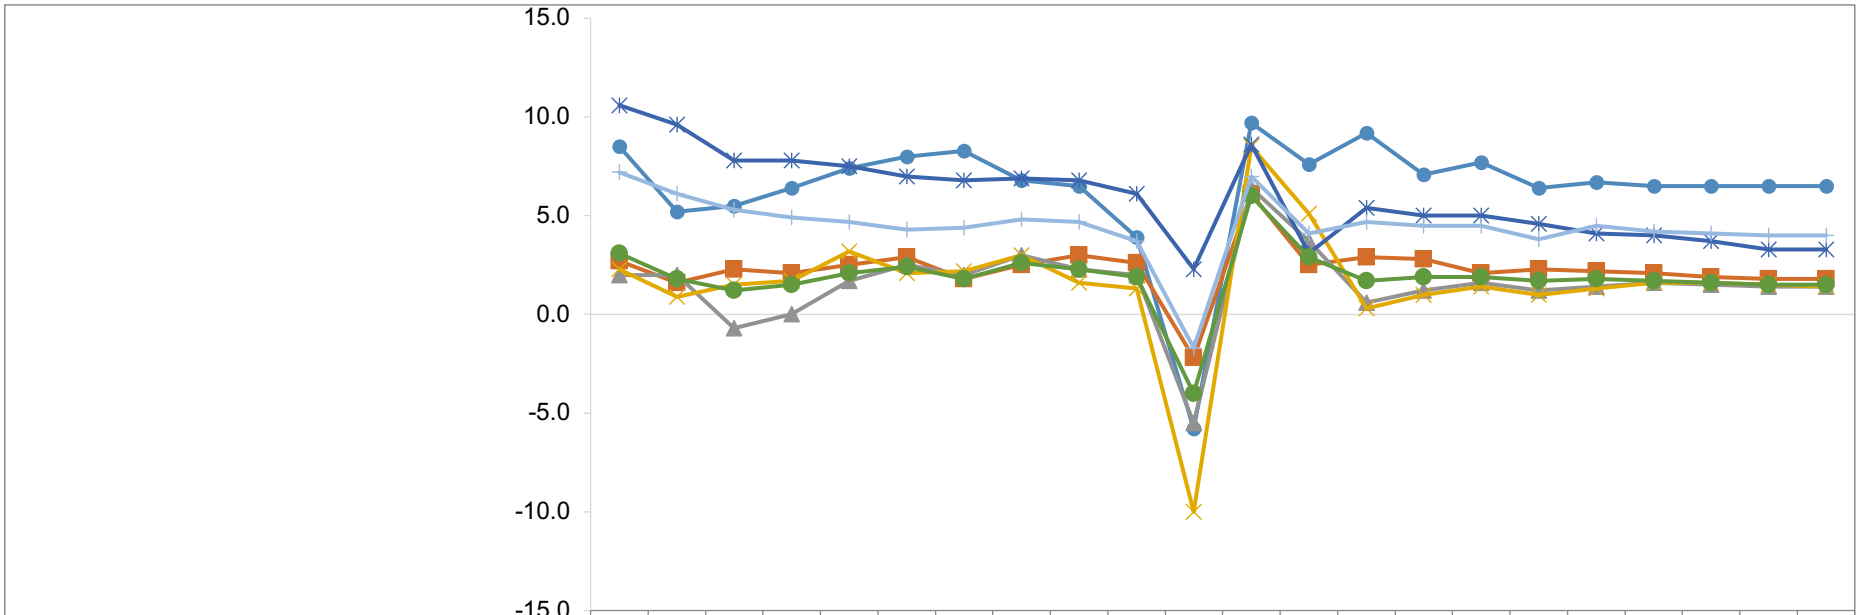

The outbreak of war in the Middle East in February 2026 posed a significant and multi-channel risk to India's growth story, given the country's deep economic interdependence with the Gulf region, which supplies roughly 30% of India's crude oil and around half of its natural gas imports, hosts about 9 million Indian workers whose remittances account for nearly 3.5% of GDP and ~38% of India's total remittance inflows and underpins close to USD 200 billion in annual two-way trade. As the Strait of Hormuz effectively closed to shipping and India's LPG supply came under acute pressure, the government invoked emergency measures, cut fuel excise duties, and expanded biofuel blending to cushion the impact, while the RBI deployed billions of dollars in forex reserves to defend the rupee against depreciation pressure.

Beyond energy, the conflict disrupted trade in fertilizers, petrochemicals, and agricultural exports such as basmati rice and dependent food imports like Iranian apples and almonds, while raising the specter of reduced remittance flows with some estimates suggesting a 10–30% decline if the conflict persisted particularly affecting remittance-dependent states such as Kerala, Uttar Pradesh, and Bihar. Encouragingly, because the resulting inflationary pressure was assessed as largely "imported" rather than driven by domestic overheating, the RBI retained room to prioritize growth and employment over aggressive monetary tightening, and India's underlying economic fundamentals allowed it to absorb the shock more effectively than initially feared.

Looking ahead, IMF's forecasts point to a moderation from the exceptional post-pandemic growth rates toward a more steady-state pace of roughly 6.4–7.7% through 2031, still well above the trajectories projected for advanced economies and China due as domestic demand continues to anchor growth even amid global uncertainty. The Reserve Bank of India has offered a more cautious near-term view, projecting FY27 growth of ~6.6%, with quarterly estimates ranging from 6.3% to 6.8%, citing risks from elevated energy prices, supply disruptions, and weather-related uncertainty as lingering legacies of the conflict.

India's Inflation

India Inflation Rate (Average Consumer Prices) (%) 2010-2031F

Note: E-Estimated, F-Forecast
Source: International Monetary Fund (IMF) World Economic Outlook April 2026

India's inflation trajectory over the past decade and a half shows a decisive structural shift from a high, volatile regime to a more stable, target-consistent one. Inflation ran persistently high through 2010–2013, peaking near 10.0% in 2012, before a sustained disinflationary period took hold through the mid-to-late 2010s, aided by lower global commodity prices and the RBI's adoption of formal flexible inflation targeting in 2016, which anchored expectations around the medium-term 4% target within a 2–6% tolerance band. Inflation touched a low of 3.4% in 2018 before drifting up again through the pandemic and post-pandemic years, peaking at 6.6% in 2022 amid the global commodity-price shock triggered by Russia's invasion of Ukraine. What followed, however, was one of the sharpest disinflations in the series: headline CPI fell to just 2.1% in 2025, an eight-year low, driven by a prolonged, roughly nine-month streak of falling food prices, the longest such stretch in the CPI series' history. This gave the RBI unusual policy space heading into 2026, a cushion that would prove critical once external price pressures re-emerged during the year.

The disinflationary cushion was tested almost immediately in 2026, when the outbreak of war in the Middle East in February disrupted the Strait of Hormuz, pushing global energy prices sharply higher and feeding directly into India's import bill, transport costs, and cooking-gas prices. The RBI characterized the resulting price pressure as largely imported in nature, originating from a geopolitical supply shock rather than domestic overheating, which shaped its policy response: having already delivered a series of rate cuts through late 2025 and early 2026, the central bank held the repo rate steady at 5.25% through its February, May, and June 2026 meetings, preferring a calibrated, neutral stance over aggressive tightening even as inflation risks built up. The IMF's forecast path shows inflation stepping up to 4.7% in 2026 before settling into a steady 4.0% band from 2027 through 2031, reflects that the West Asia-driven price shock represents a temporary, absorbable disturbance rather than a durable regime shift, with the RBI's neutral policy stance designed to look through the near-term energy-driven spike while safeguarding India's hard-won gains in inflation anchoring over the following review cycles.

In the long run, India's annual inflation is forecast to average ~4.1%, well within the central bank's target range of 4.0±2%.

India's Population Growth

India's population has grown by more than 1 billion since 1950. India's population stood at 1.24 billion in 2010 and has grown with a CAGR of 3.8% till 2024 to reach 1.44 billion. In 2022, India surpassed China to become the most populous country in the world. It is estimated that India's population will surpass 1.5 billion people by 2029 and will continue to slowly increase till early 2060s, when it will peak at 1.7 billion people.

As of 2022, people under the age of 25 accounted for more than 40% of India's population. Adults with age 65 and above comprise only 7% of India's population, compared with 14% in China and 18% in the US. As per United Nations projections, the share of Indians who are 65 and above is likely to remain under 20% until 2063 and will not approach 30% until 2100.

GDP Per Capita at Current Prices

India's GDP Per Capita (at current prices) is likely to reach ~USD 4,421 by 2031, growing at a CAGR of 9.5% between 2026 and 2031. This boost in per capita GDP levels will play a crucial role in propelling India's vision to become a USD 5 trillion economy by 2030. This upward trend in per capita GDP levels will be supported by domestic structural reforms, fiscal prudence, monetary policy stability, input costs, price pressures, political stability, and rapid urbanization.

Expansion of capacity utilisation and productivity across critical sectors such as manufacturing, transport, infrastructure, construction, chemicals, telecom, and financial services will lead to a sustained growth in GDP per capita levels, with positive spillovers being witnessed in India's economic growth.

Increased infrastructural investment inflows, an accelerating green transition, strengthening energy and commodity supply chains, and building multi-industry economies of scale for the digital economy will boost competitiveness, enhance efficiency, and create new job opportunities, thus promoting India's transition to an upper-income country over the coming decade. However, geopolitical tensions, extreme climate events, and international financial sector volatility can present short-term to medium-term challenges to this growth outlook.

Private Final Consumption Expenditure

Private Final Consumption Expenditure (PFCE) has remained an important factor in insulating the Indian economy, contributing to over 60.0% of the country's GDP. PFCE picked up steam after a brief plunge in 2020 due to the pandemic. In FY26, PFCE witnessed growth of 9.4% compared to the previous year. A pattern has been emerging in India's demand recovery thus far, by which demand growth for mid-premium products has been stronger, while that for budget and entry-level products has been weaker.

Index of Industrial Production

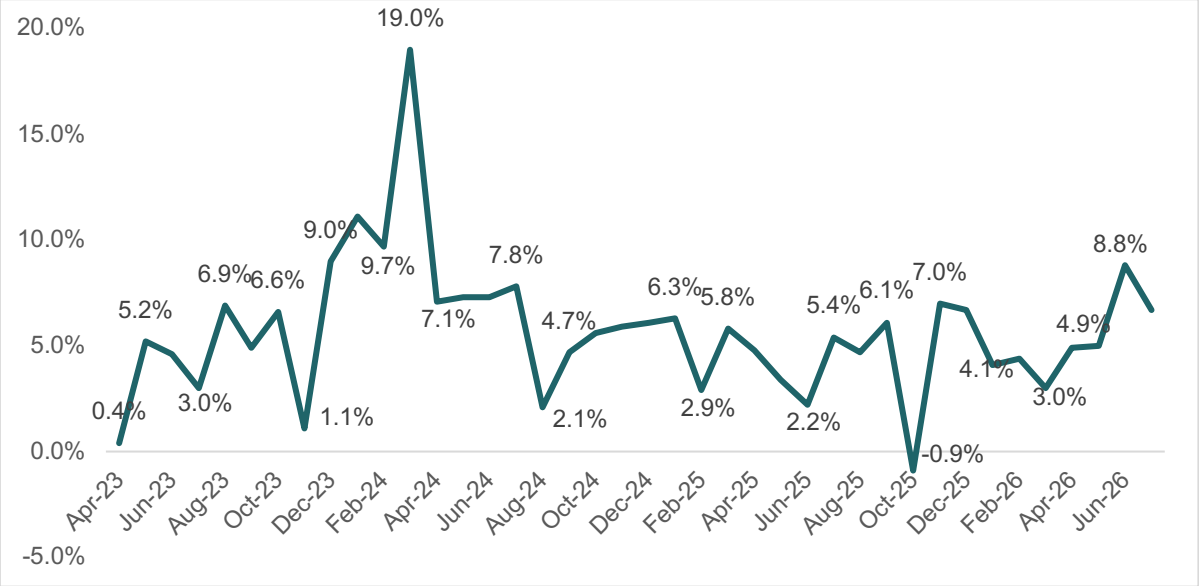

Index of Industrial Production (IIP) exhibited a generally positive growth trajectory between April 2023 and July 2026, although the period was marked by notable month-to-month volatility. During most of 2023, industrial growth remained moderate, fluctuating between 0.4% and 6.9%, before gaining significant momentum toward the end of the year. Growth accelerated sharply to 9.0% in December 2023 and 9.7% in January 2024, culminating in an exceptional peak of 19.0% in March 2024, the highest level observed during the entire period. However, this surge proved temporary, with growth moderating to around 7-8% in the subsequent months, indicating a return to more normalized industrial activity levels.

Throughout late 2024 and much of 2025, industrial production maintained a relatively stable expansion, with growth largely ranging between 4% and 6%. While periodic slowdowns were observed, including declines to 2.9% in February 2025 and 2.2% in June 2025, the overall trend remained positive. A notable exception occurred in October 2025, when IIP growth contracted by 0.9%, representing the only negative reading during the period. Nevertheless, the contraction was short-lived, as industrial output rebounded strongly to 7.0% in the following month, reflecting the resilience of the industrial sector and the ability of production activity to recover quickly from temporary disruptions.

Industrial growth remained moderate in early 2026, fluctuating between 3.0% and 4.9%, before showing renewed strength during mid-2026. Growth increased to 8.8% in June 2026, the highest level recorded since the March 2024 peak, before easing slightly thereafter. The rebound in growth during 2026 suggests improving industrial momentum and strengthening production activity across key sectors.

Polymer Compounding Market

Polymer Industry

The polymer industry in India stands as one of the most significant sectors in the country's manufacturing landscape, playing a crucial role in economic development. India's polymer industry has demonstrated consistent growth over the years, primarily driven by increasing demand across various sectors. The industry is broadly categorized into two main segments: commodity polymers and engineering polymers. Commodity polymers, including High Density Polyethylene (HDPE), Medium Density Polyethylene (MDPE), Cross Linked Polyethylene (XLPE), Low Density Polyethylene (LDPE), Linear Low-Density Polyethylene (LLDPE), Halogen-Free Flame Retardant (HFFR) and Polyvinyl Chloride (PVC), which are commonly known as co-polymers, form the backbone of the industry and find widespread use in everyday applications. Engineering polymers, such as Acrylonitrile Butadiene Styrene (ABS), Nylon, Polycarbonate, and Polyethylene Terephthalate (PET), cater to more specialized and technical applications, commanding higher value in the market.

The applications of polymers in India span across numerous sectors, with packaging emerging as the largest consumer. Other significant application areas include agriculture, automotive, construction, consumer goods, and electronics. This diverse application base has helped the industry maintain steady growth even during economic downturns. The growth is further fueled by several key drivers, including rapid urbanization, rising disposable income levels, increasing industrialization, and supportive government initiatives like the "Make in India" program.

Polymer Compounding

Polymer compounding is a melt blending process where a thermoplastic resin is combined with additives and reinforcements such as anti-oxidants, UV stabilizers, impact modifiers, colorants, flame retardants, glass fibers, or minerals to create materials with specific properties. The process involves determining the formulation for the compound, pre-blending ingredients or feeding them separately into an extruder, and mixing the resin and additives in a melt state inside the extruder barrel. The molten plastic is then forced through a die plate, cooled in a water bath, and chopped into cylindrical pellets. These additives are incorporated to improve properties such as strength, stiffness, colour, flammability resistance, tribological performance, or electrical and thermal conductivity, with the specific types determined by the desired final properties or end-use application. Polymer compounding enables the creation of custom-tailored materials for various industries, allowing manufacturers to meet specific requirements.

Based on the type of applications, materials used, volumes, polymer compounding can be categorized as commodity polymer compounding and engineering polymer compounding.

Commodity Polymer Compounding

Commodity polymer compounding represents a fundamental segment of the polymer processing industry, focusing on the modification of basic, high-volume polymers that are extensively used in everyday applications. This sector primarily deals with materials such as Polyethylene (PE) including HDPE, LDPE, LLDPE, Polypropylene (PP), Polyvinyl Chloride (PVC), and Polystyrene (PS), which are collectively known as co-polymers. These compounds are characterized by their relatively straightforward processing requirements, lower cost structures, and standard performance properties, making them ideal for mass-production applications such as packaging materials, consumer goods, agricultural films, and basic construction materials.

The market dynamics of commodity polymer compounds are characterized by high volumes and lower margins, with competition primarily driven by price considerations. The supply chain tends to be simpler, with multiple suppliers available and standard logistics arrangements sufficient for material handling and distribution. The distinction between commodity and engineering polymer compounding extends beyond just materials and processes. Engineering compounds require extensive technical support and often involve close collaboration between compounders and end-users to develop custom solutions for specific applications. Innovation in engineering compounds focuses on performance enhancement and new property development, while commodity compound innovation typically centers on cost reduction and process optimization. The storage and handling requirements for engineering compounds are also more demanding, often requiring controlled conditions to maintain material properties.

Polymer compounds are used as an essential raw material for sheathing, jacketing and insulation of wires and cables used in power, telecommunication and railway industries as well as coating of underground oil, gas and water pipelines, in order to provide a protective infrastructure from corrosion and external environmental factors.

HDPE, MDPE and LLDPE compounds are used in the wire and cable industry which offer insulation, sheathing and jacketing based on the indicative requirement of the customer. While, XLPE, HFFR, PVC and CFC compounds add qualities such as strength, high voltage insulation and resistance, fire resistance and moisture resistance, as per the application of the end use product.

In the wire and cable industry, polymers serve crucial functions in electrical insulation, mechanical protection, and overall cable performance. HDPE and adhesive coating compounds are key layers of 3LPE (three layer polyethylene) system ("3LPE Coating" i.e. Pipe Coating) used for coating of oil, gas and water distribution pipelines. 3LPE Coating is an effective solution for protecting high-capital-intensive pipelines from corrosion, chemicals and moisture, thereby ensuring long-term durability.

Polyethylene compounds

PE compounds are widely used in wires and cables for insulation, jacketing and sheathing purposes. The specialised compounds manufactured through these polymers are used in critical industries such as power and telecommunication.

HDPE and adhesive coating compounds

A 3LPE Coating system consists of three layers, viz., a base layer of fusion bonded epoxy, an intermediate adhesive layer, and an outer layer of HDPE. The adhesive used in these pipelines is specially formulated to ensure compatibility between the epoxy and the polyethylene layers, enabling the layers to work as a single, integrated protective system. The final HDPE layer provides mechanical strength and shields the pipeline from soil stress, impact, and moisture. Together, these three layers offer long-lasting corrosion protection and mechanical durability, making 3LPE Coatings ideal for pipelines laid underground or in harsh environments.

Cross-linked polyethylene compounds

XLPE compounds are widely used as insulating materials in power cables due to their thermal, electrical, and mechanical properties. XLPE is produced by chemically cross-linking polyethylene chains, which transforms the thermoplastic polymer into a thermoset material. This cross-linking process significantly enhances the material's ability to withstand high temperatures, electrical stress, and environmental factors such as moisture and chemicals. In power cable applications, XLPE insulation provides superior dielectric strength and thermal resistance, allowing cables to operate safely at elevated temperatures continuously, withstanding short-circuit conditions. Additionally, XLPE offers mechanical toughness, abrasion resistance, and long-term stability, making it ideal for both low-voltage and high-voltage power transmission and distribution systems. Its low dielectric constant and low dissipation factor also contribute to energy efficiency in electrical networks. Overall, XLPE compounds have become the preferred choice for modern cable insulation due to their durability, reliability, and performance under demanding service conditions. In accordance with the end use application, we undertake modifications in the basic polymer structure to modify the effectiveness of the finished product.

Halogen free flame retardant compounds

HFFR compounds are extensively used in cable insulation. In addition to their insulation and flame retardant properties, these compounds reduce the emission of toxic and corrosive gases during combustion. A key benefit is their ability to produce low smoke, critically improving visibility for evacuation during fire incidents. Furthermore, HFFR compounds are characterized by zero or very low halogen acid gas emission, eliminating the release of harmful, corrosive gases, thereby protecting human health and sensitive equipment. Their applications span building and construction, including public buildings, high-rise residential areas, and critical infrastructure.

Polyvinyl chloride compounds

PVC compounds are used in house wires and electrical cables due to their balance of electrical, mechanical, and chemical properties. They serve as both insulation and sheathing material, offering good dielectric strength and resistance to moisture, abrasion, and various chemicals. The inherent flame-retardant nature, enhanced through the use of additives, makes PVC compounds one of the safer choices for domestic wiring applications. These compounds are also flexible and easy to process, allowing for efficient manufacturing and installation in a variety of residential and commercial settings. They can be tailored to meet specific performance requirements by adjusting plasticizers, stabilizers, and fillers in the formulation. While not halogen-free, PVC compounds provide adequate fire performance and cost-effectiveness, which has made it a dominant material in the low-voltage cable segment.

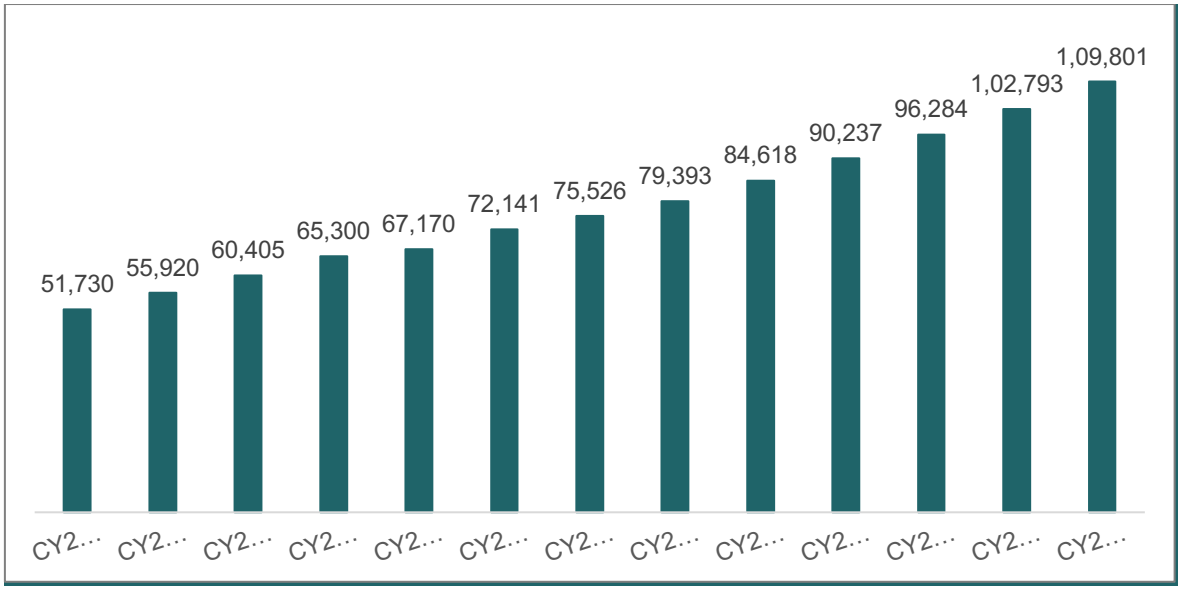

Cable-Filling compounds and other products

CFC compounds offer water resistance, thermal resistance and dielectric properties, which slow down the deterioration of the cable during its service life. CFC are jacketed on wires and cables for protecting them from extreme weathering situations and various voltage capacities. These compounds are primarily used for sheathing and jacketing of polyethylene insulated jelly filled cables.
Semi-conductive compounds are used in tandem with XLPE compounds to reduce electrical stress for preventing partial discharge and premature electric failure. It also gives uniform electric field distribution, which is crucial for high voltage segments thereby allowing consistent performance.

Peroxide cross linkable compounds are widely used as crosslinking agents in the manufacture of XLPE and ethylene propylene rubber insulation materials for wires and cables. These compounds are used primarily in power cables, control cables, signal and instrumentation cables, renewable energy cables, railways, metro and telecommunication cables.

Cross linked halogen free flame retardant compounds are widely used for manufacturing solar cables. Maleic anhydride grafted polyethylene compounds are used in multilayer films to improve adhesion between different layers. This enhances the strength and durability of the films, making them suitable for applications such as food packaging, medical packaging, and industrial use.

Barriers to Enter for New Players

The polymer compounding industry presents a series of formidable barriers for new players. Economic challenges arise from high capital expenditures and the presence of entrenched competitors with scale advantages. Technological demands necessitate substantial investment in advanced equipment, research, and skilled personnel. Regulatory frameworks impose rigorous and often region-specific compliance obligations that add both operational complexity and cost. Additionally, the volatile nature of raw material prices and the need for strict quality control reinforce the necessity for strategic planning, financial strength, and technical competence. Consequently, entry into the polymer compound industry requires a measured approach, significant resources, and deep expertise to successfully overcome these multifaceted obstacles.

In industries such as power transmission, telecommunications, and coatings, polymer compounders must have their products, manufacturing processes, and standard operating procedures rigorously tested and approved by regulatory bodies or public sector enterprises. This mandatory enlistment ensures:

- Technical competence verification: It confirms that the company's products meet strict quality and performance standards essential for critical infrastructure and governmental projects.

- Regulatory compliance: The thorough evaluation process requires adherence to complex compliance and certification norms, which can be time-consuming and costly.

- Trust and credibility: Being enlisted with reputed high-status government agencies such as Maharatna, Navratna, and Miniratna CPSEs (Central Public Sector Enterprises) provides the company recognized credibility and a verified track record.

- Limited accessibility for new players: Achieving similar levels of approval and acceptance can be challenging for new entrants who lack established technical expertise, production quality, and resources, discouraging or delaying market entry.

Types & Importance of Polymer Compounds

The utilization of polymer compounds in wire and cable applications is integral for ensuring the performance, safety, and durability of electrical systems. Various types of polymers are employed across different wire and cable applications, offering specific benefits tailored to meet industry demands. The different types of co-polymers compounds are:

- Polyvinyl Chloride (PVC): Traditionally a popular material due to its safety features, such as being self-flame retardant. PVC offers good insulation properties, but it is gradually being replaced by newer materials due to environmental concerns.

- Polyethylene (PE): Currently gaining traction as it is being favoured over PVC for many applications due to its lighter weight and flexibility. However, PE formulations often require significant mineral flame retardant additives to comply with safety regulations.

- Thermoplastic Polyurethanes (TPU): These materials are praised for their abrasion resistance, toughness, and weather resistance. TPUs are versatile and can be formulated for both soft and hard compound applications.

- Ethylene Vinyl Acetate (EVA) & Ethylene Acrylate Copolymers: These are employed for their flexibility at low temperatures and thermal stability, respectively. Their compatibility with high filler loadings allows them to maintain desirable properties even under heavy mechanical stress.

Key Benefits of Co-Polymer Compounds

Polymer compounds deliver several benefits critical to enhancing wire and cable performance:

- Electrical Insulation: Polymers like PE and PVC exhibit excellent dielectric properties, providing high electrical resistance and minimizing power losses due to insulation breakdown. They are crucial in preventing electrical shock and short circuits.

- Flame Retardancy and Safety: Many modern polymers are formulated to be flame-retardant, meeting stringent regulations that enhance safety in electrical installations. For instance, advancements in halogen-free and flame-retardant compounds are pivotal in improving cable safety.

- Temperature and Weather Resistance: Certain polymers, such as high-density polyethylene, maintain performance across a wide temperature range, making them suitable for outdoor applications where environmental factors can cause degradation. This feature is vital for cables exposed to harsh conditions.

- Processability: The ability to process polymers into various forms without losing material properties is paramount for manufacturers. Polymers like TPU and PE allow for varied processing methods enabling flexibility in design and application.

In the wire and cable industry, polymers serve crucial functions in electrical insulation, mechanical protection, and overall cable performance. Therefore, the success of polymers is dependent upon the success of the wire and cable industries.

In light of the volatile tariff rates and ongoing war like situations in various countries, the import of raw materials could be affected in the future. The most significant determinant is the volatility in global crude oil prices, as polymers are derived from petrochemical feedstocks like ethylene and propylene. Any disruption in oil supply, OPEC+ production decisions, or geopolitical events could affect raw material costs. Additionally, global supply chain dynamics, such as freight costs and port congestion, will continue to impact import prices. China, being a major producer and exporter of polymers, plays a crucial role in setting global price trends, and any changes in its production output, environmental regulations, or domestic consumption could ripple across global markets. Domestically, India's growing demand in sectors like packaging, automotive, consumer goods, agriculture, and solar energy will put upward pressure on prices, especially if local supply lags behind. Government policies, such as import tariffs, anti-dumping duties, and incentives for local manufacturing under the "Make in India" initiative, will also shape future price movements.

Wires & Cables Production in India

India's wires and cables industry recorded healthy growth during FY19–FY26, supported by rising investments in power infrastructure, urbanization, real estate development, renewable energy, industrial expansion, and digital connectivity. However, the production trend was not linear, with a temporary slowdown witnessed during FY21–FY22 due to the COVID-19 pandemic and supply chain disruptions. The industry rebounded strongly from FY23 onwards as infrastructure spending accelerated and demand recovered across end-use sectors.

Housing wires remained the largest product segment throughout the period, with production increasing from 5,435 thousand ckm in FY19 to 10,315 thousand ckm in FY26, registering a CAGR of 9.6%. The segment accounted for the largest share of overall production, driven by sustained growth in residential construction, commercial buildings, urban infrastructure, and replacement demand. Following a decline during FY21–FY22, production recovered sharply from FY23 onwards, reaching an all-time high in FY26.

Flexible and other cables emerged as one of the fastest-growing categories, expanding from 2,338 thousand ckm in FY19 to 4,653 thousand ckm in FY26, at a CAGR of 10.3%. Growth was supported by increasing demand from industrial machinery, manufacturing facilities, consumer appliances, automation systems, and electrical equipment. The segment experienced robust expansion between FY23 and FY25 before witnessing a marginal correction in FY26. Power cable production increased from 682 thousand km in FY19 to 1,036 thousand km in FY26, reflecting a CAGR of 6.2%. Demand was primarily driven by investments in transmission and distribution networks, renewable energy integration, industrial electrification, and power infrastructure modernization. Production recovered steadily after the pandemic-induced slowdown and crossed the one-million-kilometre mark in FY25.

Telephone cable production exhibited a different trend, declining during FY20–FY22 before recovering gradually to 924 thousand ckm in FY26. Despite the recovery, the segment recorded a relatively modest CAGR of 1.4% over the analysis period. The subdued growth reflects the continued shift from conventional copper-based telecom networks towards optical fibre infrastructure, which has reduced the long-term demand for traditional telephone cables.

Instrumentation cables remained largely stagnant throughout the period, declining marginally from 130 thousand ckm in FY19 to 124 thousand ckm in FY26, resulting in a negative CAGR of 0.8%. Extra high voltage power cable	66 kV to 220 kV	These are mainly used in expansion of transmission lines owing to its lower transmission loss benefits. XLPE compounds are used for insulation which offers fast curing and superior electrical properties. Extruded insulation should be of high cleanliness with smooth interface and cable core should be free from contamination voids and manufacturing defects. This is achieved by employing a single point triple extrusion dry curing process

Major uses of power cables are in the power sector (central, state and private electricity utilities) and sectors like petrochemicals, mining, steel, non-ferrous, shipbuilding, cement, railway, and defence.

The performance and durability of cables depend on the quality of raw materials. Specialised applications require superior chemical, mechanical, thermal and electrical performance from cables, resulting in usage of high-performance materials in cable construction. Additionally, it is seen that in order to achieve properties suited for varying applications, every cable has a distinguished construction. The number of SKUs of cables and wires are very high, with 500-600 fastest selling SKUs, differing in application and offering variation in cross-sectional area (size), number of cores used, core material (mainly copper or aluminium), insulation material used, armoured or unarmoured construction for strength, etc.

During FY-24, power cable production crossed 1 million km, up from 0.84 million km, registering a y-o-y growth of 24%.The historical growth of power cables was on account of factors such as the electrification of rural villages and households (Power for All) under SAUBHAGYA and DDUGJY scheme; investments in transmission and distribution systems for modernisation and increasing efficiencies; increased demand from renewable power generation, particularly solar and wind energy; infrastructure development initiatives taken by the Indian government such as Smart Cities Mission, and mass transit systems; and improved lifestyle and consumer spending.

Key Growth Drivers

The manufacturing industry and infrastructure development are key drivers of the demand for cables and conductors, with significant growth potential in areas such as power generation, residential and commercial construction. As governments invest in initiatives like power grid expansion, housing development and infrastructure upgrades, the cable market is poised to benefit from these efforts in the coming years. Furthermore, the shift towards renewable energy sources, such as solar and wind power, is creating new opportunities for industry. Some of the key drivers are as follows:

Favourable government power transmission and distribution schemes

The domestic power cables industry is expected to witness moderate growth driven by RDSS, which is aimed at network modernisation and system loss reduction, PGCIL investments in system strengthening, new GEC projects, and state transmission line additions.

Additionally, the power cables industry is expected to draw significant demand from spending on network modernisation and system loss reduction through deployment of armoured cabling, aerial bunched cables, and reconductoring. Moreover, underground cabling, renovation and modernisation of existing transmission lines of 66 kV and below would be required for loss reduction. over fiscal 2023-26.

Entry of private players in Transmission & Distribution space

With the introduction of TBCB and VGF schemes for intra-state projects, the share of private sector players in the power transmission sector is expected to increase gradually over the long term. With increased awarding of projects under TBCB in the future, private participants are expected to play a key role in driving domestic power demand, thereby positively impacting the demand of cables including transmission and power cables.

Capacity Additions in the power generation segment

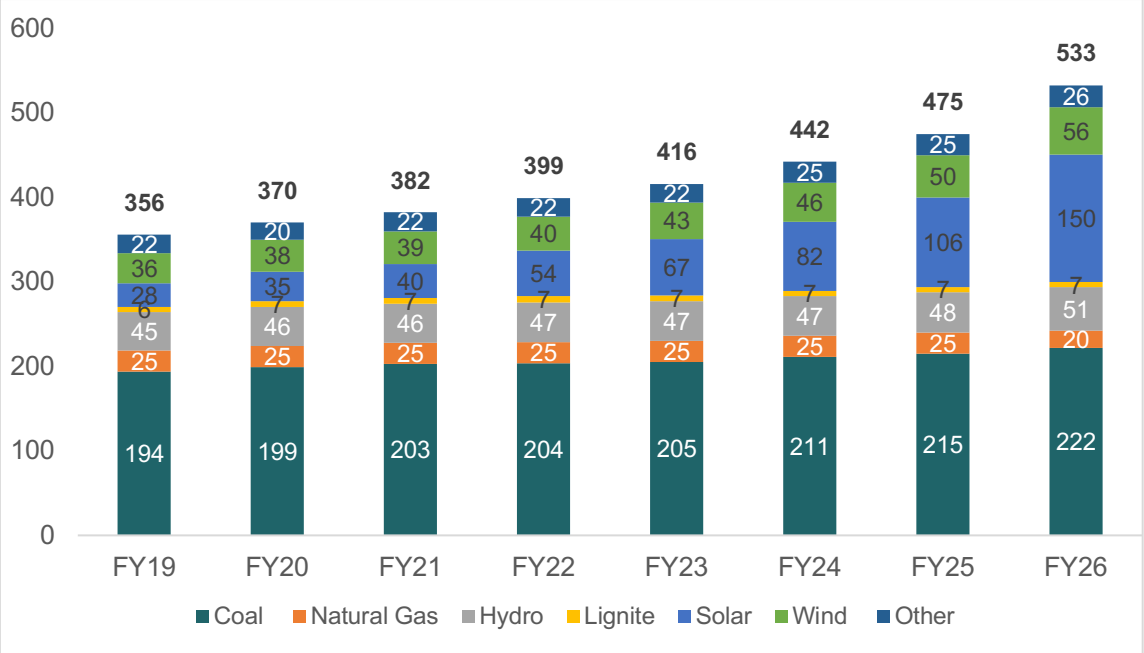

Solar and wind installed capacity in India are expected to grow by 170 GW and 47 GW respectively from FY26 to FY31. Such multifold generation expansion plans also require large-scale development in the transmission sector because grid-connected solar and wind plants are usually located in far-flung areas which have limited transmission infrastructure. Extensive transmission and cable infrastructure transmit power from remote generation.

Power & Renewable Sector Assessment

The total installed generation capacity at the end of March 2026 was 533 GW. The overall installed generation capacity has grown at a CAGR of 5.9% between FY19 and FY26. Coal and lignite-based installed power generation capacity has maintained its dominant position over the years and accounts for ~42% as of March 2026. However, renewable energy (RE) installations (including large hydroelectric projects), have reached ~275 GW capacity as of March 2026, constituting ~51% of total installed generation capacity. The renewable capacity addition (excl. large hydro) has grown at a CAGR of ~20% from FY 19 and FY 26.

India's Electricity Requirement

India's electricity requirement exhibited a steady long-term growth trend, increasing from 1,275 BU in FY19 to 1,707 BU in FY26, registering a CAGR of ~4.3% over the period. However, the growth trajectory was influenced by significant economic and external factors. Energy demand increased marginally by 1.3% in FY20, supported by stable economic activity and growth in industrial, commercial and residential electricity consumption. In FY21, electricity requirement declined by 1.2% to 1,276 BU, primarily due to the COVID-19 pandemic and the nationwide lockdown, which significantly reduced industrial production, commercial operations and transportation activities. Although residential electricity consumption increased during this period, it was insufficient to offset the decline in demand from industrial and commercial consumers.

Following the pandemic, electricity requirement witnessed a robust recovery during FY22–FY24, increasing from 1,380 BU in FY22 to 1,629 BU in FY24, with annual growth rates of 8.2%, 9.5% and 7.8%, respectively. The sharp rebound was driven by the revival of economic activity, recovery in manufacturing and infrastructure development, increased industrial production, expansion of commercial establishments, continued rural and urban electrification, and rising cooling demand due to above-normal summer temperatures. Government initiatives aimed at strengthening infrastructure, expanding electricity access and promoting industrial growth further supported the increase in electricity consumption.

During FY25 and FY26, electricity requirement continued to increase, reaching 1,694 BU and 1,707 BU, respectively; however, the growth rate moderated to 4.0% in FY25 and 0.8% in FY26. The moderation primarily reflects the normalization of electricity demand following the exceptionally high post-pandemic growth witnessed during FY22–FY24, coupled with a higher base effect. Additionally, relatively milder weather conditions and an earlier-than-usual monsoon in parts of FY26 reduced cooling-related electricity consumption compared with the previous year. Despite the slower growth, underlying structural demand drivers—including sustained economic growth, rapid urbanization, increasing electrification, expansion of data centres, railway electrification, rising penetration of electric vehicles, and greater adoption of household electrical appliances—continued to support the overall upward trajectory of electricity requirement in the country.

Key Government Initiatives to Support Growth of Electricity Demand

Government of India launched schemes like Deen Dayal Upadhyaya Gram Jyoti Yojana (DDUGJY), Integrated Power Development Scheme (IPDS), Pradhan Mantri Sahaj Bijli Har Ghar Yojana (SAUBHAGYA) etc., to support States in achieving the objective of providing uninterrupted power supply to all households. Projects worth INR 1.85 trillion were executed for strengthening the distribution system across States which includes works like new/upgradation of substations, new/ upgradation of HT & LT lines, agricultural feeder segregation, Aerial Bunched Cable and underground cabling etc. A total of 18,374 villages were electrified under DDUGJY and 2.86 crore households were electrified during SAUBHAGYA.

Further, the Government launched Revamped Distribution Sector Scheme (RDSS) with the objective of improving the quality and reliability of power supply to consumers through a financially sustainable and operationally efficient Distribution Sector. The Scheme has an outlay of INR 3,03,758 crore with a Gross Budgetary Support of INR 97,631 crore from Government of India over a period of five years from FY22 to FY26. The scheme aims to reduce the AT&C losses to pan-India levels of 12-15% and ACS-ARR Gap to zero by FY25. Projects worth INR 2.62 trillion for distribution infrastructure works and smart metering works have been sanctioned under the scheme.

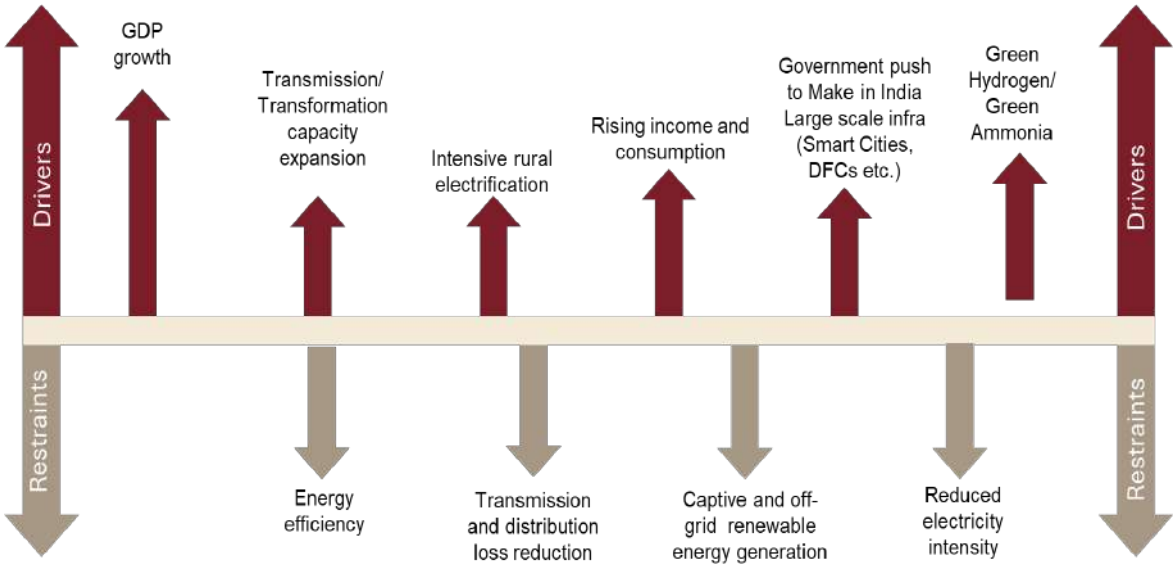

The government has also undertaken several steps to improve transmission congestion in several parts of India. The transmission system has expanded over the years for evacuation of power for evacuation of power from generating stations to load centre through Intra State and Inter State Transmission System. Ladakh got interconnected with national electricity grid in January 2019 with the commissioning of 220 kV Srinagar- Leh line. This helped the people of Ladakh to get access to 24x7 quality power from the national Grid. Transmission and distribution (T&D) infrastructure of Northeastern States including Sikkim are strengthened with implementation of two Central Sector Schemes namely, Northeastern Regional Power System Improvement Project (NERPSIP) and Comprehensive Scheme for strengthening of Transmission & Distribution in Arunachal Pradesh and Sikkim. Similarly, for evacuation of renewable power from RE parks located at different regions of the country, the government has launched green energy corridor (GEC) scheme for creation new substation and transmission lines.

Projected Power Demand and Capacity Addition

- Long Term Drivers and Constraints for Demand Growth

Power demand is closely associated with a country's GDP. Healthy economic growth leads to growth in power demand. India is already the fastest-growing economy in the world, with an average GDP growth of 6.1% over the past decade. The trickle-down effect of government spending on infrastructure through the National Infrastructure Pipeline, expansion of the services industry, rapid urbanisation, and increased farm income from agriculture-related reforms are key macroeconomic factors that are expected to foster power demand. Significant policy initiatives such as 24x7 power for all, Sahaj Bijli Har Ghar Yojana (SAUBHAGYA) scheme to provide electricity connections to all households, green energy corridor to facilitate evacuation of RE power, green city scheme to promote the development of sustainable and eco-friendly cities, production linked incentive (PLI) scheme and low corporate tax rates among others are expected to further support power demand in the country.

Factors influencing power demand

Source: Crisil Intelligence

Apart from macroeconomic factors, power demand would be further fuelled by railway electrification, upcoming metro rail projects, growing demand for charging infrastructure due to increased adoption of electric vehicles, and higher demand from key infrastructure and manufacturing sectors. However, increasing energy efficiency, a reduction in technical losses over the longer term, and captive as well as off-grid generation from renewables would restrict growth in power demand.

Railway electrification and metro rail projects to drive a majority of incremental power demand

Indian Railways has planned to become a net zero carbon emitter by 2030. As of July 2026, Indian Railways have electrified about 99.6% of broad gauge. Further, Metro rail has seen substantial growth in India in recent years, and the rate of growth is set to double or triple in the coming years with multiple cities seeking metro rail services to meet daily mobility requirements. As of July 2026, around 1,000 km of metro rail is under construction.

Further, EV charging requirements are likely to boost power demand over the medium term, with a gradual increase in the share of EVs in the vehicle population.

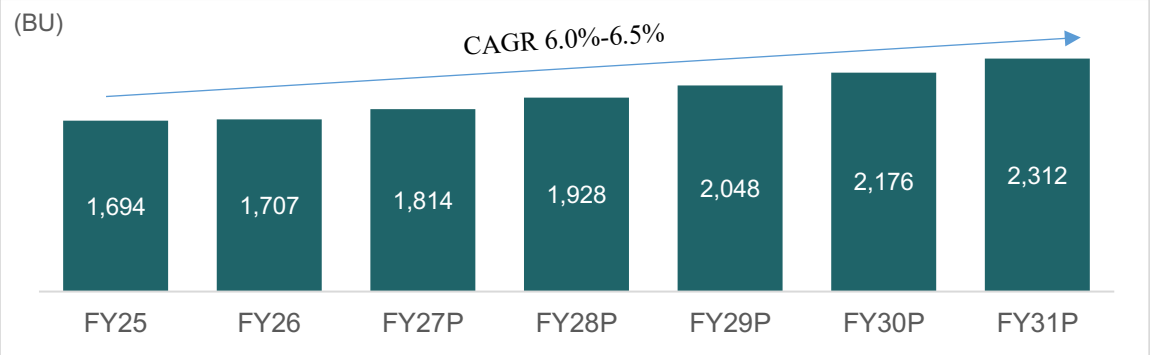

Declining T&D losses, an increase in off-grid/rooftop projects and open access transactions to drive power demand downward

T&D losses have been declining, and the reduction in losses is expected to continue further aided by a slew of government measures, primarily RDSS. Power demand is expected to be reduced by 20-25 BUs on average every year between fiscal FY25 to FY29 owing to lower T&D losses. Further, with a boost to rooftop solar and decentralized distributed generation, a reduction of 2-3% in base demand from the grid is expected with the addition of 32-33 GW of rooftop capacities are expected by FY29. Industries are expected to add ~3-4 GW of captive capacity over the next five years, adding on average 290-300 BUs of demand over the period which may lead to a reduction in demand from the grid.

- Electricity Demand Forecast

Electricity demand maintained a steady growth momentum from FY19 to FY26. GDP is expected to grow at 6.4% in FY26 supporting power demand. Despite the high base of preceding three years, CRISIL Intelligence-Consulting expects power demand to grow by 6-6.5% in the next five years which will be supported by infrastructure-linked capex, strong economic fundamentals along with expansion of the power footprint via strengthening of T&D infrastructure, coupled with major reforms initiated by the GoI for improving the overall health of the power sector, particularly that of state distribution utilities, are expected to improve the quality of power supply, thereby propelling power demand.

- Expected Capacity Installation by FY31

Capacity additions in the conventional power generation segment are projected to be around 32-35 GW from FY 25 to FY29, driven by higher than decadal average power demand. Fresh project announcements are limited as players are opting for the inorganic route for expansion given the availability of assets at reasonable valuations. In fact, 4.8 GW of stressed power assets are awaiting debt resolution. However, the need for generation capacity equipped for flexible operations to ramp up-down quickly is critical to meet peak demand as generation from renewable capacities is intermittent in nature. Coal capacity additions are expected to be driven entirely by the central and state sectors, as major private gencos continue to focus on expanding RE capacity. 2-3 GW of coal-based capacity is expected to retire as per CEA's National Electricity Plan 2023.

The construction of ten nuclear reactors totalling about 7.3 GW is underway in the states of Gujarat, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Haryana, Karnataka and Madhya Pradesh. Of this, the nuclear power capacity additions of 4.5-5.5 GW are expected during the period as ongoing projects at Kakrapara, Kalpakkam, and Rajasthan is nearing completion.

As per CEA's Long Term National Resource Adequacy Plan (2026-27 to 2035-36), Renewable Energy capacity addition of over 200 GW is expected to be installed by FY31, driven by various government initiatives, favourable policies, competitive tariffs, innovative tenders, development of solar parks and green energy corridors, etc. RE capacity is estimated to account for ~62% of the installed capacity of 811 GW by FY31.

The battery energy storage system (BESS) capacity additions of 28 GW is likely to be added by F31.

Investments in Power Sector

Total investments in the power sector during FY19 to FY25 were roughly INR 19–21 trillion. Crisil Intelligence estimates that investments will rise to Rs 28–31 trillion in the power sector between FY26 and FY30. Investments in power generation are expected to increase by about 1.5 to 1.6 times—from Rs 19–21 trillion in FY19–25 to the FY26–30 period. Over the same timeframe, investments in renewable energy generation (excluding hydro, pumped storage, and BESS) are expected to make up 68%–70% of total investments, as India works toward its goal of achieving 500 GW of non-fossil energy capacity announced at COP26.

Reaching the renewable energy generation target will require robust transmission infrastructure to integrate large-scale renewable capacity into the grid. In addition, investments in the distribution segment are expected to grow by around 1.6x between FY26 and FY30, supported by upgrades to distribution infrastructure and the rollout of smart meters, as India prioritizes reducing carbon emissions.

Segment-wise break-up of total investments-dominance of the generation segment (Rs trillion, %)

Note: P: Projected, Private sector investments in the distribution are not included
Source: Crisil Intelligence

Over next five years, generation investment is expected to be primarily driven by renewable energy (excluding hydro and storage) capacity additions, followed by spending on conventional generation and FGD installations. This points to a shift in investment flows toward strengthening clean energy supply. From FY26 to FY30, renewable capacity additions are expected to total around 190–200 GW, compared with 25–30 GW from coal-based plants over the same period. Investments in renewable energy capacity are likely to account for approximately 70% of overall generation investments.

Following the introduction of tariff-based competitive bidding (TBCB) in 2006 and the expectation of healthy returns, large private conglomerates invested significantly in generation projects. Capacity additions in the private sector were led by companies such as Tata Power, Adani Power, Sterlite Energy, KSK Mahanadi, and Lanco Infratech. However, limited availability of adequate long-term power purchase agreements, along with financially stretched conditions for some private developers, contributed to slower capacity additions and reduced private participation in generation. Consequently, central and state entities—typically better placed in terms of funding access and having strong execution track records—are expected to lead investments in conventional generation, representing over 68–70% of investments during FY26–30.

Transmission investments are expected to be supported by the need for a robust and dependable transmission network to accommodate continued generation additions and the strong policy push toward renewable energy, as well as rural electrification. Strong execution capabilities, together with healthy financials at PGCIL, are also expected to underpin these investments.

Since capacity additions across India are not evenly distributed geographically, some regions are expected to face power deficits while others remain in surplus. Addressing this will require power import and export between regions. Multiple inter-regional transmission corridors have been planned, and several high-capacity corridors are already at various stages of implementation. Newly sanctioned projects under the North-Eastern System Strengthening Scheme, along with system-strengthening initiatives targeted at the Ladakh region, are also expected to contribute to investment growth in the transmission segment.

State distribution companies (discoms) are under significant financial stress due to collection inefficiencies and increasing receivables owed to power generation companies (gencos). The government's relief package offered temporary liquidity support, but the effect was short-lived and may have further deteriorated discoms' debt situation. International institutions such as JICA and ADB are also providing credit to the distribution sector, with loans approved for modernizing power distribution systems in Assam and Bengaluru.

Projected Capacity Addition in Power Transmission and Distribution Segment

- National grid

To facilitate the transfer of power between neighbouring states, state grids are inter-connected through high-voltage transmission links to form a regional grid. There are five regional grids, namely, Northern, Western, Southern, Eastern and North-eastern grids. As peak demand for power does not take place at the same time in all states, it results in a surplus in one state and a deficit in another. Regional or inter-state grids facilitate the transfer of power from a surplus region to the one facing a deficit. Additionally, they also facilitate the optimal scheduling of maintenance outages and better coordination between power plants.

The Indian national grid has evolved over a period of past 60 years all the way from isolated state grids to regional grids and finally with the commissioning of 765 kV transmission line between Raichur and Solapur in December 2013 India achieved one nation one Grid status. The detailed evolution of the grid is as discussed in the section given below:

Integration and growth of transmission network in India

*(1) Source: CEA, CTUIL ISTS Rolling plan 2028-29 Report; Crisil Intelligence

Integration of the regional grid networks into the national grid involves several institutional, technical, and commercial issues. Over the medium term, investments in the transmission sector are expected to focus on forming the national grid, by setting up inter-regional links and strengthening the regional and intra-state grids. Inter-regional power transmission capacity has increased from 14 GW in fiscal 2007 to 120 GW as of June 2026.

Plans to increase grid infrastructure

Report on "Transmission System for Integration of over 500 GW RE Capacity by 2030" published by CEA portrays the broad transmission system roadmap for reliable integration of 501 GW RE capacity by the year FY31.

The length of the transmission lines and sub-station capacity planned under ISTS for integration of additional wind and solar capacity by 2030 has been estimated as 50,890 ckm and 433,575 MVA respectively at an estimated cost of INR 244,200 crores.

The present inter-regional transmission capacity is 120 GW. With the additional inter-regional transmission corridors under implementation/planned, the cumulative inter-regional transmission capacity is likely to be about 168 GW in 2032.

Distribution network addition

The Distribution perspective plan 2030 was prepared by CEA in Feb 2024 for assessment of requirement for development of the distribution sector to provide 24x7 quality power, reduction of AT&C losses, and to provide reliable power to its consumers. The plan has been prepared based on energy requirement and peak demand as forecasted in the 20th EPS of CEA.

The sub-transmission power substation capacity at the end of FY30 has been projected to meet the peak demand of 335 GW forecasted for FY30. During FY23 - FY30, it is planned to add 17,835 no. of 66/33/22 kV feeders in the country with total addition in feeder length of 1,88,690 ckm and 92,920 no. of 11 kV feeders in the country with total addition of feeder length of about 9,68,503 ckm.

In order to reduce the AT&C losses further, utilities need to concentrate on reducing technical losses. Improving the HT/LT ratio can reduce technical losses as well as improve voltage profile at consumer end. HT/LT ratio can be increased either by adopting HVDS system or increasing HT line length. Regarding DT's it is planned to add about 4,657,854 number of DTs with a total added DT capacity of 238,464 MVA in the country during the period. These DT additions are planned for meeting the customer's electricity demand growth & using HVDS to reduce the technical losses by bringing the HT line closer to the load centre.

LT lines of about 9.774,634 ckm (1-phase - 4,99,556 ckm and 3-phase -1,269,774 ckm) would be added by FY30. Out of the total LT lines, about 69% LT lines would be 3 phase lines in the country.

Private Investments in Power Transmission Sector

The transmission sector, a crucial part of the power industry, required more attention to meet the growing demand for electricity and the expanding generation capacity. Existing investments from budgets, internal funds, and PSU loans were insufficient to meet this demand. To address this issue, the Electricity Act allowed private companies to participate in the power transmission sector through a competitive bidding process called tariff-based competitive bidding (TBCB). The National Tariff Policy of 2006 provided guidelines for this process, aiming to promote competition, attract private investment, and increase transparency in constructing transmission infrastructure. India stands out as one of the few countries that have opened its transmission sector to private participation, generating significant interest from private businesses. The Electricity Act, 2003 coupled with TBCB for power procurement, encouraged private participation in the power transmission sector and has supported the growth of transmission lines in India sector.

Investments in transmission line additions continue to be dominated by the central and state sectors. In the 13th five-year plan (2017- 2022), a total of 88,865 km was set up in the country, with the central and state sectors contributing to 38% and 50%, respectively.

Sub-station capacities in the country have grown from 899,663 MVA in FY19 to reach 1,450,526 MVA in FY26, at a CAGR of 7.1%.

The growth in sub-station capacities has majorly seen traction in 220 kV, 400 kV and 765 kV segments. In terms of voltage, the 400kV class had the highest share ~37%.

Of the total substation capacity-additions of 351,417 MVA during the FY19 to FY26, about 46% can be attributed to the state sector, followed by central (43%) and JV/ private sector (11%). Private sector investments continue to be tepid, with the cumulative share reaching 6.4% in FY26.

Market Size for Power Cables for Upgradation of Power Infrastructure

Overview of Power Cables

Power cables are used for power transmission and distribution of electricity from power generators (overhead, underground and submarine) to sub-stations and thereon for power supply to end user segments, such as residential, commercial and industrial units.

A power cable is an assembly of two or more conductors with insulation and a protective jacket. The power cables industry is classified into low voltage (1.1 kV and below), high voltage (1.1-33 kV), and extra high voltage (66 kV and above) cables.

Types of Power Cable

Type of power cables	Rated voltage	Applications
Low voltage power cable	Up to 1.1 kV	These are suitable for use on AC single phase per three phases (earthed or unearthed) systems for rated voltage up to 1.1 kV. These can also be used on DC systems for rated voltage up to 1.5 kV to earth.
Medium voltage power cable	1.1 kV to 33 kV	Medium voltage power cables of differing types have a variety of applications in instruments, ignition systems, and AC and DC power transmission. Conductors are made of copper / aluminium conductor which are screened with extruded semi-conducting compound.
Extra high voltage power cable	66 kV to 220 kV	These are mainly used in expansion of transmission lines owing to its lower transmission loss benefits. XLPE compounds are used for insulation which offers fast curing and superior electrical properties. Extruded insulation should be of high cleanliness with smooth interface and cable core should be

Major uses of power cables are in the power sector (central, state and private electricity utilities) and sectors like petrochemicals, mining, steel, non-ferrous, shipbuilding, cement, railway, and defence.
The performance and durability of cables depend on the quality of raw materials. Specialised applications require superior chemical, mechanical, thermal and electrical performance from cables, resulting in usage of high-performance materials in cable construction. Additionally, it is seen that in order to achieve properties suited for varying applications, every cable has a distinguished construction. The number of SKUs of cables and wires are very high, with 500-600 fastest selling SKUs, differing in application and offering variation in cross-sectional area (size), number of cores used, core material (mainly copper or aluminium), insulation material used, armoured or unarmoured construction for strength, etc.

Existing Trend in Power Cable Production

During FY26, the power cable production was ~1.2 million km. The historical growth of power cables was on account of factors such as the electrification of rural villages and households (Power for All) under SAUBHAGYA and DDUGJY scheme; investments in transmission and distribution systems for modernisation and increasing efficiencies; increased demand from renewable power generation, particularly solar and wind energy; infrastructure development initiatives taken by the Indian government such as Smart Cities Mission, and mass transit systems; and improved lifestyle and consumer spending.

Key growth drivers for power cables

The manufacturing industry and infrastructure development are key drivers of the demand for cables and conductors, with significant growth potential in areas such as power generation, residential and commercial construction. As governments invest in initiatives like power grid expansion, housing development and infrastructure upgrades, the cable market is poised to benefit from these efforts in the coming years. Furthermore, the shift towards renewable energy sources, such as solar and wind power, is creating new opportunities for industry. Some of the key drivers are as follows:

Favourable government power transmission and distribution schemes

The domestic power cables industry is expected to witness moderate growth driven by RDSS, which is aimed at network modernisation and system loss reduction, PGCIL investments in system strengthening, new GEC projects, and state transmission line additions.

Additionally, the power cables industry is expected to draw significant demand from spending on network modernisation and system loss reduction through deployment of armoured cabling, aerial bunched cables, and reconductoring. Moreover, underground cabling, renovation and modernisation of existing transmission lines of 66 kV and below would be required for loss reduction.

Entry of private players in Transmission & Distribution space

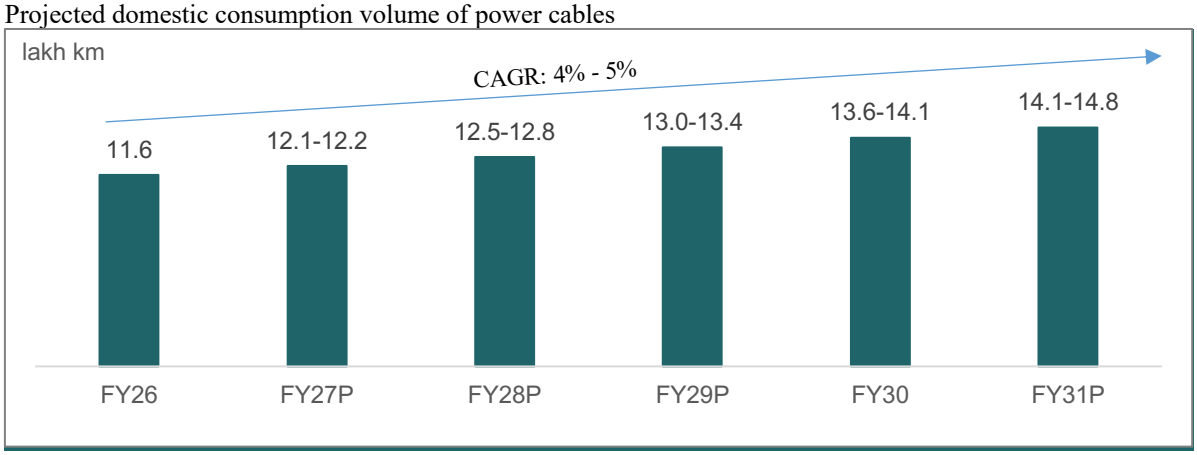

With the introduction of TBCB and VGF schemes for intra-state projects, the share of private sector players in the power transmission sector is expected to increase gradually over the long term. With increased awarding of projects under TBCB in the future, private participants are expected to play a key role in driving domestic power demand, thereby positively impacting the demand of cables including transmission and power cables.

Capacity Additions in the power generation segment

Robust power capacity additions of more than 200 GW are expected by FY31. Solar and wind installed capacity in India are expected to grow by ~170 GW and ~47 GW respectively from FY26 to FY31 as per government targets. Such multifold generation expansion plans also require large-scale development in the transmission sector because grid-connected solar and wind plants are usually located in far-flung areas which have limited transmission infrastructure. Extensive transmission and cable infrastructure transmit power from remote generation sites to consumption centres. This in turn is expected to drive the demand for cables and conductors.

Outlook on Market Size of Power Cables

Projected domestic consumption volume of power cables

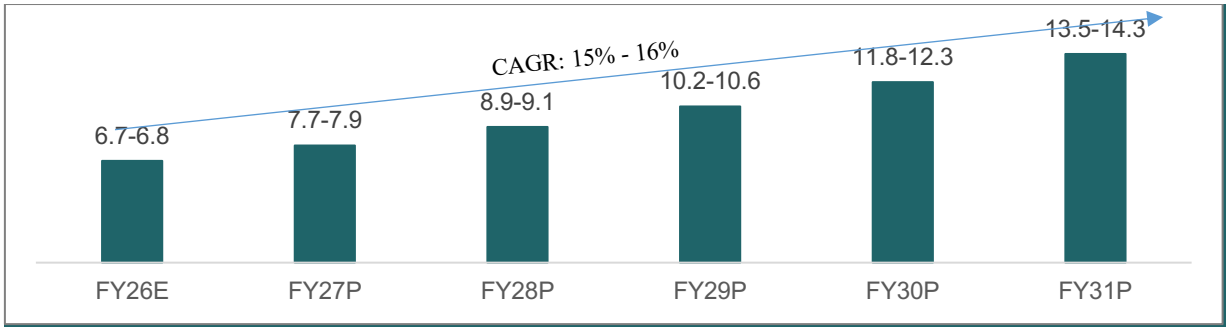

Note: P-Projected
Source: Crisil Intelligence

The projected rise in domestic power cable consumption from ~12 lakh km in FY26 to ~15 lakh km by FY31, at a 4–5% CAGR, reflects the physical expansion of India's electricity grid rather than a purely commercial demand estimate. The volume trajectory is well supported by government infrastructure data. India's national power transmission network has crossed 5 lakh circuit kilometres along with 1,407 GVA of transformation capacity, with the network having grown 71.6% since 2014 through the addition of 2.09 lakh ckm of transmission lines and 876 GVA of transformation capacity.

Looking ahead, the Central Electricity Authority's National Electricity Plan envisages a further 1,91,000 ckm of transmission lines and 1,270 GVA of transformation capacity between FY23 and FY32 for 220 kV and above networks, with inter-regional transmission capacity set to rise to 143 GW by 2027 and 168 GW by 2032, largely to evacuate renewable power toward the government's 500 GW non-fossil capacity target for 2030.

In terms of value, CRISIL Intelligence expects power cables market size to grow at a CAGR of ~15-16% between FY26 – FY31, and reach ~USD 13.5 – 14.3 billion by FY31 due to ongoing infrastructure development projects, feeder segregation, RDSS initiatives, surge in construction activities and robust capacity addition plan.

Renewable Sector Assessment

Overview of Different Renewable Energy Sources

Renewable sources are a clean source of energy as they do not burn like fossil fuels, preventing the release of pollutants into the air. Increasing use of RE would help avoid carbon emissions, and thereby, restrict global warming. Further, the wide availability of these resources makes them less susceptible to depletion unlike conventional sources of energy. While there are multiple renewable sources that can be utilised, including solar, wind, small hydro, biomass, and bagasse remain key sources.

Renewable energy installations (incl. large hydro) have increased more than four times to ~275 GW as of March 2026, as compared with ~63 GW as of March 2012, led by various central and state-level incentives. As of March-2026, installed grid connected RE generation capacity (incl. large hydro) in India constituted ~52% of the total installed generation base in India. This growth has been led by solar power, which has grown to ~150 GW from merely ~0.09 GW over the discussed time period (i.e., from March 2012).

India's RE (incl. large hydro) capacity was 52% at the end of March 2026

Benefits of Renewable Energy Over Conventional Sources

Sustainable and endless - RE can meet our energy needs indefinitely, reducing reliance on depleting resources and mitigating the risks associated with resource depletion.

Cost-effective - The cost of RE has decreased dramatically over the years from Rs 10-11 per/kWh to Rs 3-4/kWh, making it more competitive with conventional energy sources.

Energy independence and security - RE can reduce dependence on imported fossil fuels, improving energy security and reducing the risks associated with price volatility. By generating energy locally, renewable energy can reduce reliance on distant energy sources, improving energy independence and reducing the risks associated with supply disruptions.

Flexibility and scalability - RE can be deployed at various scales, from small rooftop solar installations to large wind farms or hydroelectric power plants. Renewable energy can be easily integrated into existing energy systems, allowing for a gradual transition to a low-carbon economy.

Technological innovation - Renewable energy has driven innovation in energy technologies, leading to improved efficiency, reduced costs, and increased adoption. Conventional energy sources, have been slow to innovate, relying on traditional technologies and business models that are no longer sustainable or competitive.
Historical Trend in Segment Wise Installed RE Capacity

With the increased support of the Government and improved economics, the RE sector has become attractive from an investor's perspective. During FY18 to FY26, India added ~160 GW of RE (incl. large hydro) capacities. The installed RE (incl. large hydro) capacity has grown from 114 GW in FY18 to 275 GW in FY26 at a CAGR of 11.6%. Solar segment led the capacity additions with cumulative additions of ~129 GW followed by wind ~22 GW during the same period. The other RE sources added ~4 GW during the same period.

Historical Trend in RE Generation

The share of renewable energy (including large hydro) in the total supply mix was ~19% in FY19 which has now increased to 26% in FY24. The share of solar and wind energy was ~15% of the total energy supplied during FY26. The share of large hydro was ~9% and the remaining 2% from other RE sources.

The RE generation has increased by 4.3% from FY19 – FY26. Within the RE generation, the share of large hydro anis maximum followed by solar and wind. The solar generation has increased at a CAGR of 31.4% and wind generation has increased by 10.6% over the same period. The share of large hydro has reduced from 52% to 35%, whereas the share of solar generation has doubled from 15% to 37% in FY26.

Renewable Purchase Obligation

As per the Electricity Act, 2003, the State Electricity Regulatory Commissions (SERCs) are required to fix the purchase of a minimum percentage of electricity from renewable energy sources out of total electricity consumption (excluding hydro) for obligated entities – discoms, open access consumers and captive power users – in the state. The renewable purchase obligation (RPO) could be met by purchase of renewable energy or through purchase of renewable energy certificates (RECs). In the event of default by an obligated entity in any fiscal, SERCs may direct the obligated entity to pay a penalty or to deposit an amount determined by the relevant SERC, into a fund to be utilised for, among others, the purchase of RECs.

To promote the installation of solar power systems across various Indian states, the government amended the National Tariff Policy in fiscal 2016, proposing an increase in RPO target to 21.0% by FY22. Consequently, several states set RPO targets based on their respective RE potential.

The Ministry of Power (MoP) in July 2022 had declared hydro power obligation (HPO) and energy storage obligation (ESO) trajectory till fiscal 2030 in addition to RPO. Later in October 2023, the MoP revised its RPO target from fiscal 2025 to 2030 and removed ESO from the RPO category. In this RPO notification, MoP added a category for distributed renewable energy which would be met only from the projects that are less than 10 MW.

India's RE Targets Announced by the Government

In 2014, the government set a target to achieve 175 GW of renewable energy in India- 100 GW of solar energy by December 2022, 60 GW of wind energy by December 2022 and 15 GW via other sources, including small hydro projects, biomass projects and other renewable technologies, by December 2022. As on March 2026, India had renewable capacity (excl. large hydro) of 223.27 GW of which 150.26 was from solar, 56.09 from wind and balance from small hydro, bio power and waste to energy.

The Paris Agreement was adopted by 196 Parties at the UN Climate Change Conference (COP21) in Paris, France, on 12 December 2015. Under the Paris Agreement, the Indian government has committed to generating 50% of electricity from non-fossil fuels sources by 2030. The country also has a target of setting up 500 GW of non-fossil fuel-based capacity by 2030 and providing 1.7 million solar pumps to farmers under the Pradhan Mantri-Kusum Yojana.

The 2021 United Nations COP26 was the 26th United Nations Climate Change conference, held at Glasgow, Scotland during Oct-Nov 2021 and a draft agreement was circulated with respect to climate change action. The proposal aims at updating the time frame for revised targets NDCs to next year — much sooner than the requirement of every five years as laid out in the 2015 Paris Climate Accord. India updated its NDCs as follows:

- To reduce Emissions Intensity of its GDP by 45% by 2030, from 2005 level
- To achieve about 50% cumulative electric power installed capacity from non-fossil fuel-based energy resources by 2030,
- By the year 2070, India will achieve the target of Net Zero

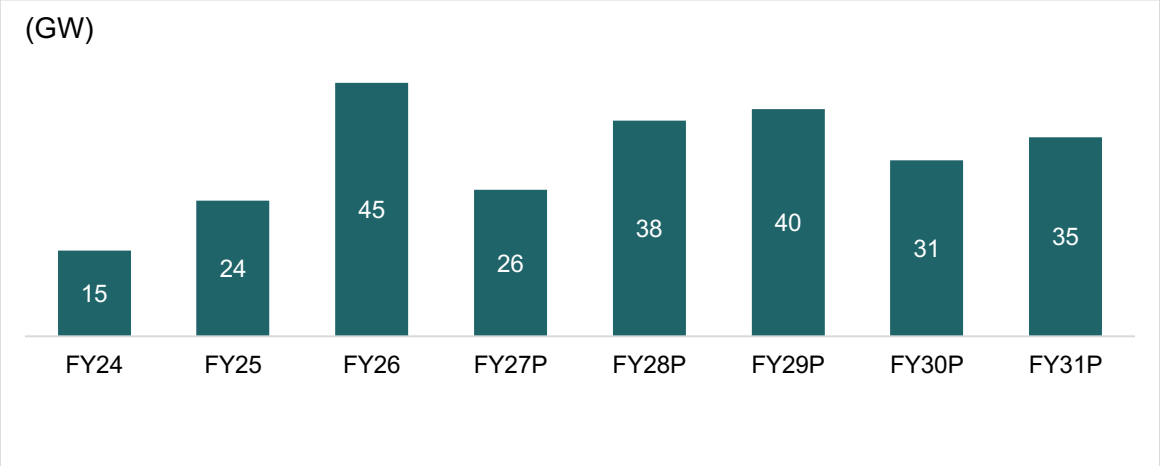

These are more ambitious and are beyond the previous NDCs agreed under the Paris Agreement. These will provide a new thrust to the RE Sector in India and will boost the already accelerating RE Sector. These will also provide guidelines to the Regulators as well as Government Authorities while setting the rules, regulations, and targets.

Growth of Renewable Energy Sector

Solar

Solar sector growth in India primarily spurred by robust government backing, demonstrated through an aggressive tendering strategy. Some of the key catalysts include technological advancements, affordable financing, supportive policies, thrust on go-green initiatives/sustainability targets, cost optimisation due to increased grid electricity tariffs, subsidy initiative (specially in rooftop solar) and various incentives such as ISTS charge waiver.

Expected Solar Capacity Additions

Note: P-Projected
Source: Crisil Intelligence

Crisil Intelligence foresees solar power capacity additions of ~170 GW over FY27 – FY31. The solar additions momentum continued in FY27, with 11.9 GW solar capacity already added during the first quarter of FY27. Owing to a robust pipeline of projects and favourable government policies, solar capacity additions will be driven by additions under:

- Public sector undertakings (PSUs): The Central Public Sector Undertaking (CPSU) programme under Jawaharlal Nehru National Solar Mission (JNNSM) was extended to 12 GW in February 2019. The government is also encouraging cash-rich PSUs to set up renewable energy projects. In particular, NTPC has a target of installing ~35 GW of renewable energy capacities by FY28. Similarly, NHPC had allocated 2 GW of projects in 2020, while the Indian Railways has committed to 20 GW of solar power by 2030. Other PSUs such as Neyveli Lignite Corporation (NLC), defence organisations, and governmental establishments are also expected to contribute to this addition.

- Rooftop solar projects: Crisil Intelligence expect 70-80 GW of rooftop solar projects to be commissioned by fiscal 2031, led by PM Surya Ghar Yojana and industrial and commercial consumers under net/gross metering schemes of various states.

- Open-access solar projects: Crisil Intelligence expect 35-45 GW of open-access solar projects under the capex and opex modes to be commissioned by fiscal 2031, led by the Green Energy Open Access Rules, 2022, sustainability initiatives and RE100 targets of corporate consumers, and better tariff structures and policies in states such as Uttar Pradesh and Karnataka, which are longer term in nature. The extension of the Approved List of Models and Manufacturers (ALMM) List-II compliance deadline for net-metering and open-access projects until December 2026 is also expected to support near-term execution and reduce supply-side disruption in FY27.

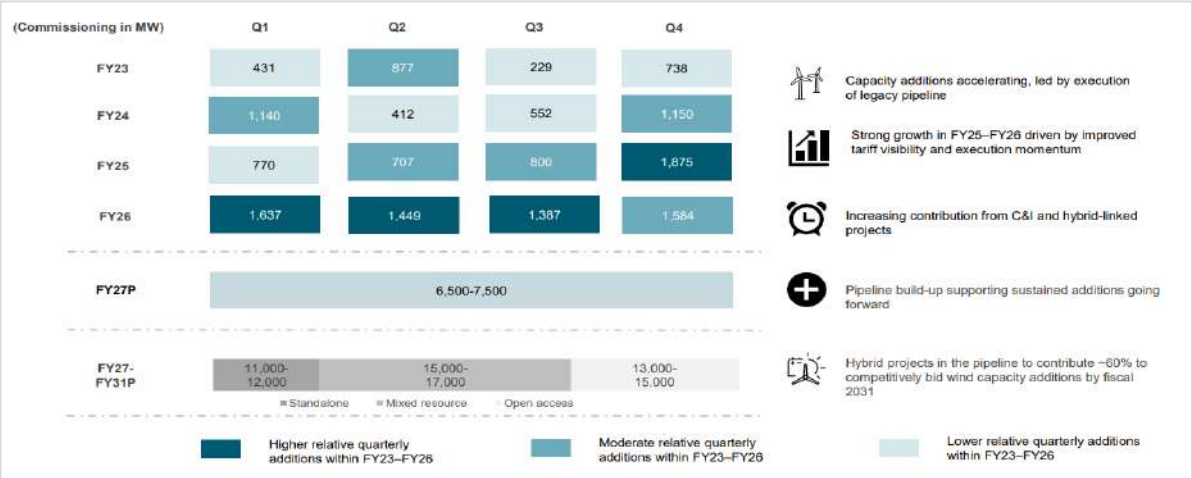

Wind

CRISIL Intelligence expects capacity additions to grow over the next five years led by pipeline build-up under existing schemes and new tendering schemes, improvement in technology, thrust on green hydrogen, renewable generation obligation and mixed resource models (Round-the-clock, hybrid, firm power, etc.). However, incremental challenges pertaining to wind-site/land availability, grid connectivity, and viability at low tariffs due to elevated capital cost pose challenges for the sector. Considering this, CRISIL Intelligence expects wind power capacity additions of ~47 GW over FY27 – FY31.

Crisil Intelligence believes the sector will be driven with the large pipeline under the existing schemes and new tenders likely to be floated in the coming fiscals. The factors that will impact wind capacity additions over the long term are:

- Increasing acceptance of higher tariffs for wind among distribution companies, which enables developers to quote viable tariffs.
- Healthy pipeline buildup of standalone wind tenders issued in FY25 and FY26 can lead to high allocation and commissioning in upcoming years.
- The mixed-resource segment is estimated to account for 60% of total additions in the competitively bid wind segment, adding 15-17 GW from FY27 to FY31.
- Further, as per Crisil's estimates, increasing adoption of wind in open access will lead to additions of 13-15 GW from FY27 to FY31.

Telecom Sector Assessment

The telecom industry in India is the second largest in the world with a subscriber base of 1.2 billion (wireless & wireline subscribers) as of August-2024 and has registered a strong growth in the last decade. This growth is attributed to the increasing affordability of smartphones, low data costs, and a large young population. The introduction of 4G and 5G technology has spurred significant growth and telecom industry is playing an important role in India's digital transformation, enabling services like e governance, digital payments, and online education. The India telecom market is split into three segments; mobile (wireless), fixed-line (wireline), internet services.

Telecom Industry Segmentation

Telecom Sector Gross Revenue, USD billion, FY19 to FY26

Source: IBEF, Telecom Regulatory Authority in India, CRISIL Intelligence

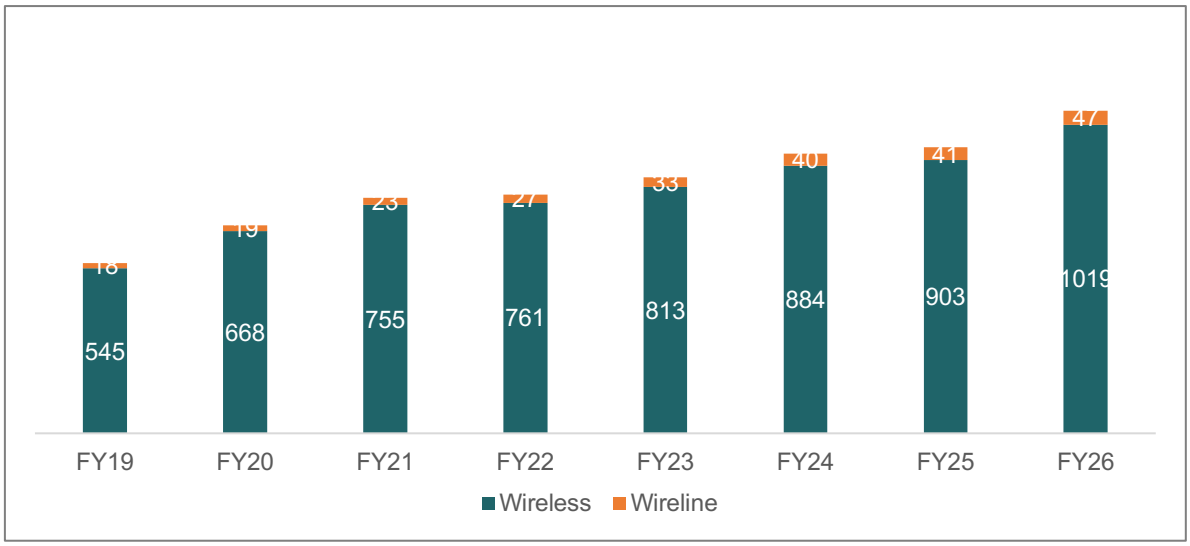

India's telecom sector has demonstrated strong revenue growth over the past few years, reflecting increasing consumption of digital services and sustained investments in network infrastructure. The sector's gross revenue increased from USD 34 billion in FY19 to USD 46 billion in FY26, representing a CAGR of ~4.3%. Revenue grew steadily from USD 34 billion in FY19 to USD 37 billion in FY21, before declining to USD 30 billion in FY22, primarily due to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, subscriber rationalization, and financial stress within the telecom industry. However, the sector recovered strongly thereafter, with revenue increasing to USD 37 billion in FY23, USD 39 billion in FY24, and reaching a record USD 46 billion in FY26. The post-pandemic recovery has been supported by higher average revenue per user (ARPU), tariff revisions by telecom operators, rapid 4G and 5G adoption, increasing mobile data consumption, expansion of fiber broadband services, and rising enterprise demand for digital connectivity.

The sustained improvement in telecom sector revenues has strengthened the financial position of telecom operators, enabling higher capital expenditure on network expansion and modernization. Increased investments in 5G rollout, fiberization of telecom towers, Fiber-to-the-Home (FTTH) deployment, rural broadband expansion, and data centre connectivity are driving the installation of optical fiber cables, telecom ducts, and communication cables. This, in turn, supports demand for HDPE, LLDPE, XLPE, PVC, and flame-retardant (FR/LSZH) polymer compounds, which are widely used in cable insulation, sheathing, jacketing, and protective duct applications. Consequently, the upward trend in telecom sector revenues serves as a positive indicator for polymer compound manufacturers supplying the telecom cable industry, as stronger operator revenues generally translate into higher infrastructure investments and increased consumption of specialty polymer compounds.

Growth of telecom sector

Broadband subscriber base

Source: Telecom Regulatory Authority of India, CRISIL Intelligence

India's broadband subscriber base has witnessed robust growth over the past few years, reflecting the country's rapid digital transformation and increasing internet penetration. Total wireless broadband subscribers increased from 545 million in FY19 to 1,019 million in FY26, registering a CAGR of ~9.4%, primarily driven by widespread 4G adoption, rapid 5G rollout, affordable data tariffs, increasing smartphone penetration, and rising consumption of digital services such as OTT platforms, online education, digital payments, cloud computing, and remote working. Meanwhile, wireline broadband subscribers expanded at a significantly faster pace, rising from 18 million in FY19 to 47 million in FY26, corresponding to a CAGR of ~14%, supported by increasing deployment of Fiber-to-the-Home (FTTH) networks, higher demand for high-speed internet, smart home applications, enterprise connectivity, and government-led rural broadband initiatives such as BharatNet.

The sustained growth in broadband subscribers is translating into substantial investments in telecom infrastructure, particularly optical fiber networks. Expansion of FTTH connections requires extensive deployment of optical fiber cables, drop cables, distribution cables, underground ducts, and associated network infrastructure. Similarly, increasing wireless broadband usage is driving telecom operators to expand and fiberize their 4G and 5G tower networks to support higher data traffic and lower latency. These developments significantly increase the consumption of polymer compounds such as HDPE, LLDPE, XLPE, PVC, and flame-retardant (FR/LSZH) compounds, which are extensively used for cable insulation, jacketing, sheathing, and protective duct applications. Consequently, broadband expansion acts as a key demand driver for polymer compound manufacturers supplying the telecom cable industry. Looking ahead, continued investments in 5G infrastructure, fiber network expansion, data centres, smart cities, and Digital India initiatives are expected to sustain long-term demand for telecom cables and specialty polymer compounds, making the telecom sector an important growth avenue for polymer compound manufacturers.

Telephone Subscribers, million, FY-19 to FY-26

Source: Telecom Regulatory Authority of India, CRISIL Intelligence

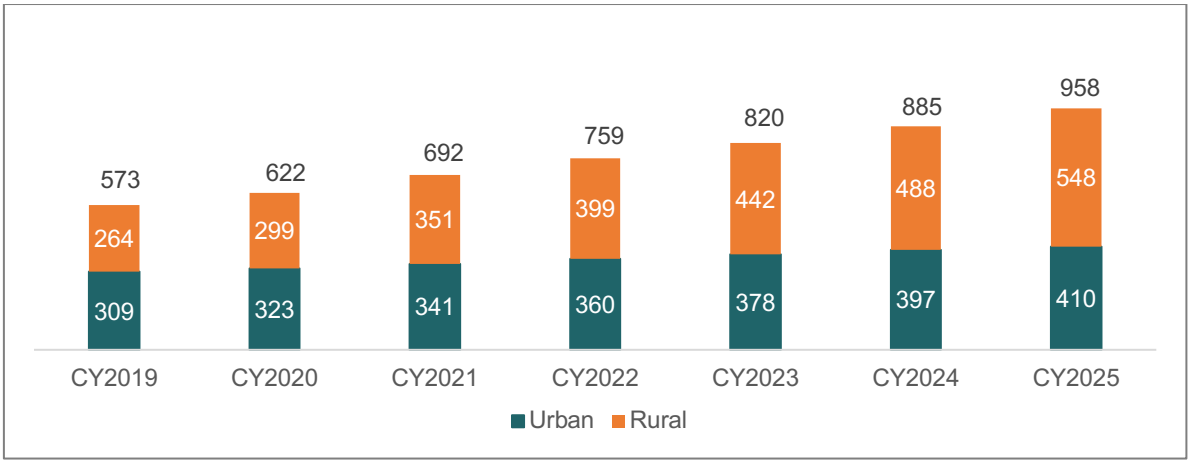

India's telephone subscriber base has remained relatively stable over the past few years, indicating that the market has reached a mature stage with high mobile penetration. Total wireless telephone subscribers increased modestly from 1,162 million in FY19 to 1,282 million in FY27, representing a CAGR of ~1.4%. The slower growth reflects market saturation, as the majority of the population already has access to mobile services, with incremental additions primarily driven by rural connectivity, multiple SIM ownership, and the increasing adoption of machine-to-machine (M2M) and Internet of Things (IoT) devices. In contrast, wireline telephone subscribers nearly doubled, increasing from 25 million in FY19 to 48 million in FY27, supported by the rapid expansion of Fiber-to-the-Home (FTTH) broadband services. Unlike traditional landline growth, this increase is largely attributable to telecom operators bundling voice services with fiber broadband connections for residential and commercial customers.

While the growth in telephone subscribers alone is not a direct indicator of cable demand, it reflects the continued expansion and modernization of telecom infrastructure required to support increasing network capacity and service quality. Rising wireless subscriptions, coupled with growing mobile data consumption, necessitate investments in 4G and 5G networks, tower densification, and fiber backhaul connectivity. Similarly, the growth in wireline telephone connections signifies continued deployment of FTTH infrastructure, which requires extensive optical fiber cables, underground ducts, and last-mile connectivity. These infrastructure developments support demand for HDPE, LLDPE, XLPE, PVC, and flame-retardant (FR/LSZH) polymer compounds used in cable insulation, sheathing, and protective ducting.

Internet Penetration in India

Internet penetration in India has witnessed remarkable growth over the last 5 years, establishing the country as home to the second-largest internet user base globally, with 958 million users. The internet penetration in users has increased at a CAGR of 8.9% from 2019 to 2025. This substantial growth has been primarily driven by several key factors, including the widespread availability of affordable smartphones, competitive data plans, and the government's ambitious Digital India initiatives aimed at transforming India into a digitally empowered society.

Internet Penetration, million, 2019 to 2025

Source: Internet and Mobile Association of India, CRISIL Intelligence

The growth has been driven by increasing smartphone penetration, affordable mobile data tariffs, expansion of 4G and 5G networks, rising digital literacy, government initiatives under Digital India and BharatNet, and increasing adoption of digital services such as e-commerce, OTT platforms, digital payments, online education, telemedicine, and cloud-based applications. While urban internet users increased steadily from 309 million in 2019 to 410 million in 2025 (CAGR of ~4.8%), rural internet users recorded a much stronger growth from 264 million to 548 million during the same period (CAGR of ~13.0%). Rural users surpassed urban users in 2021 and accounted for nearly 57% of India's internet users by 2025, indicating that the next phase of digital growth is increasingly being driven by rural markets.

The strong expansion in internet penetration, particularly across rural India, is significantly accelerating investments in telecom infrastructure. To support rising internet traffic and improve network coverage, telecom operators are expanding 5G networks, fiberizing telecom towers, deploying Fiber-to-the-Home (FTTH) connections, and extending broadband infrastructure into underserved regions. These investments require extensive deployment of optical fiber cables, telecom ducts, and communication cables, thereby increasing demand for HDPE, LLDPE, XLPE, PVC, and flame-retardant (FR/LSZH) polymer compounds used in cable insulation, sheathing, and protective duct applications. The faster growth of rural internet users also highlights the substantial opportunity for continued network expansion beyond metropolitan areas, suggesting sustained demand for telecom cables and associated polymer compounds over the medium to long term.

Analyzing the urban-rural ratio, we see that in 2019, rural users accounted for ~46% of total internet users, while urban users made up ~54%. However, by 2025, rural users comprised around 57% of the total internet population, reflecting a slightly faster growth rate as compared to urban areas. This shift indicates that while urban penetration is expanding, rural areas are still growing at a strong pace, driven by increased consumption of digital services, high-speed internet, and new technology innovations.

Telecom Cables

Telecom cables form the backbone of India's telecommunications infrastructure, with various types serving different purposes across the country. Optical Fiber Cables (OFC) have emerged as the primary medium for modern telecommunications, offering high-speed data transmission capabilities. Major initiatives like BharatNet extensively use OFC to connect rural areas, with key players such as Sterlite Technologies, Birla Cables, and Finolex Cables leading the manufacturing sector. These cables are crucial for 4G/5G networks, broadband, and enterprise connectivity.

Infrastructure development in India's telecom sector is driven by government initiatives like Digital India, with the BharatNet project aiming to connect all gram panchayats. Private telecom operators are also expanding their fiber networks, though they face challenges related to Right of Way (RoW) in urban areas and must choose between underground and aerial cable deployment methods.

Optic Fiber Sector

Internet and broadband have changed the world and are ever changing it. High speed telecommunication networks are the assets desired by every nation to bring about higher productivity and prosperity to their vast population. There is an ever-growing importance of the telecommunication system in the current world. The optical fibre has become the backbone of the present day high speed digital telecommunication network due to very high bandwidth and very low loss offered by it as compared to another physical medium.

The optic fibre sector in India is experiencing significant growth, driven by increasing demand for high-speed connectivity and enabled by technological advancements and government initiatives. The Optical Fibre Cable Connectivity in the country has improved significantly over the last decade. Total Optical Fibre laid increased from 1.1 million km in 2014 to 4.2 million km in December 2025. The rapid surge in data consumption, exacerbated by the widespread adoption of smartphones and data-intensive applications, necessitates efficient and high-speed data transmission networks. Additionally, the adoption of 5G technology requires advanced data transmission capabilities, further amplifying the demand for fibre optic components.

BharatNet Project, launched in 2011 as the National Optical Fibre Network (NOFN) and rebranded as BharatNet in 2015, is an ambitious initiative aimed at delivering high-speed broadband connectivity to all Gram Panchayats (GPs) in India and plays an important role in the Digital India program by bridging the digital divide in rural regions and ensuring last-mile connectivity. The project is poised to significantly increase the demand for wires and cable products in the telecom industry in India. By expanding broadband connectivity to rural areas, the project generates substantial requirements for optical fiber cables and related infrastructure. This demand is driven by the project's scale, governmental support, and the overarching goal of enhancing digital access across the country.

Indian IT Services

Indian IT services segments contributing to the Data Centre ecosystem include several key areas such as cloud services, infrastructure management, and security solutions in various industry such as banking, payment services, technology, etc. These services have become pivotal as enterprises increasingly rely on data centres for their digital transformation initiatives. Some of the services are:

1. Cloud and Infrastructure Services: This segment involves setting up, managing, and optimizing cloud-based infrastructure (IaaS, PaaS) and data center environments. Some of the key players involved are Infosys, Wipro, TCS, HCL Technologies, Tech Mahindra, etc.
    - Trends:
        - Increasing shift towards hybrid cloud and multi-cloud architectures.
        - Rising adoption of software-defined data centers (SDDC) to automate infrastructure.
        - Edge computing is gaining importance to reduce latency for real-time data.
        - Use of hyper-converged infrastructure (HCI) for simplified data center management.

Oil & Natural Gas Pipeline Sector Assessment

India's oil and natural gas pipeline infrastructure plays a crucial role in the country's energy distribution system. Currently, the natural gas pipeline network spans more than 27,000 kilometres, with major operators including GAIL, GSPL, and Reliance Gas Transportation Infrastructure managing key networks such as the Hazira-Vijaipur-Jagdishpur (HVJ) pipeline, East-West pipeline, and Dahej-Uran pipeline. The petroleum pipeline infrastructure is equally significant, comprising more than 10,000 kilometres of petroleum product pipelines, operated primarily by industry giants like Indian Oil Corporation (IOC), Hindustan Petroleum (HPCL), and Bharat Petroleum (BPCL).

The Indian government has embarked on an ambitious expansion plan through the National Gas Grid initiative, which aims to extend the gas pipeline network to 35,750 kilometres. This extensive project seeks to connect all major demand and supply centres across the country while developing regional gas grids to ensure comprehensive coverage. Several major projects are currently underway, including the Pradhan Mantri Urja Ganga Pipeline Project, the Northeast Gas Grid Project, the Jagdishpur-Haldia & Bokaro-Dhamra Pipeline Project, and the Kochi-Mangaluru Natural Gas Pipeline. These initiatives are supported by robust policy frameworks designed to increase the share of natural gas in India's energy mix to 15% by 2030, complemented by unified tariff policies and the granting of infrastructure status to gas pipelines.

However, the expansion of pipeline infrastructure faces several significant challenges. Land acquisition issues continue to be a major hurdle, often causing project delays and cost escalations. Environmental clearances, project financing, right of way challenges, and regulatory complexities also pose substantial obstacles to timely project completion. Despite these challenges, the government remains committed to addressing these issues through policy reforms and streamlined approval processes.

These developments in pipeline infrastructure are expected to have far-reaching implications for India's economic growth, industrial development, and environmental goals. The expansion of the pipeline network will enable better access to cleaner fuels, reduce transportation costs, and contribute to the country's energy security. As India continues to grow and develop, the role of pipeline infrastructure in supporting this growth while facilitating the transition to cleaner energy sources becomes increasingly critical.

City Gas Distribution

City Gas Distribution in India represents a crucial infrastructure system that delivers natural gas to end-users in urban areas through an intricate network of pipelines. The system primarily focuses on supplying Compressed Natural Gas (CNG) for vehicles and Piped Natural Gas (PNG) for domestic, commercial, and industrial consumers. The sector is regulated by the Petroleum and Natural Gas Regulatory Board (PNGRB), which oversees licensing, monitoring, and safety standards implementation across the country's CGD networks.

The implementation of CGD networks offers numerous benefits to both the economy and environment. It provides an environmentally friendly alternative to conventional fuels, proves cost-effective for consumers, and helps reduce India's dependency on imported oil. The system has demonstrated significant advantages in terms of safety compared to traditional cooking fuels and has contributed substantially to reducing air pollution in urban areas. However, the sector faces several challenges, including high initial infrastructure costs, limited natural gas availability, complications in obtaining pipeline laying permissions in urban areas, competition from alternative fuels, and the need for greater public awareness and acceptance.

The Indian government has shown strong commitment to developing the CGD sector through various initiatives. These include the development of the National Gas Grid, integration with the Smart Cities Mission, and the implementation of the Pradhan Mantri Urja Ganga Project. The government has also provided robust policy support for natural gas infrastructure development, aiming to increase the share of natural gas from 6% to 15% by 2030 in India's energy mix.

To achieve the target of 15% by 2030 and expand the CGD network to cover 70% of the population with access to cleaner cooking fuel (PNG) and transportation fuel (CNG), the government plan to invest approximately INR 3 trillion in gas infrastructure, which includes the development of pipelines, LNG terminals, and CGD networks over the next five years. As on April 2026, the total number of CNG station and PNG connections were 8,873 and 16.9 million, respectively.

The government is focused on expanding the natural gas pipeline network to improve gas availability throughout India. This expansion includes adding approximately 10,805 km of pipelines to the existing network. As of March 2026, the operational natural gas pipeline network was 27,905 km, with the expansion aiming to complete the National Gas Grid. The "One Nation, One Gas Grid" initiative aims to develop natural gas infrastructure and ensure a unified tariff for natural gas pipelines. An investment of approximately USD 4.95 billion is expected from companies to build natural gas pipeline infrastructure in the northeastern states and the northern territories of Kashmir and Ladakh.

Midstream Oil Pipeline Infrastructure

India's midstream oil pipeline infrastructure represents a critical component of the nation's energy transportation system, comprising an extensive network that spans over more than 10,000 kilometers across the country. This vast network serves as the backbone of India's oil and petroleum product distribution, connecting major ports, refineries, and consumption centers through a sophisticated web of pipelines that ensures efficient and cost-effective transportation of both crude oil and refined products.

The infrastructure is primarily operated by several key state-owned enterprises, with Indian Oil Corporation Limited (IOCL) maintaining the largest pipeline network. Other significant players include Hindustan Petroleum Corporation Limited (HPCL), Bharat Petroleum Corporation Limited (BPCL), Gas Authority of India Limited (GAIL), and Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC). Government Policies & Initiatives

The Indian government has implemented numerous policies and initiatives to develop and regulate the oil & natural gas pipeline sector. At the forefront is the National Gas Grid initiative, which aims to expand the current pipeline network from 25,429 km to 35,750 km, focusing on connecting major demand and supply centers across the country.

The policy framework includes key measures like the Hydrocarbon Exploration and Licensing Policy (HELP), which provides uniform licensing for exploration and production, along with revenue sharing models and marketing freedom. The Open Acreage Licensing Policy (OALP) complements this by allowing companies to choose blocks for exploration through a transparent bidding process. Infrastructure development is another crucial aspect, with investments in strategic petroleum reserves, gas trading hubs, and LNG terminals.

The regulatory framework is overseen by the Petroleum and Natural Gas Regulatory Board (PNGRB), which implements the common carrier principle for pipeline usage and manages authorizations for laying, building, and operating pipelines. The government also provides financial incentives such as capital grants for pipeline projects in difficult terrains, Viability Gap Funding (VGF), and various tax benefits for infrastructure development.

City Gas Distribution (CGD) has received special attention, with ongoing expansion of networks across cities through bidding rounds for geographical areas and a focus on domestic PNG connections. The Make in India initiative promotes domestic manufacturing of pipeline equipment, technology transfer, and skill development, while also implementing local content requirements.

Environmental policies and digital initiatives have also been integrated into the sector's development. These include emission standards, safety regulations, environmental impact assessments, and the implementation of SCADA systems for real-time monitoring and smart metering. Furthermore, the government has established cross-border cooperation through international pipeline projects and energy cooperation agreements to enhance regional gas grid connectivity.

All these policies and initiatives are designed to achieve multiple objectives: ensuring energy security, increasing the share of natural gas in the energy mix, reducing import dependency, creating robust infrastructure, promoting clean energy, and generating employment opportunities in the sector. This comprehensive approach demonstrates the government's commitment to developing a sustainable and efficient oil and natural gas pipeline network in India.

Water Pipeline Sector

India's water pipeline infrastructure has undergone significant transformation since the country's independence, evolving from basic urban-centric networks to an extensive system serving both urban and rural areas. The initial development focused primarily on urban centres and agricultural irrigation, with substantial expansion occurring during the Green Revolution of the 1960s and 1970s, which revolutionized India's agricultural landscape and necessitated comprehensive water distribution systems.

Major metropolitan areas have developed complex distribution networks, though they continue to grapple with challenges such as aging infrastructure and significant water losses through leakages. The rural water supply scenario has seen remarkable improvement under the ambitious Jal Jeevan Mission, which aims to provide tap water connections to every rural household. As of February 2025, the Jal Jeevan Mission (JJM) has successfully provided tap water connections to 12.20 crore additional rural households, bringing the total coverage to over 15.44 crore households, which accounts for ~80%% of all rural households in India.

Several major projects are reshaping India's water pipeline landscape. The National Water Grid project represents an ambitious endeavour to interconnect major rivers, facilitating water transfer from surplus to deficit regions. Various state-level initiatives have also made significant contributions, including Karnataka's Cauvery Water Supply Scheme, Gujarat's extensive Narmada Canal Network, and Maharashtra's Jalyukt Shivar Abhiyan, each addressing region-specific water distribution challenges.

Types of Coatings in Water Pipeline

Pipeline coatings play a crucial role in protecting water infrastructure, with several types available for different applications. When selecting a coating system, several factors must be considered, including environmental conditions, operating temperature, installation method, maintenance requirements, cost constraints, and expected service life. Local regulations and surface preparation requirements also play crucial roles in the decision-making process. Each coating type has its specific advantages and limitations, and the choice ultimately depends on the particular requirements of the pipeline project, including its location, operating conditions, and budget constraints.

The effectiveness of any coating system also relies heavily on proper application and maintenance procedures. Regular inspection and maintenance programs are essential to ensure the coating continues to provide adequate protection throughout the pipeline's service life. As technology advances, new coating solutions continue to emerge, offering improved protection and longer service life for water pipeline infrastructure.

Demand Drivers for Water Pipeline Network

Population Growth and Urbanization

India's rapidly growing population, particularly in urban areas, is a primary driver for water pipeline network expansion. As cities expand and new urban centres emerge, the demand for reliable water infrastructure intensifies. Migration from rural to urban areas further strains existing water supply systems, necessitating the development of new pipeline networks and the enhancement of current infrastructure to meet the growing needs of urban populations.

Infrastructure Development

The ongoing infrastructure development across India, including Smart City initiatives and industrial corridors, creates a substantial demand for water pipeline networks. New residential complexes, townships, and commercial developments require comprehensive water supply systems. Government focus on infrastructure improvement has led to increased investments in water pipeline projects, making them an integral part of modern urban development plans.

Water Scarcity and Quality Issues

Depleting groundwater levels and deteriorating water quality are critical concerns driving the need for efficient water pipeline networks. Many regions face severe water scarcity, while others struggle with contaminated water sources. This situation necessitates the development of robust pipeline systems that can transport water from distant sources and ensure proper treatment and distribution, making water scarcity management a key driver for pipeline network expansion.

Government Initiatives

Various government programs, such as the Jal Jeevan Mission and AMRUT, significantly drive the demand for water pipeline networks. These initiatives aim to provide universal access to clean water and improve urban infrastructure. State and central government policies focusing on water supply enhancement create a favourable environment for pipeline network development, supported by substantial funding allocations.

Industrial Growth

The expanding industrial sector, including manufacturing units and Special Economic Zones, generates significant demand for water pipeline networks. Industries require reliable water supply for their operations, leading to the development of dedicated industrial water supply infrastructure. This growth necessitates both new pipeline networks and upgrades to existing systems to meet industrial water demands.

Agricultural Requirements

Agricultural needs significantly influence water pipeline network development, especially in regions dependent on irrigation. Modern farming techniques and crop diversification require reliable water supply systems. The agricultural sector's water demands drive the development of pipeline networks that can efficiently transport water to farming areas while minimizing losses during distribution.

Government Policies & Initiatives

The Indian Government has implemented a comprehensive suite of policies and initiatives aimed at revolutionizing the country's water pipeline network. At the forefront is the Jal Jeevan Mission (JJM), launched in 2019 with an ambitious budget allocation of approximately INR 3.60 lakh crores. This flagship program aims to provide Functional Household Tap Connection (FHTC) to every rural household by 2024, emphasizing sustainable water supply through community participation and incorporating robust water quality monitoring systems. The mission particularly focuses on addressing the needs of water-scarce and quality-affected areas, marking a significant step toward universal water access in rural India.

In urban areas, the government has launched the AMRUT (Atal Mission for Rejuvenation and Urban Transformation) and Smart Cities Mission, which work in tandem to modernize urban water infrastructure. AMRUT specifically targets 500 cities, aiming to ensure comprehensive water supply coverage while promoting crucial reforms in urban water management. The Smart Cities Mission complements these efforts by incorporating advanced technologies such as SCADA systems, smart metering, and IoT-based monitoring solutions, pushing towards the goal of 24x7 water supply in selected smart cities. These urban initiatives are further strengthened by the National Water Policy, which provides a comprehensive framework for water resource management and sustainable infrastructure development.

State-specific initiatives and the National Rural Drinking Water Programme (NRDWP) form another crucial layer of the government's approach. States have implemented various programs tailored to their specific needs, often utilizing Public-Private Partnership (PPP) models and engaging local bodies in water management. The NRDWP specifically focuses on sustainable drinking water supply in rural areas, emphasizing community participation in maintenance and providing special provisions for tribal and backward areas. These programs are supported by robust financial initiatives that combine central and state government funding, external agency support, and private sector participation through mechanisms like municipal bonds.

Source: Company Filings

Between FY24 and FY26, the company recorded steady growth in its overall sales, with revenue increasing from INR 2,963.58 million in FY24 to INR 3,494.28 million in FY26, reflecting an overall growth of 8.6%. The growth trajectory was supported by a significant change in the product mix, as strong expansion in emerging product categories more than offset the decline in some of the company's traditional product segments. Further, Q1 FY27 sales stood at INR 1,070.26 million, indicating a healthy start to the fiscal year and suggesting continued demand momentum across the portfolio.

From a product-wise perspective, PE remained the largest contributor to sales throughout the period, generating INR 1,993.55 million in FY24 and INR 1,841.74 million in FY26. However, the segment experienced a 3.9% decline, resulting in its share of total revenue falling from ~67% in FY24 to ~53% in FY26. Despite this decline, PE continues to form the backbone of the company's revenue base, contributing INR 726.54 million in Q1 FY27 alone. Similarly, XLPE sales remained relatively stable, fluctuating between INR 489-529 million during the period and ultimately declining marginally by 1.2% between FY24 and FY26. This indicates that the segment is largely mature, with limited growth compared to other product categories.

In contrast, PVC registered modest growth, with sales increasing from INR 46.41 million in FY24 to INR 51.20 million in FY26, reflecting a 5.0% growth rate. While the segment's contribution to overall sales remains limited, the positive trend indicates stable demand. The most notable performance, however, came from the "Others" category, where sales surged from INR 422.27 million in FY24 to INR 1,112.24 million in FY26, representing an impressive 62.3% growth. As a result, the segment's share in total revenue more than doubled, increasing from ~14% in FY24 to ~32% in FY26. This segment alone contributed almost INR 690 million of incremental revenue, accounting for the majority of the company's overall sales growth during the period.

The product wise sales highlights important strategic insights. The company's growth has been driven primarily by portfolio diversification rather than expansion in its core PE and XLPE product lines. While traditional products witnessed stagnant or declining sales, the rapid growth of the "Others" segment substantially altered the revenue composition and reduced dependence on the PE business. The combined contribution of PE and XLPE declined significantly over the review period, indicating that the company is successfully broadening its product portfolio and reducing concentration risk. Nevertheless, PE continues to account for more than half of total revenue, making its performance a critical determinant of future growth.

OVERVIEW

We are a manufacturer of multiple grades of custom formulated polymer compounds, catering to diversified critical industries such as telecommunication, power, railways, water, oil and gas distribution, among others. As per CRISIL Report, polymer compounds are used as an essential raw material for sheathing, jacketing and insulation of wires and cables used in power, telecommunication and railway industries as well as coating of underground oil, gas and water pipelines, in order to provide a protective infrastructure from corrosion and external environmental factors. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. Our product portfolio is well diversified to offer varied solutions in the wire and cables and infrastructure industry, and included products such as, high density polyethylene compounds ("HDPE"), medium-density polyethylene compounds ("MDPE") and linear low-density polyethylene compounds ("LLDPE"), cross-linked polyethylene compounds ("XLPE"), halogen free flame retardant compounds ("HFFR"), polyvinyl chloride compounds ("PVC"), cable filling compounds ("CFC") and adhesive coating compounds. As per CRISIL Report, HDPE, MDPE and LLDPE compounds are used in the wire and cable industry which offer insulation, sheathing and jacketing based on the indicative requirement of the customer. While, XLPE, HFFR, PVC and CFC compounds add qualities such as strength, high voltage insulation and resistance, fire resistance and moisture resistance, as per the application of the end use product. In the wire and cable industry, polymers serve crucial functions in electrical insulation, mechanical protection, and overall cable performance. HDPE and adhesive coating compounds are key layers of 3LPE (three layer polyethylene) system ("3LPE Coating" i.e. Pipe Coating) used for coating of oil, gas and water distribution pipelines. 3LPE Coating is an effective solution for protecting high-capital-intensive pipelines from corrosion, chemicals and moisture, thereby ensuring long-term durability. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. Owing to our longstanding market presence and diversified product portfolio, we have established a PAN-India market presence. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, our operations were spread across 23 states/union territories.

Our products are integral to high-performance applications in critical industries, such as oil, gas and water, among others. The quality and effectiveness of products supplied by us is a significant indicator in ensuring longevity and sustenance of the industrial project, thereby mitigating the risk of leakage or public accidents or loss of resources invested in such projects. According to CRISIL Report, in industries such as power transmission, telecommunications, and coatings, polymer compounders must have their products, manufacturing processes, and standard operating procedures rigorously tested and approved by regulatory bodies or public sector enterprises. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. This mandatory enlistment ensures:

- Technical competence verification: It confirms that the company's products meet strict quality and performance standards essential for critical infrastructure and governmental projects.
- Regulatory compliance: The thorough evaluation process requires adherence to complex compliance and certification norms, which can be time-consuming and costly.
- Trust and credibility: Being enlisted with reputed high-status government agencies such as Maharatna, Navratna, and Miniratna CPSEs (Central Public Sector Enterprises) provides the company recognized credibility and a verified track record.
- Limited accessibility for new players: Achieving similar levels of approval and acceptance can be challenging for new entrants who lack established technical expertise, production quality, and resources, discouraging or delaying market entry.

Therefore, in order to sell our products in such industries, we are required to enlist our products with government agencies, which subject our products, manufacturing processes and standard operating procedures, to rigorous testing parameters and approves their specific usage. For instance, we made an application on January 27, 2020 with a Navratna CPSE engineering consultancy company for enlisting our Adhesive Compound and PE Compound for 3LPE Coating, and received the approval for enlistment on October 23, 2024. Accordingly, we have enlisted our products with a Maharatna CPSE power transmission company, a Navratna CPSE engineering consultancy company, a Miniratna CPSE telecommunication company and Government of Gujarat. We believe that enlistment with such agencies provides us with the technical competence to sell our products in diverse projects and industries, and constitutes a significant barrier-to-entry for new players in the polymer compound industry.

Additionally, in case of government customers who are onboarded through tender process, we are required to qualify a pre-determined financial and technical criteria to participate in tenders and onboard such customers. Despite such arduous customer onboarding and retention parameters, during the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, we served 80, 138, 113 and 109 repeat customers, and added 27, 52, 53 and 66 new customers. The bid to win ratio on the basis of bids placed at GEM Portal (Government E-marketing place - Public Procurement Portal)/ Kerala Government Portal during the Fiscals 2024, 2025 and 2026 was 30%, 0% and 20% respectively.

Our Manufacturing Facility is located at Goa which is spread across an aggregate parcel of land admeasuring about 24,220 sq. mt. ("Manufacturing Facility"). The facility is equipped with eleven machines dedicated for manufacturing each of our products, viz., Polyethylene ("PE") compounds, XLPE compounds, PVC compounds, HDPE and adhesive coating compounds and masterbatches. Additionally, we use compounding processes to mix polymers, fillers, and additives. This includes feeding systems for accurate raw material dosing, and cooling and pelletizing systems to form the mixture into uniform pellets. As on the date of this Prospectus, our Manufacturing Facility has obtained ISO 9001:2015 certification for quality management systems. Our Manufacturing Facility which is strategically situated in close proximity to Goa Port (Mormugao) from where we receive our supply of imported raw materials as well as export out finished goods to the international market. Our Manufacturing Facility also has connectivity to national highways such as, NH-66, NH-748 and NH-4 which connect Goa to Mumbai, Mangalore and Kerala. The strategic location of our Manufacturing Facility in close proximity to the ports enables us to reduce our logistic costs and enables us to offer our products at cost effective and competitive prices.

We have a quality control and product development team ("Quality Team") in our Manufacturing Facility, to carry out the required tests on the raw materials as well as final products manufactured by us, prior to their dispatch. We have set up an in-house laboratory to undertake the required tests on the intermediate and finished materials. Additionally, standard operating procedures are adopted for controlling each step of our manufacturing process to ensure compliance with the quality specifications provided by our customers. In order to ensure uniformity in the products manufactured by us, we have implemented a semi-automated manufacturing process that regulates the quantity of intermediate product added, in order to comply with predefined chemical compositions and minimise errors. We believe these quality measures improves the effectiveness of the manufacturing process, thereby improving the quality of our products.

In addition to our product portfolio, on a case to case basis, we also develop products that are customised to cater to a specific requirement of our customers. We have an in-house product development team which is assisted by third party consultants to develop varied grades of our existing products as well as develop new products with diverse industry applications. For instance, in order to address the demand for fire resistant household wires & cables we developed halogen free flame retardant compounds to provide flame retardancy and minimize smoke and corrosive gas emissions during fires. In another instance, our product development team in consultation with third party consultants had developed HDPE and adhesive coating compounds which are key layers of 3LPE Coating used in underground oil, gas and water pipelines. These coatings provide comprehensive protection to underground pipelines against mechanical damage, chemical exposure, and varying temperature conditions. Our products help enhance the life span of such pipelines and reduce maintenance costs. In order to manufacture the product, we undertook modifications to our existing manufacturing infrastructure, tested the product in-house as well as through third party testing agencies, and lastly obtained a quality certification for the final product. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, the revenue earned from HDPE and adhesive coating compounds and halogen free flame retardant compounds constituted an aggregate of 26.80%%, 19.07%, 18.41% and 19.51% respectively. We possess the capabilities and the infrastructure to develop new products in an integrated manner in our Manufacturing Facility.

Description of our Business

Our Products

The details of the products manufactured by us have been provided below:

Polyethylene compounds

As per CRISIL Report, Polyethylene ("PE") compounds are widely used in wires and cables for insulation, jacketing and sheathing purposes. The specialised compounds manufactured through these polymers are used in critical industries such as power and telecommunication. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. We typically use polyethylene or co-polymers of polyethylene for manufacturing PE compounds. The addition of these polymers is suitably modified, based on the requirement of the customer or application of the end use product. In addition to polymers, various additives such as, stabilizers, colorants, flame retardants, anti-oxidants, etc. are added to offer final material specific properties to our final products. We use raw polymers such as, HDPE, LLDPE and MDPE to add additional qualities such as, rigidity, strength, chemical and puncture resistance to our final products. The specialised compounds manufactured through these polymers are used in critical industries such as power and telecommunication. We manufacture 43 grades of PE compounds. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026, we sold all grades of PE compounds to telecommunication, power and railway industries.

HDPE and adhesive coating compounds

We manufacture HDPE and adhesive coating compounds for 3LPE Coating of industrial pipelines. As per CRISIL Report, A 3LPE Coating system consists of three layers, viz., a base layer of fusion bonded epoxy, an intermediate adhesive layer, and an outer layer of HDPE. The adhesive used in these pipelines is specially formulated to ensure compatibility between the epoxy and the polyethylene layers, enabling the layers to work as a single, integrated protective system. The final HDPE layer provides mechanical strength and shields the pipeline from soil stress, impact, and moisture. Together, these three layers offer long-lasting corrosion protection and mechanical durability, making 3LPE Coatings ideal for pipelines laid underground or in harsh environments. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161.

We manufacture 4 grades of HDPE and adhesive coating compounds. During the Fiscal 2025, we sold all grades of HDPE and adhesive coating compounds to oil and gas and water distribution industries.

The sale of PE compounds (including HDPE/MDPE/LLDPE/CFC/HFFR/MB/PP) accounted for ₹ 9,106.96 lakhs, ₹ 18,417.41 lakhs, ₹ 18,641.11 lakhs and ₹ 19,935.45 lakhs, representing 85.09%, 52.71%, 56.76% and 67.26%, respectively of our total revenue as of for the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

Cross-linked polyethylene compounds

As per CRISIL Report, XLPE compounds are widely used as insulating materials in power cables due to their thermal, electrical, and mechanical properties. XLPE is produced by chemically cross-linking polyethylene chains, which transforms the thermoplastic polymer into a thermoset material. This cross-linking process significantly enhances the material's ability to withstand high temperatures, electrical stress, and environmental factors such as moisture and chemicals. In power cable applications, XLPE insulation provides superior dielectric strength and thermal resistance, allowing cables to operate safely at elevated temperatures continuously, withstanding short-circuit conditions. Additionally, XLPE offers mechanical toughness, abrasion resistance, and long-term stability, making it ideal for both low-voltage and high-voltage power transmission and distribution systems. Its low dielectric constant and low dissipation factor also contribute to energy efficiency in electrical networks. Overall, XLPE compounds have become the preferred choice for modern cable insulation due to their durability, reliability, and performance under demanding service conditions. In accordance with the end use application, we undertake modifications in the basic polymer structure to modify the effectiveness of the finished product. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. We manufacture XLPE compounds through polyethylene or co-polymers of polyethylene by adding silane and peroxide, along with various additives. Additionally, we manufacture 7 grades of XLPE compounds. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026, we sold all grades of XLPE compounds to power and telecommunication industries.

The sale of XLPE compounds accounted for ₹1,369.23 lakhs, lakhs, ₹4,891.03 lakhs, ₹ 5,287.72 lakhs and ₹ 5,013.63 lakhs, representing 12.79%, 14.00%, 16.10% and 16.92%, respectively of our total revenue as of for the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three fiscals.

Halogen free flame retardant compounds

As per CRISIL Report, Halogen free flame retardant ("HFFR") compounds are extensively used in cable insulation. In addition to their insulation and flame retardant properties, these compounds reduce the emission of toxic and corrosive gases during combustion. A key benefit is their ability to produce low smoke, critically improving visibility for evacuation during fire incidents. Furthermore, HFFR compounds are characterized by zero or very low halogen acid gas emission, eliminating the release of harmful, corrosive gases, thereby protecting human health and sensitive equipment. Their applications span building and construction, including public buildings, high-rise residential areas, and critical infrastructure. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. We manufacture HFFR compounds through polyethylene or co-polymers of polyethylene by adding mineral fillers and flame retardant fillers. Additionally, we manufacture 12 grades of HFFR compounds. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026, we sold all grades of HFFR compounds to power and telecommunication industries. For details of revenue earned from the sale of HFFR compounds during the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the preceding three Fiscals, please refer to "- Description of our Business - Our Products - HDPE and adhesive coating compounds" on page 255 of this Prospectus.

Polyvinyl chloride compounds

As per CRISIL Report, PVC compounds are used in house wires and electrical cables due to their balance of electrical, mechanical, and chemical properties. They serve as both insulation and sheathing material, offering good dielectric strength and resistance to moisture, abrasion, and various chemicals. The inherent flame-retardant nature, enhanced through the use of additives, makes PVC compounds one of the safer choices for domestic wiring applications. These compounds are also flexible and easy to process, allowing for efficient manufacturing and installation in a variety of residential and commercial settings. They can be tailored to meet specific performance requirements by adjusting plasticizers, stabilizers, and fillers in the formulation. While not halogen-free, PVC compounds provide adequate fire performance and cost-effectiveness, which has made it a dominant material in the low-voltage cable segment. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. We manufacture PVC compounds by adding various additives such as heat stabilizers, UV stabilizers, plasticizers, impact modifiers, thermal modifiers, fillers, flame retardants, smoke suppressors, etc. Additionally, we manufacture 60 grades of PVC. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026, we sold all grades of PVC to power and telecommunication industries.

The sale of PVC accounted for ₹ 171 lakhs, ₹ 512.03 lakhs, ₹ 434.85 lakhs and ₹ 464.09 lakhs, representing 1.60%, 1.47%, 1.32% and 1.57%, respectively of our total revenue as of for the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and for the preceding three fiscals.

Cable-Filling compounds and other products

As per CRISIL Report, CFC compounds offer water resistance, thermal resistance and dielectric properties, which slow down the deterioration of the cable during its service life. CFC are jacketed on wires and cables for protecting them from extreme weathering situations and various voltage capacities. These compounds are primarily used for sheathing and jacketing of polyethylene insulated jelly filled cables. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161.

We manufacture CFC compounds through petroleum wax, by adding various additives such as synthetic rubbers, etc. Additionally, we manufacture 1 grade of CFC. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026, we sold all grades of CFC to power and telecommunication industries.

Further, owing to our longstanding market presence in the polymer compound industry, we have gained insight into the demand and supply of raw materials and finished goods of this industry. We leverage our experience and understanding of the demand of raw materials of this industry, by procuring and supplying several various grades of HDPE resin and LLDPE resin, among others. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and preceding three fiscals, revenue from procurement and supply of various grades of HDPE resin and LLDPE resin accounted for ₹ 1,896.98 lakhs, ₹ 11,132 lakhs, ₹ 8,572.30 lakhs and ₹ 4,100.00 lakhs, representing 17.72 %, 31.86%, 26.10% and 13.83%, respectively.

COMPETITIVE STRENGTHS

We are engaged in the manufacturing of multiple grades of polymer compounds, serving a wide range of critical industries including telecommunications, power, railways, water supply, and oil and gas distribution. As per CRISIL Report, Polymer compounds are used as an essential raw material for sheathing, jacketing and insulation of wires and cables used in power, telecommunication and railway industries as well as coating of underground oil, gas and water pipelines, in order to provide a protective infrastructure from corrosion and external environmental factors. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. Our products play a vital role in high-performance applications across critical industries, including oil, gas, and water, among others. As per CRISIL Report, the polymer compounding industry presents a series of formidable barriers for new players. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. Consequently, entry into the polymer compound industry requires a measured approach, significant resources, and deep expertise to successfully overcome these multifaceted obstacles. In industries such as power transmission, telecommunications, and coatings, polymer compounders must have their products, manufacturing processes, and standard operating procedures rigorously tested and approved by regulatory bodies or public sector enterprises. Accordingly, in order to supply our products to these sectors, it is mandatory to obtain enlistment with relevant government agencies. This process involves subjecting our products, manufacturing processes, and standard operating procedures to stringent testing and evaluation parameters, following which approval is granted for their specific applications. Accordingly, we have enlisted our products with a Maharatna CPSE power transmission company, a Navratna CPSE engineering consultancy company, a Miniratna CPSE telecommunication company and Government of Gujarat. We believe that enlistment with such agencies affirms our technical competence to supply products across a wide range of projects and industries. It also serves as a significant barrier to entry for new participants in the polymer compound industry. Notwithstanding these entry barriers, we possess longstanding experience in supplying polymer compounds to our marquee customers operating across diverse sectors.

In last five years, we have enlisted the following products with prominent government agencies, thereby affirming their quality and effectiveness:

These certifications issued to us typically remain valid for a period of three years, post which the products are required to be re-enlisted, for application in specific projects.

In addition to the aforementioned approvals, we have also applied to various other government and private agencies for enlisting our product finding application in the oil and gas industry. We believe that the continued enlistment of our products with prominent private and government agencies offers us the technical qualification to supply our products in diverse industrial projects thereby increasing the total addressable market for our products.

In addition to enlistment of our products, we are also subject to preliminary and periodic audits undertaken by our customers. Owing to the critical application of our products, in order to onboard a customer or continue our association with domestic and international customers, we are required to qualify their internal audits as well as product and process specifications. Obtaining and maintaining these qualifications and passing these customers' internal supplier selection procedures typically involves an average time period of 1 months to 6 months. Over the years, we have successfully retained our existing customers and expanded our customer base. In the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the Fiscals 2026, 2025, and 2024, we added 27, 52, 53 and 66 new customers, respectively.

Integrated product development capabilities

We have invested in an in-house product development team for developing new polymer compositions to suit our customer needs and market demand. As on August 31, 2026, our product development team comprised 7 employees. We have in the past, strategically diversified our product portfolio to either offer additional product applications or inculcate enhanced properties such as, smoke-free flame retardance, anti-tracking, etc. A chart depicting the track record of product diversification has been provided below:

For instance, we have in the recent past developed pipe coating adhesive which is primarily applied on underground pipelines used for distribution of oil, gas and water. Our product development team in consultation with third party consultants developed pipe coating adhesives by developing the composition of the product, modifying the manufacturing infrastructure, undertaking in-house and third party quality tests and obtaining a certification in respect of the efficacy of the product. These third party consultants offer advisory services to public sector units engaged in the oil and gas industry and hold extensive experience in the field of pipeline coating, field joint coating and cathodic protection. The key initiatives taken by our product development team for developing pipe coating adhesives have been provided below:

The new products, HDPE and adhesive coating compounds for 3LPE Coating have been enlisted with a Navratna CPSE engineering consultancy company. Additionally, we have been designated as an authorised vendor for the upcoming SAUNI Project by the Government of Gujarat for the usage of our HDPE and adhesive polymer products. The total cost incurred by our Company in development of HDPE and adhesive aggregated to ₹ 120.86 lakhs. We intend to leverage our product development infrastructure to develop new products for catering to the demand of our customers.

OUR BUSINESS STRATEGIES

Introducing fresh production capacities in our existing Manufacturing Facility and broadening our global footprint

Our Company has an existing Manufacturing Facility located at Goa. While we have been delivering our products to different regions of India and exporting to some countries, we intend to increase our global market reach for which we have to broaden our manufacturing capabilities. For this purpose, we intend to increase the manufacturing capacity of our key projects, PE and XLPE in our existing Manufacturing Facility. The capacity utilization of PE and XLPE compounds in our Manufacturing Facility stood at 75.26% and 73.19%, respectively, in Fiscal 2026, which indicates optimal utilisation of our current installed capacities. Our Manufacturing Facility is spread across an aggregate parcel of land admeasuring about 24,220 sq. mt., of which the total constructed area admeasures about 9,637.22 sq. mt. We intend to undertake the proposed expansion on the unutilised land admeasuring approximately about 5,748 sq. mt. in our Manufacturing Facility. We intend to utilise a portion of the Net Proceeds from the Issue and also has deployed funds which shall be recouped towards financing the capital expenditure for increasing the manufacturing capacity of PE and XLPE in our Manufacturing Facility. For further details, please refer to the "Objects of the Issue" on page 122 of this Prospectus.

Additionally, we have recently entered into a service agreement with a marketing and distribution company in UAE for obtaining advisory and support services for selling certain of our products in Egypt, United Arab Emirates, Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman and Qatar. Upon receipt of orders pursuant to such arrangement, our Company shall require sufficient capacity to execute such orders within the specified time period. Considering the demand in the international markets and the nearly utilised capacity of the aforementioned products, we propose to expand the manufacturing capacity of PE and XLPE compounds by 29,192 MTPA and 22,858 MTPA, respectively. This expansion will enable us to improve production efficiency, meet growing customer requirements, and capitalize on future growth opportunities in both domestic and international markets.

In addition to the above, with a view to further diversify our customer base and increase our market share, we intend to augment our sales in the markets where we sell our products as well as expand into new geographies. Over the last several years, our Company has consistently expanded the customer network across Bangladesh, Egypt, Oman, Saudi Arabia, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, United States of America and Zambia and this continues to be one of the core strategies of our Company for the future. Having a wider product portfolio and an established brand presence in existing products provides confidence to new customers to engage with our Company. We will continue to focus our efforts in the select geographies such as Middle East and establish a greater presence there. Our growth strategy in these markets will be to create strong local presence and connect and expertise with required development capabilities to exploit growth potential offered by these markets. Our strong focus will remain on acquiring new customers, retaining existing customers and offering good quality products.

Continue to develop new product categories, catering to wider end-applications

We intend to strengthen our relationships with our existing customers and explore opportunities to grow along the value chain by expanding the array of our existing products and solutions that we supply to our customers across geographies, and to add new customers by developing products and solutions aligned with their needs. As part of our growth strategy, we seek to pursue emerging opportunities in our existing product categories. Currently, our portfolio caters to wire & cables and infrastructure industries. We intend to diversify our product base to cater to other end-use industries as well. Our Company has already manufactured and tested some new products which will help us to cater to wider end-applications. For details, please refer to "- Integrated product development capabilities" on page 261 of this Prospectus. Additionally, we also intend to widen our enlisted product portfolio for participating in various domestic and international industrial projects, thereby increasing our total addressable market. We believe that inclusion of additional enlisted products in our portfolio will contribute to a stable and recurring source of revenue for our business operations.

We intend to diversify our product portfolio by developing semi-conductive compounds, peroxide cross linkable compounds, cross linked halogen free flame retardant compounds and maleic anhydride grafted polyethylene compound for use in multilayer films. As per CRISIL Report, Semi-conductive compounds are used in tandem with XLPE compounds to reduce electrical stress for preventing partial discharge and premature electric failure. It also gives uniform electric field distribution, which is crucial for high voltage segments thereby allowing consistent performance. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. With this product, we intend to offer targeted solutions in the high voltage and extra high voltage power cable segment. Peroxide cross linkable compounds are widely used as crosslinking agents in the manufacture of XLPE and ethylene propylene rubber insulation materials for wires and cables. As per CRISIL Report, these compounds are used primarily in power cables, control cables, signal and instrumentation cables, renewable energy cables, railways, metro and telecommunication cables. Cross linked halogen free flame retardant compounds are widely used for manufacturing solar cables. Maleic anhydride grafted polyethylene compounds are used in multilayer films to improve adhesion between different layers. This enhances the strength and durability of the films, making them suitable for applications such as food packaging, medical packaging, and industrial use. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. We intend to manufacture these new products in-house by leveraging our product development infrastructure.

With the objective of strengthening our export operations in existing international markets, we have recently entered into a service agreement with a marketing and distribution company in the UAE. This partnership is aimed at leveraging their advisory and support services to facilitate the sale of select products in the region. Going forward, we intend to establish similar strategic alliances in other existing markets by partnering with entities that have a strong local customer base. These collaborations will enable us to enhance market penetration and ensure access to new customers within our current regions of operation.

Owing to the quality of our products and longstanding market experience, we have qualified the benchmarked qualification and testing requirements of a coating services company in Middle East. The onboarding process included arduous testing on our products including but not limited to, adhesive or peel test, cathodic disbondment, impact resistance, elongation at break, resistance to indentation, among others. Pursuant to our onboarding and supply of products, the customer confirmed the successful application of successful application of our BLS PC 5555 HDPE black compound as a topcoat in their 3LPE coating system for 88” diameter line pipe. Moreover, in an appreciation letter, the customer favourably compared the quality and performance of our products with other top brands of HDPE products used for 3LPE coating system.

Additionally, we also intend to expand our presence in new international regions, such as, Tunesia, Algeria, Nigeria and Oman. To support our global expansion efforts, we intend to appoint sub-agents in selected international markets, who shall identify and map potential demand for our products within their regions. Our agents will be supported by our internal teams, who shall provide the necessary technical data and product specifications for marking our products in new geographies. The interested customers shall upon testing product samples share performance feedback and upon finalisation of grade of the product, place orders with us. We believe that this strategy of engaging with commercial agents will diversify our revenue base, expand our geographical footprint and potentially improve our margins. We believe that as we expand our exports to international markets, we will be able to take advantage of the increased margins associated with these markets and improve our profitability. Furthermore, our strategy of diversifying our revenue base and expanding our geographical footprint helps us mitigate the risks associated with economic fluctuations in any one region.

Increase in business from existing domestic customers

We are focused on leveraging long-standing relations with our existing domestic customers to increase our wallet share, amongst our existing customers across our products. As of for the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and March 31, 2026, 2025 and 2024, customers who have been associated with for more than five years contributed 64.01%%, 39.52%, 45.67% and 61.34% to our revenues from sale of products in the said period. Over the years we have developed longstanding relationships with our customers in various geographies, thus offering credibility and stability to our customer base. We intend to continue focussing on increasing our share of business from our existing customers by broadening the portfolio of products we offer, higher engagement with our existing customers, investment in our manufacturing infrastructure, and to continue to engage with such customers while undergoing capacity and product related transitions. Further, we strive to consolidate our relationship by continuing to provide quality products at competitive prices and focus on developing our products in line with the changing customer requirements. As per CRISIL Report, the outbreak of war in the Middle East in February 2026 posed a significant and multi-channel risk to India's growth story, given the country's deep economic interdependence with the Gulf region. As the Strait of Hormuz effectively closed to shipping and India's LPG supply came under acute pressure. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. Owing to this shift, our Company experienced a decline in demand from international regions, however due to import restrictions and increased costs, we experienced an increase in demand of our products from domestic customers. We intent to leverage this economic shift to expand our domestic operations and build a stable customer base in India.

Manufacturing process

The manufacturing lifecycle of each of our products may be different. An indicative manufacturing process followed by us is as follows:

Raw Material Inspection: Raw material inspection is a crucial quality control process that ensures incoming materials meet predefined standards before being used in manufacturing or processing. It involves examining, measuring, testing, and comparing materials to confirm they are in the correct quantity, condition, and conform to applicable requirements. This process helps prevent defects and ensures the quality of the final product.

Kneading: The polymer kneading process involves mixing a powdered polymer material with a liquid, like water or another solvent, to create a homogeneous plastic mass. This process uses physical forces like shearing, rolling, and grinding, as well as mass transfer via diffusion, to homogenize the mixture. Kneading is a crucial step in many polymer processing operations.

Feeder / Conveyer: Once the base resins and additives are thoroughly mixed and kneaded to form a homogeneous blend, the resulting material is transferred to the extrusion feeder, for further processing. To ensure a consistent and controlled flow of material, the transfer is typically undertaken through screw conveyors or feeding hoppers.

Extrusion: The kneaded mass once fed into the extrusion feeder, is subjected to controlled heat and pressure to shape it into the desired intermediate or final form, such as pellets, sheets, or profiles. This transition from kneading to extrusion is vital for ensuring uniformity in the final product's properties.

Pelletizing: The pelletizing process involves converting the extruded polymer material into small, uniform pellets or granules, which serve as the standard feedstock for downstream plastic processing applications. After the material is extruded through a die, it exits in the form of continuous strands. The strands are directed into a pelletizer, which uses rotating knives to cut them into uniform pellets of the desired size.

Water Cooling: The pelletized polymers are directed into a water bath or a water spray chamber designed to rapidly reduce its temperature. This cooling is essential to prevent deformation, sticking, or degradation of the material. The water bath typically consists of a stainless steel trough filled with circulating, temperature-controlled water to ensure uniform cooling.

Dewatering: The dewatering process usually begins with mechanical methods, such as air knives, which use high-velocity air jets to blow off excess water, or sponge rollers that physically absorb moisture from the strand surface. In pelletizing systems, especially underwater pelletizers, the pellets are often transferred to a centrifugal dryer or vibratory drying system where they are spun or vibrated rapidly, allowing water to be separated through centrifugal force or mechanical agitation.

Cyclone dryer: A cyclone dryer is a type of drying equipment. It operates on the principle of centrifugal force and air flow. In this system, wet pellets are conveyed into a high-speed rotating air stream within a cylindrical or conical chamber. As the mixture of air and pellets enters the cyclone dryer tangentially, the rapid circular motion forces the heavier pellets to the outer wall, causing the water to be stripped from their surfaces due to the centrifugal action and turbulence. This non-contact drying method is particularly useful for thermally sensitive materials or where pellet integrity must be preserved.

Vibrating sieve: A vibrating sieve, is used for separating and classifying polymer pellets after drying. Following pelletizing and dewatering, the pellets may contain fines, oversized particles, or contaminants that need to be removed to ensure uniformity and quality. The vibrating sieve consists of one or more mesh screens mounted on a vibrating platform. When the dried pellets are fed onto the sieve, the vibration causes them to move across the screen surface.

Storage silo: The pellets are conveyed into the silo and discharged via gravity through a controlled outlet at the bottom. By enabling bulk storage and smooth flow of materials, storage silos contribute to consistent supply in production lines and reduce the need for frequent handling or manual intervention, thereby improving operational efficiency and product quality.

Finished Goods inspection: This inspection is conducted at the final stage of polymer manufacturing before the polymer pellets are packaged and dispatched. The purpose of this inspection is to ensure that the finished polymer meets the predefined specifications and quality standards set by the manufacturer or required by the customer. The inspection typically includes visual examination for colour consistency, pellet shape and size uniformity, and absence of contaminants or defects such as black specks, gels, or moisture-related surface issues. In addition, laboratory tests are conducted on representative samples to assess key properties, tensile strength, impact resistance, moisture content, and thermal stability. Packaging integrity and labelling accuracy are also checked as part of this process.

Packing: Post inspection the finished product is packed in liner bags as well as jumbo bags as per customer requirement.

Provided that the aggregate ceiling of 10 percent may be raised to 24 percent if a special resolution to that effect is passed by the general body of the Indian company.

The total holding by each FPI or an investor group, shall be less than 10 percent of the total paid-up equity capital on a fully diluted basis or less than 10 percent of the paid-up value of each series of debentures or preference shares or share warrants issued by an Indian company and the total holdings of all FPIs put together, including any other direct and indirect foreign investments in the Indian company permitted under these rules, shall not exceed 24 per cent of paid-up equity capital on a fully diluted basis or paid-up value of each series of debentures or preference shares or share warrants. The said limit of 10 percent and 24 percent shall be called the individual and aggregate limit, respectively.

Intellectual property laws

Trade Marks Act, 1999 ("Trade Marks Act")

A trade mark is essentially any mark capable of being represented graphically and distinguishing goods or services of one person from those of others and includes a device, brand, heading, label, ticket, name, signature, word, letter, numeral, shape of goods, packaging or combination of colours or any combination thereof. In India, trademarks enjoy protection under both statutory and common law. Registration of a trade mark grants the owner a right to exclusively use the trade mark as a mark of goods and services and prevents the fraudulent use of marks in India. The Trade Marks Act permits the registration of trade marks for goods and services. Certification trademarks and collective marks can also be registered under the Trade Marks Act. The Registrar of Trade Marks is the authority responsible for, among other things, registration of trade marks, settling opposition proceedings and rectification of the register of trade marks. The Trade Marks (Amendment) Act, 2010 has been enacted to cover Indian nationals as well as foreign nationals to secure simultaneous protection of trade marks in other countries. The Trade Marks (Amendment) Rules, 2013 were enacted to give effect to the Trade Mark (Amendment) Act, 2010.

The Patents Act, 1970 ("Patents Act")

The Patents Act governs the patent regime in India. A patent is an intellectual property right relating to inventions and grant of exclusive right, for limited period, provided by the Government to the patentee, for excluding others from making, using, selling and importing the patented product or process or produce that product. In addition to the broad requirement that an invention must satisfy the requirements of novelty, utility and non-obviousness in order for it to avail patent protection, the Patents Act further provides that patent protection may not be granted to certain specified types of inventions and materials even if they satisfy the above criteria.

The Copyright Act, 1957

The Copyright Act, 1957, along with the Copyright Rules, 2013 ("Copyright Laws") governs copyright protection in India. A registration under the Copyright Laws acts as a prima facie evidence of the particulars entered therein and helps expedite infringement proceedings and reduce delay caused due to evidentiary considerations. The Copyright Laws prescribe a fine, imprisonment or both for violations, with enhanced penalty on second or subsequent convictions.

Designs Act, 2000 ("DA") and the Designs Rules, 2001 ("DR")

The DA regulates and protects the originality of an article's design and prohibits the piracy of registered designs. The primary objective of the DA is to protect new or original designs from getting copied, and ensure that the creator, originator or artisan of the design is not deprived of their rightful gains for the creation of their design. The central government also drafted the DR under the authority of the DA for the purposes of specifying certain prescriptions regarding the practical aspects related to designs such as payment of fees, register for designs, classification of goods, address for service, restoration of designs, etc.

Other applicable laws

The Electricity Act, 2003 ("Electricity Act")

The Electricity Act consolidates the laws relating to generation, transmission, distribution, trading and use of electricity. It lays down provisions in relation to transmission and distribution of electricity. It states that the State Government can specify suitable measures for specifying action to be taken in relation to any electric line or electrical plant, or any electrical appliance under the control of a consumer for the purpose of eliminating or reducing the risk of personal injury or damage to property or interference with its use.

Historical cost convention

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Significant accounting judgments, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of financial information in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses and the accompanying disclosures. Uncertainty about the assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require in material adjustment to the carrying value of assets or liabilities affected in future periods.

Going Concern

The Company has prepared the Restated financial information on the basis that it will continue to operate as a going concern.

2.2 Summary of Material accounting policies

a Current and non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current/ non-current classification. An asset is treated as current when it is:

− Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
− Held primarily for the purpose of trading
− Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period, or − Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

All other assets are classified as non-current.

Liability is current when

− It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
− Held primarily for the purpose of trading
− It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
− There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities

b Foreign currencies

The Company's financial information is presented in INR, which is also the Company's functional currency

Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Company at functional currency spot rates at the date the transaction first qualifies for recognition.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date.

Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in profit or loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value is determined. The gain or loss arising on translation of non-monetary items measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on the change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation differences on items whose fair value gain or loss is recognised in OCI or profit or loss are also recognised in OCI or profit or loss, respectively).

c Fair value presentation

The Company measures financial instruments at fair value at each balance sheet date except to certain instruments which are measured at Amortised cost/historic cost. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

− In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
− In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.
A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial information are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

− Level 2 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
− Level 3 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial information on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

d Revenue from contract with Customer

Revenue from sale of goods are recognised upon satisfaction of performance obligation which is at a point in time, generally on delivery of the goods, when control of the goods is transferred to customers. Revenue from services are recognised upon satisfaction of performance obligation towards rendering of such services.

The Company recognises revenue from sale of goods or services at the amount of transaction price (excluding variable consideration that is constrained), that is allocated to the performance obligation satisfied. Transaction price is the amount of consideration to which the Company expects it to be entitled in exchange for transferring goods or services to a customer excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

An amount of consideration can vary because of discounts, rebates, incentives etc. which are explicitly stated in the contract or are as per customary business practices. The consideration can also vary where the entitlement is contingent on occurrence or non-occurrence of a future event. The Company includes variable consideration as part of transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved.

Variable consideration is estimated using the expected value method or the most likely amount depending on which method the Company expects to better predict the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled and is applied consistently throughout the contract. Payment terms agreed with a customer are as per business practice and the financing component, if significant, is separated from the transaction price and accounted as interest income / expense, as applicable.

Interest income

For all financial instruments measured at amortised cost, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the net carrying amount of the financial asset or liability. Interest income is included in finance income in the income statement.

e Taxes

Tax expense represents Current tax and Deferred tax.

Current tax

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from 'profit before tax' as reported in the statement of profit and loss because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Current tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities.

Current tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity).

Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is provided using the balance sheet approach on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits (including MAT credit) and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets (including MAT credit available) is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity).

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority

f Property, plant and equipment(including Capital work in progress)

Property, Plant and equipment is stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Such cost includes the cost of replacing part of the plant and equipment and borrowing costs for long-term construction projects if the recognition criteria are met. Such properties are classified to the appropriate categories of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for intended use. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use. Capital work in progress is stated at cost.

When significant parts of plant and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Company depreciates them separately based on their specific useful lives. Likewise, when a major inspection is performed, its cost is recognised in the carrying amount of the plant and equipment as a replacement if the recognition criteria are satisfied. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

The present value of the expected cost for the decommissioning of an asset after its use is included in the cost of the respective asset if the recognition criteria for a provision are met.

The estimated useful lives of items of property, plant and equipment for the current and comparative periods are as follows:

Assets	Useful life
Plant & Machinery	5 -15 Years
Vehicle	8 Years
Office Equipment's	5 Years
Computer	3 Years
Furniture & Fixtures	10 Years
Leasehold Improvements	3 Years
Building	5 -30 Years

g Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Intangible assets are amortised on a straight line basis over the estimated useful economic life and are assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired.

Assets	Useful life
Computer Software	5 Years

h Leases

The Company assesses that the contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether:

(1) The contract involves the use of an identified asset,

(2) The Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the identified asset, and

(3) The Company has the right to direct the use of the identified asset.

Company as a lessee

The Company recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term at the lease commencement date. The cost of the right-of-use asset measured at inception shall comprise of the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date plus any initial direct costs incurred. The right-of-use assets is subsequently measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation, accumulated impairment losses, if any and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use asset is depreciated from the commencement date over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the underlying asset. Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

The Company measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments over the lease term. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company uses incremental borrowing rate. For leases with reasonably similar characteristics, the Company adopts the incremental borrowing rate for the entire portfolio of leases as a whole. The lease payments shall include fixed payments, variable lease payments, exercise price of a purchase option and payments of penalties for terminating the lease. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made and remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications or to reflect revised in-substance fixed lease payments.

The Company recognises the amount of the remeasurement of lease liability as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset. Where the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is reduced to zero and there is a further reduction in the measurement of the lease liability, the Company recognises any remaining amount of the re-measurement in statement of profit and loss.

The Company has elected not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 to leases for which the underlying asset is of low value. The lease payments associated with these low value leases are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Company as a lessor

Leases in which the Company does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset is classified as operating leases. Rental income arising is accounted for on a straight-line basis over the lease terms. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset and recognised over the lease term on the same basis as rental income. Contingent rents are recognised as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

Leases are classified as finance leases when substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership transfer from the Company to the lessee. Amounts due from lessees under finance leases are recorded as receivables at the Company's net investment in the leases. Finance lease income is allocated to accounting periods so as to reflect a constant periodic rate of return on the net investment outstanding in respect of the lease

i Inventory

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Costs incurred in bringing each product to its present location and condition are accounted for as follows:

- Raw materials: cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on first in, first out basis.
- Finished goods and work in progress: cost includes cost of direct materials and labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on the normal operating capacity but excluding borrowing costs. Cost is determined on first in, first out basis.
- Traded goods: cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on First in, first out basis.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale

Obsolete, slow moving and defective inventories are identified at the time of physical verification of inventories and where necessary, the same are written off or provision is made for such inventories based on management's best estimates of net realisable value.

j Provisions

General

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

Provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of resources would be required to settle the obligation, the provision is reversed.

Contingent Assets/ Liabilities

Contingent assets are not recognised. However, when realisation of income is virtually certain, the related asset is no longer a contingent asset, and is recognised as an asset.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed in notes to accounts when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future event not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made.

Retirement and other employee benefits

Retirement benefit in the form of provident fund is a defined contribution scheme. The Company has no obligation, other than the contribution payable to the provident fund. The Company recognises contribution payable to the provident fund scheme as an expense, when an employee renders the related service. If the contribution payable to the scheme for service received before the balance sheet date exceeds the contribution already paid, the deficit payable to the scheme is recognised as a liability after deducting the contribution already paid. If the contribution already paid exceeds the contribution due for services received before the balance sheet date, then excess is recognised as an asset to the extent that the pre-payment will lead to, for example, a reduction in future payment.

Remeasurements, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability, are recognised immediately in the balance sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through OCI in the period in which they occur.

Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.
Past service costs are recognised in profit or loss on the earlier of:
− The date of the plan amendment or curtailment, and
− The date that the Company recognises related restructuring costs
Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net defined benefit liability. The Company recognises the following changes in the net defined benefit obligation as an expense in the statement of profit and loss:
− Service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailments and non-routine settlements; and

Short-term and other long-term employee benefits
A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries in the period the related service is rendered at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for that service.

Liabilities recognised in respect of short term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related service. Liabilities recognised in respect of other long-term employee benefits are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows expected to be made by the Company in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date.

Provision for Margin on Finished Goods in Transit represents the estimated profit element on goods invoiced but not yet delivered. The provision is reversed in the subsequent financial period upon delivery.

k Financial instruments
A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

l Initial recognition
All financial assets and liabilities are recognized at fair value on initial recognition, except for trade receivables which are initially measured at transaction price. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities, that are not at fair value through profit or loss, are added to the fair value on initial recognition. Regular way purchase and sale of financial assets are accounted for at trade date.

II Subsequent measurement

i. Financial assets carried at amortised cost
A financial asset is subsequently measured at amortised cost if it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold the asset in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

ii. Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income
A financial asset is subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if it is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. The Company has made an irrevocable election for its investments which are classified as equity instruments to present the subsequent changes in fair value in other comprehensive income based on its business model. Further, in cases where the Company has made an irrevocable election based on its business model, for its investments which are classified as equity instruments, the subsequent changes in fair value are recognized in other comprehensive income.

iii Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

iv Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are subsequently carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method, except for contingent consideration recognized in a business combination which is subsequently measured at fair value through profit and loss. For trade and other payables maturing within one year from the balance sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

v Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

III Derecognition of financial instruments

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under Ind AS 109. A financial liability (or a part of a financial liability) is derecognized from the Company's balance sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

IV Fair value of financial instruments

In determining the fair value of its financial instruments, the Company uses a variety of methods and assumptions that are based on market conditions and risks existing at each reporting date. The methods used to determine fair value include discounted cash flow analysis, available quoted market prices and dealer quotes. All methods of assessing fair value result in general approximation of value, and such value may never actually be realized.

l Impairment

Financial assets

The Company recognizes loss allowances using the expected credit loss (ECL) model for the financial assets which are not fair valued through profit or loss. Loss allowance for trade receivables with no significant financing component is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL. The amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) that is required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date to the amount that is required to be recognised is recognized as an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss.

m Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

n Cash Flow Statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, where by profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated.

o Earning per share (EPS)

Basic EPS is calculated by dividing the profit for the year attributable to ordinary equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of Equity shares outstanding during the year. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding is adjusted for bonus issue, that has changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources. Diluted EPS is calculated by dividing the profit attributable to ordinary equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of Equity shares outstanding during the year, adjusted for the effects of stock splits and bonus issues, plus the weighted average number of Equity shares that would be issued on conversion of all the dilutive potential Equity shares into Equity shares.

p Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) expenditure

CSR Expenditure as per provisions of section 135 of the Act read with rules issued thereunder, is charged to the statement of profit and loss as an expense.

q Segment Reporting

The accounting policies adopted by the Company for segment reporting are in line with the Indian accounting standard on Segmental Reporting.

Primary Segment

The Company has two reportable segment Viz. Polymer and Trading, which have been identified in line with the Indian Accounting standard 108 on Segment Reporting, taking into account the organizational structure as well as differential risk and return of these segments.

Secondary Segment

r Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalised during the period of time that is necessary to complete and prepare the asset for its intended use. Borrowing costs consist of interest calculated using the effective interest method that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. All other borrowing costs are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss as & when incurred.

Other financial assets measured at amortised cost

Loans and other financial assets are considered to have low credit risks since there is a low risk of default by the counter parties owing to their strong capacity to meet contractual cash flow obligations in the near term. Credit risk related to these other financial assets is managed by monitoring the recoverability of such amounts continuously, while at the same time internal control system in place ensure the amounts are within defined limits

D Fair value measurement

Fair value of the financial instruments is classified in various fair value hierarchies based on the following three levels:

Level 1: Quoted prices for identical instruments in an active market;

Level 2: Directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices) observable market inputs, other than Level 1 inputs; and.

Level 3: Inputs which are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). Fair values are determined in whole or in part using a net asset value or valuation model based on assumptions that are neither supported by prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument nor are they based on available market data.

Financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value - recurring fair value measurements

On the adoption of IndAS for first time Company has not measured its Assets and Liabilities at Fair Value and the same policy has been adopted by the company for all the relevant period.

A. Exemptions availed on first time adoption of Ind AS

Ind AS - 101 allows first-time adopters certain exemptions and certain optional exemptions from the retrospective application of certain requirements under Ind AS. The company has applied the following exemptions and optional exemptions:

(i) Mandatory Exceptions :

(a) Estimates

On assessment of the estimates made under the previous GAAP financial statements, the company has concluded that there is no necessity to revise the estimates under Ind AS, as there is no objective evidence of an error in those estimates. However, estimates that were required under Ind AS but not required under previous GAAP are made by the company for the relevant reporting dates reflecting conditions existing as at that date. Key estimates considered in preparation of financial statements that were not required under the previous GAAP are listed below:

- Fair valuation of financial instruments carried at Amortised cost.
- Determination of the discounted value for financial instruments carried are amortised cost.
- Impairment of financial assets based on the expected credit loss model.

(b) Classification and measurement of financial assets

Ind AS 101 requires an entity to assess classification of financial assets on the basis of facts and circumstances existing as at the date of transition. Further, the standard permits measurement of financial assets accounted at amortized cost based on facts and circumstances existing at the date of transition if retrospective application is impracticable. Accordingly, the company has determined the classification of financial assets based on facts and circumstances that exist on the date of transition. Measurement of financial assets accounted at amortized cost has been done retrospectively except where the same is impracticable. There are no items of financial asset and liabilities which are required to be de recognised as per Ind AS 109.

(c) De-recognition of financial assets and liabilities

Ind AS 101 requires a first-time adopter to apply the de-recognition provisions of Ind AS 109 prospectively for transactions occurring on or after the date of transition to Ind AS. However, Ind AS 101 allows a first-time adopter to apply the de-recognition requirements in Ind AS 109 retrospectively from a date of entity's choice provided that the information needed to apply Ind AS 109 to financial assets and financial liabilities derecognized as a result of past transactions was obtained at the time of initially accounting for those transactions.

(d) Remeasurement of post-employment benefit obligations

Under Ind AS, Remeasurement i.e. actuarial gains and losses and the return on plan assets, excluding amounts included in the net interest expense on the net defined benefit liability are recognized in other comprehensive income instead of profit and loss. Under the previous GAAP, this remeasurement was forming part of the profit and loss for the year.

(e) Other comprehensive income

Under Ind AS, all items of income and expense recognised in a period should be included in profit and loss for the period, unless a standard requires or permits otherwise. Items of income and expense that are not recognised in profit and loss but in other comprehensive income under "Statement of Profit and Loss (including other comprehensive income)" includes re-measurements of defined benefit plans and their corresponding income tax effects. The concept of other comprehensive income did not exist under previous GAAP.

(ii) Optional Exemption :

(a) Deemed cost for property, plant and equipment, investment property and intangible assets

Ind AS 101 permits a first-time adopter to elect to continue with the carrying value for all of its property, plant and equipment as recognised in the financial statements as at the date of transition to Ind AS, measured as per the Previous GAAP and use that as its deemed cost as at the date of transition after making necessary adjustments for de-commissioning liabilities. This exemption can also be used for intangible assets covered by Ind AS 38 Intangible Assets and investment property covered by Ind AS 40 Investment Property. Accordingly, the Company has elected to measure all of its property, plant and equipment and intangible assets at their previous GAAP carrying value.

(b) Recognition of Right of Use and Lease Liability

Ind AS - 116 is applied with full retrospective approach. The company has identified leases since its inception of all lease contracts that are presented in the financial statements, and has restated the comparative years presented.

The company also applied the available practical expedient wherein it

- has used a single discount rate for leases with reasonably similar characteristics
- has elected to apply short term lease exemption to leases for which the lease term ends within 12 months of the date of initial application
- has excluded the initial direct costs from the measurement of the right of use assets at the date of initial application

(iii) Reconciliation between previous GAAP and Ind AS Transition from previous GAAP to Ind AS, balance sheet and statement of profit and loss accounts does not have any impact except the reclassification, remeasurement and prior period error as required by the Ind AS.

B. Explanatory notes for Ind AS adjustments

1. Financial assets measured at amortised cost

Fair value of financial assets and liabilities The company has financial receivables and payables that are non-derivative financial instruments. Under previous GAAP, these were carried at transactions cost less allowances for impairment, if any. Under Ind AS, these financial assets and liabilities are initially recognised at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost, less allowance for impairment, if any. For transactions entered into on or after the date of transition to Ind AS, the requirement of initial recognition at fair value is applied prospectively.

2. Lease accounting

Under the IGAAP, lease rentals related to operating lease were accounted as expense in the statement of profit and loss. Under Ind AS, lease liability and right of use ('ROU') is recorded at present value of future contractual rent payment on initial date of lease. Subsequently, finance cost is accrued on lease liability and lease payments are recorded by way of reduction in lease liability. ROU is depreciated over lease term. Applied the short-term leases exemptions to leases with lease term that ends within 12 months at the date of initial application. Excluded the initial direct costs from the measurement of the right-of-use asset at the date of initial application

3. Deferred Tax Adjustements

Under Previous GAAP, deferred taxes were recognized for the tax effect of timing differences between accounting profit and taxable profit for the year using the income statement approach. Under Ind AS, deferred taxes are recognized using the balance sheet for future tax consequences of temporary differences between the carrying value of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. The above difference, together with the consequential tax impact of the other Ind AS transitional adjustments lead to temporary differences. Deferred tax adjustments are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction either in retained earnings or through statement of profit and loss or other comprehensive income.

4. Regrouping / reclassification

Appropriate adjustments have been made in the financial statement, wherever required, by a reclassification of the corresponding items of income, expenses, assets and liabilities in order to bring them in line with the Ind AS presentation requirements.

5.Cash flow statement

The transition from previous GAAP to Ind AS has not had a material impact on the statement of cash flows.

6. Provision of expected credit loss on trade receivables

In accordance with Ind AS 109 Financial Instruments, the company has recognized an Expected Credit Loss (ECL) provision on financial assets measured at amortized cost, including trade receivables, for the first time. The ECL provision has been determined using the simplified approach for trade receivables and the general approach for other financial assets. The adjustment related to the creation of this provision has been recognized in retained earnings as of the date of transition, as required under Ind AS 101 First-time Adoption of Indian Accounting Standards."

7. Remeasurements of the defined benefit plans reclassified to OCI

Under previous GAAP, actuarial gains and losses were recognised in profit or loss. Under Ind AS, the actuarial gains and losses form part of remeasurement of the net defined benefit liability/asset which is recognised in other comprehensive income. Consequently, the tax effect of the same has also been recognised in other comprehensive income under Ind AS instead of profit or loss.This change does not affect total equity.

47 The Company has used accounting software for maintaining its books of account which has a feature of recording audit trail (edit log) facility but erroneously was not enabled and thus the same has not operated throughout the year for all relevant transactions recorded in the software. Additionally, since the audit trail feature was not enabled during the year, the audit trail has not been preserved as per the statutory requirements for record retention.

49 Figures have been rounded off to the nearest Lacs with two digit decimals.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion is intended to convey management's perspective on our financial condition and results of operations for the year ended on March 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2026 and for the three months period ended June 30, 2026. You should read the following discussion of our financial condition and results of operations together with our restated financial statements included in this Prospectus. You should also read the section entitled "Risk Factors" beginning on page 25 of this Prospectus, which discusses several factors, risks and contingencies that could affect our financial condition and results of operations. The following discussion relates to our Company and is based on our restated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with Indian accounting standard ("Ind AS"), the Companies Act and the SEBI Regulations. Portions of the following discussion are also based on internally prepared statistical information and on other sources. Our fiscal year ends on March 31 of each year, so all references to a particular fiscal year ("Fiscal Year") are to the twelve-month period ended March 31 of that year.

In this section, unless the context otherwise requires, any reference to "we", "us" or "our" refers to BLS POLYMERS LIMITED, our Company. Unless otherwise indicated, financial information included herein are based on our "Restated Financial Statements" for Financial Year ended on March 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2026 and for the three months period ended June 30, 2026, included in this Prospectus beginning on page 322.

BUSINESS OVERVIEW

We are a manufacturer of multiple grades of custom formulated polymer compounds, catering to diversified critical industries such as telecommunication, power, railways, water, oil and gas distribution, among others. As per CRISIL Report, polymer compounds are used as an essential raw material for sheathing, jacketing and insulation of wires and cables used in power, telecommunication and railway industries as well as coating of underground oil, gas and water pipelines, in order to provide a protective infrastructure from corrosion and external environmental factors. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. Our product portfolio is well diversified to offer varied solutions in the wire and cables and infrastructure industry, and included products such as, high density polyethylene compounds ("HDPE"), medium-density polyethylene compounds ("MDPE") and linear low-density polyethylene compounds ("LLDPE"), cross-linked polyethylene compounds ("XLPE"), halogen free flame retardant compounds ("HFFR"), polyvinyl chloride compounds ("PVC"), cable filling compounds ("CFC") and adhesive coating compounds. As per CRISIL Report, HDPE, MDPE and LLDPE compounds are used in the wire and cable industry which offer insulation, sheathing and jacketing based on the indicative requirement of the customer. While, XLPE, HFFR, PVC and CFC compounds add qualities such as strength, high voltage insulation and resistance, fire resistance and moisture resistance, as per the application of the end use product. In the wire and cable industry, polymers serve crucial functions in electrical insulation, mechanical protection, and overall cable performance. HDPE and adhesive coating compounds are key layers of 3LPE (three layer polyethylene) system ("3LPE Coating" i.e. Pipe Coating) used for coating of oil, gas and water distribution pipelines. 3LPE Coating is an effective solution for protecting high-capital-intensive pipelines from corrosion, chemicals and moisture, thereby ensuring long-term durability. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. Set forth below is a division wise break up of our revenue from operations during the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and preceding three Fiscals:

Significant Developments Subsequent to the Last Reporting Period:

In the opinion of the Board of Directors of our Company, there have not arisen, since the date of June 30, 2026 as disclosed in this Prospectus, any significant developments or any circumstance that materially or adversely affect or are likely to affect the profitability of our Company or the value of its assets or its ability to pay its material liabilities within the next twelve months.

Key Factors Affecting the Results of Operation:

Our Company's future results of operations could be affected potentially by the following factors:

1. During the three months period ended June 30, 2026 and the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, we derived 73.20%, 80.93%, 81.59% and 80.49% of our revenue from the sale of wire and cable polymer compounds. Any loss of sales due to reduction in demand for such products would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

We are a manufacturer of multiple grades of custom formulated polymer compounds, catering to diversified critical industries such as telecommunication, power, railways, water, oil and gas distribution, among others. As per CRISIL Report, polymer compounds are used as an essential raw material for sheathing, jacketing and insulation of wires and cables used in power, telecommunication and railway industries as well as coating of underground oil, gas and water pipelines, in order to provide a protective infrastructure from corrosion and external environmental factors. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. We rely heavily on revenue generated from the sale of polymer compounds used in the wire and cable industries, therefore any reduction in the demand of our products or any downturn in the wire and cable industries, may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

As per CRISIL Report, in the wire and cable industry, polymers serve crucial functions in electrical insulation, mechanical protection, and overall cable performance. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161. Therefore, the success of our products and of our business is dependent upon the success of the wire and cable industries and on the performance of the products of our customers, who are engaged in manufacturing wires and cables. Our success is also dependent upon our ability to diversify and grow our operations, retain our existing customers and expand our customer base. In the event, we are unable to scale our operations or retain or increase our wire and cable customers, our revenue from operations and cash flow may experience a decline. The table below set out the revenue from operations earned from our product categories for the period indicated below:

Pipelines	2,868.41	26.80%	6,663.20	19.07%	6,045.39	18.41%	5,782.85	19.51%
Total	10,702.55	100.00%	34,942.83	100.00%	32,843.59	100.00%	29,635.83	100.00%

In the event, there takes place a shift of practice, wherein the end use customers integrate their operations by setting up manufacturing units for manufacturing the required raw materials, it may have an adverse impact on our business and results of operations. It may also happen that our competitors are able to improve the efficiency of their manufacturing process and thereby offer similar or high quality products at competitive prices. While the aforementioned events have not materially occurred in the past, however upon occurrence of any such events, our Company may be unable to adequately react to such developments which may affect our revenues and profitability. In order to mitigate the risk relating to dependency on wire and cable compounds, we have strategically diversified our product portfolio by developing polyethylene pipe coating and adhesives for 3LPE applications. The revenue earned from such products (Pipelines) increased from 19.07% in Fiscal 2026 to 26.80% in the three months period ended June 30, 2026, indicating the successful diversification of our product portfolio. Any failure to successfully expand and diversify our operations, could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

2. Our inability to meet the preferences or consistent quality requirements of our customers or our inability to accurately predict and successfully adapt to changes in market demand could reduce demand for our products and harm our sales.

Our results of operations and future growth are largely dependent upon the demand for our products in the Indian and other international markets in which we are currently present and propose to expand to. Demand for our products depends primarily on consumer-related factors such as demographics, local preferences, lifestyle preferences and macroeconomic factors such as the condition of the economy and the level of consumer confidence. Over a period of time, there have been significant changes in consumers' preferences relating to polymer products in Indian as well as overseas market. There has been a shift towards specialized polymers, such as, PE compounds, XLPE compounds and HFFR compounds, in recent times. The polymer market is currently moving toward the design, manufacture and use of efficient, effective, safe and more environmentally friendly chemical products and processes. Our management team tracks the trend of our product portfolio and accordingly plans the supply of our products on that basis. Therefore, an unanticipated change in customer demand may adversely affect our liquidity and financial condition as a result of the operating expenses that are relatively fixed and have been incurred by us.

We may be also subject to the policies and guidelines of the countries or regions where our customers are located, relating to the quantity, quality, characteristics and variety of the products sold to such countries, which may be changed from time to time. Any non-compliance with such policies and quality standards could have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, reputation and results of operation. While we attempt to, on a regular basis, keep pace with the preferences and quality requirements and standards of our domestic and international customers, provide the desired quality product, and continually monitor and adapt to the changing market demand there can be no assurance that we will be able to keep up with the changing trends and adhere to all quality specifications mandated by governmental agencies. Any such change in preferences or our inability to meet the consistent quality requirements of our customers or adhere to the quality standards mandated by the government agencies and regulators could harm our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

3. Pricing pressure from customers may affect our gross margin, profitability and ability to increase our prices, which in turn may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Being in a competitive market, we face pricing pressures from our customers. Accordingly, polymer manufacturers like us must be able to reduce our operating costs in order to maintain profitability. Such price reductions may affect our sales and profit margins. If we are unable to offset customer price reductions in the future through improved operating efficiencies, new manufacturing processes, sourcing alternatives or other cost reduction initiatives, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be materially adversely affected. Our customers also negotiate for larger discounts in price as the volume of their orders increase. To maintain our profit margins, we seek price reductions from our suppliers, improved production processes to increase manufacturing efficiency to reduce costs. There can be no assurance that we will be able to avoid future customer price reductions or offset the impact of any such price reductions through continued technology improvements, improved operational efficiencies, cost-effective sourcing alternatives, new manufacturing processes, cost reductions or other productivity initiatives. While, we have been able to successfully pass on the increased costs of raw materials to our customers in the past, we cannot assure you that we shall be able to do the same in the future as well, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

4. Our proposed capacity expansion plans are subject to the risk of unanticipated delays in implementation and cost overruns.

Based on the expected potential growth in the polymer industry and the consequent increase in demand for our products in the recent years, we anticipate an increase in the production capacity. In order to support our growth strategy across India, we intend to increase the installed capacity of our existing Manufacturing Facility. As we continue our growth by investing in the capacity expansion of our Manufacturing Facility, we may encounter regulatory, personnel and other difficulties that may increase our expenses, which could delay our plans or impair our ability to become profitable in these areas. For details of the proposed expansion, please refer to the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue – Financing the capital expenditure requirement towards expansion of our Manufacturing Facility by increasing the manufacturing capacity of certain of our existing products" on page 124 of this Prospectus.

There can be no assurance that the proposed capacity additions and expansion will be completed as planned within the cost estimates and in a timely manner, or at all. Any shortfall in our net owned funds, internal accruals and our inability to raise debt in future would result in us being unable to meet our capital requirements, which in turn will negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations. Further, we have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to raise money from this issue or any shortfall in the issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule and could adversely affect our growth plans. Further, the estimated schedule completion dates are based on estimates and we cannot assure you that such proposed expansion will culminate into production on schedule. There can be no assurance that such plans will be successfully implemented or completed or that if completed, they will result in the anticipated growth in our revenues or improvement in the results of operations we anticipate from the implementation of such initiatives.

5. We are in the process of expanding our operations and establishing a network of distributors & customers in regions where we do not have a significant presence or prior experience. Any failure to expand into these new regions could adversely affect our sales, financial condition, result of operations and cash flows.

In order to cater to the growing market demand for our products, specifically for adhesives for 3LPE applications, and expand our presence in new regions, we are in the process of deepening our presence in the existing regions where we operate as well as in new regions such as, Tunesia, Algeria, Nigeria and Oman. To support our global expansion efforts, we intend to appoint sub-agents in selected international markets, who shall identify and map potential demand for our products within their regions. We aim to leverage the increasing demand from international markets to enhance our exports. Our expansion into these new regions exposes us to operational, regulatory, and market-entry risks. In particular, certain jurisdictions in which we intend to grow our exports, including Nigeria and Algeria, have recently increased import tariffs on polymer-based materials or introduced local content requirements and other regulatory barriers. These measures may restrict our ability to price competitively, delay or hinder market entry, require additional compliance efforts, or necessitate local partnerships or on-ground capabilities. Changes in such regulations may occur with little notice and could materially impact our access to these markets. As per CRISIL Report, a subdued global economic climate dampened export potential, with weaker-than-expected Chinese economic recovery causing spillover effects within the country's trading partners. Moreover, the onset of the Israel-Hamas war in Q4 2023 led to increased energy market volatility as well as raised concerns of a regional conflict spillover. For further details please refer to the chapter titled "Industry Overview" on page 161.

Due to our lack familiarity with the economic conditions of the new international regions, fluctuations in the local economy, currency exchange rates, and regulatory environment can pose risks to our operations and financial stability. Without an established customer and distributor network or end customer base in these regions, we face uncertainty regarding the demand for our products. It may take considerable time and resources to build relationships and gain market acceptance, potentially delaying the realization of sales volume. Further, our products may not gain market acceptance or meet the specific requirements of customers in these new markets and regions. Adapting our offerings to local preferences, regulatory standards, and customer needs can be complex and may require additional investments and resources. This could lead to lower product pricing as we struggle to establish ourselves and higher expenditure on reputation building, impacting our profitability. If we fail to successfully navigate these challenges and establish a strong presence in the new regions, our sales, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows could be significantly and adversely affected.

Going Concern

The Company has prepared the financial information on the basis that it will continue to operate as a going concern.

Summary of Material accounting policies

Current and non-current classification
"The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current/ non-current classification. An asset is treated as current when it is:
− Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
− Held primarily for the purpose of trading
− Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period, or

− Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

All other assets are classified as non-current.

Liability is current when
− It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
− Held primarily for the purpose of trading
− It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
− There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.
The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities"

Foreign currencies

The Company's financial information is presented in INR, which is also the Company's functional currency

Transactions and balances
"Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Company at functional currency spot rates at the date the transaction first qualifies for recognition.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date.

Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in profit or loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value is determined. The gain or loss arising on translation of non-monetary items measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on the change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation differences on items whose fair value gain or loss is recognised in OCI, or profit or loss are also recognised in OCI or profit or loss, respectively)."

Fair value presentation

"The Company measures financial instruments at fair value at each balance sheet date except to certain instruments which are measured at Amortised cost/historic cost. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:
− In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
− In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability
The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company."
"The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.
A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial information are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

− Level 1 — Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

− Level 2 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
− Level 3 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable."
For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial information on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

Revenue from contract with Customer

"Revenue from sale of goods are recognised upon satisfaction of performance obligation which is at a point in time, generally on delivery of the goods, when control of the goods is transferred to customers. Revenue from services are recognised upon satisfaction of performance obligation towards rendering of such services.

The Company recognises revenue from sale of goods or services at the amount of transaction price (excluding variable consideration that is constrained), that is allocated to the performance obligation satisfied. Transaction price is the amount of consideration to which the Company expects it to be entitled in exchange for transferring goods or services to a customer excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

An amount of consideration can vary because of discounts, rebates, incentives etc. which are explicitly stated in the contract or are as per customary business practices. The consideration can also vary where the entitlement is contingent on occurrence or non-occurrence of a future event. The Company includes variable consideration as part of transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved.

Variable consideration is estimated using the expected value method or the most likely amount depending on which method the Company expects to better predict the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled and is applied consistently throughout the contract. Payment terms agreed with a customer are as per business practice and the financing component, if significant, is separated from the transaction price and accounted as interest income / expense, as applicable."

Interest income

For all financial instruments measured at amortised cost, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the net carrying amount of the financial asset or liability. Interest income is included in finance income in the income statement.

Taxes

Tax expense represents Current tax and Deferred tax.
"Current tax
The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from ‘profit before tax’ as reported in the statement of profit and loss because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Current tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities.

Current tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity).

Current tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate."

"Deferred tax

Deferred tax is provided using the balance sheet approach on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits (including MAT credit) and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets (including MAT credit available) is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Def erred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity).

Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority"

Property, plant and equipment (including Capital work in progress)

"Under the previous GAAP (IGAAP), property, plant and equipment were carried out in the balance sheet at cost net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any as at March 31, 2023. The company has elected to regard those values of property as deemed cost at the date of the transition to Ind AS, i.e., April 1 ,2023.

Property, Plant and equipment is stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Such cost includes the cost of replacing part of the plant and equipment and borrowing costs for long-term construction projects if the recognition criteria are met. Such properties are classified to the appropriate categories of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for intended use. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use. Capital work in progress is stated at cost.

When significant parts of plant and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Company depreciates them separately based on their specific useful lives. Likewise, when a major inspection is performed, its cost is recognised in the carrying amount of the plant and equipment as a replacement if the recognition criteria are satisfied. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

The present value of the expected cost for the decommissioning of an asset after its use is included in the cost of the respective asset if the recognition criteria for a provision are met."

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis

Depreciation on PPE is provided as per Schedule II of Companies Act, 2013 on Straight Line Method over its economic useful life of PPE as follows:

Assets	Useful life
Plant & Machinery	5 -15 Years
Vehicle	8 Years
Office Equipment's	5 Years

Assets	Useful life
Computer	3 Years
Furniture & Fixtures	10 Years
Leasehold Improvements	3 Years
Building	5 -30 Years

Intangible assets

"Under the previous GAAP, Intangible assets were carried in the balance sheet at cost net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any as at March 31, 2023. The company has elected to regard those values of intangible assets as deemed cost at the date of the transition to Ind AS, i.e., April 1, 2023.

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Intangible assets are amortised on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful economic life and are assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired."

Assets	Useful life

Leases

"In accordance with Ind AS 101- ""First-time Adoption of Indian Accounting Standards"", the company has measured lease liability at the date of transition to Ind AS at the present value of the remaining lease payments, discounted using the incremental borrowing rate at the date of transition to Ind AS. The company has measured a right-of-use asset at the date of transition to Ind AS at it carrying amount as if Ind AS 116 had been applied since the commencement date of the lease, but discounted using the incremental borrowing rate at the date of transition to Ind AS.

The Company assesses that the contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether:
(1) The contract involves the use of an identified asset,
(2) The Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the identified asset, and
(3) The Company has the right to direct the use of the identified asset."

Company as a lessee
The Company recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term at the lease commencement date. The cost of the right-of-use asset measured at inception shall comprise of the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date plus any initial direct costs incurred. The right-of-use assets is subsequently measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation, accumulated impairment losses, if any and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use asset is depreciated from the commencement date over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the underlying asset. Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

"The Company measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments over the lease term. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company uses incremental borrowing rate. For leases with reasonably similar characteristics, the Company adopts the incremental borrowing rate for the entire portfolio of leases as a whole. The lease payments shall include fixed payments, variable lease payments, exercise price of a purchase option and payments of penalties for terminating the lease. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made and remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications or to reflect revised in-substance fixed lease payments.

The Company recognises the amount of the remeasurement of lease liability as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset. Where the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is reduced to zero and there is a further reduction in the measurement of the lease liability, the Company recognises any remaining amount of the re-measurement in statement of profit and loss."

The Company has elected not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 to leases for which the underlying asset is of low value. The lease payments associated with these low value leases are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Company as a lessor
Leases in which the Company does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset is classified as operating leases. Rental income arising is accounted for on a straight-line basis over the lease terms. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset and recognised over the lease term on the same basis as rental income. Contingent rents are recognised as revenue in the period in which they are earned

Leases are classified as finance leases when substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership transfer from the Company to the lessee. Amounts due from lessees under finance leases are recorded as receivables at the Company’s net investment in the leases. Finance lease income is allocated to accounting periods so as to reflect a constant periodic rate of return on the net investment outstanding in respect of the lease

Inventory

"Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Costs incurred in bringing each product to its present location and condition are accounted for as follows:

- Raw materials: cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on first in, first out basis.
- Finished goods and work in progress: cost includes cost of direct materials and labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on the normal operating capacity but excluding borrowing costs. Cost is determined on first in, first out basis.
- Traded goods: cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on First in, first out basis.

Initial cost of inventories includes the transfer of gains and losses on qualifying cash flow hedges, recognised in OCI, in respect of the purchases of raw materials.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Obsolete, slow moving and defective inventories are identified at the time of physical verification of inventories and where necessary, the same are written off or provision is made for such inventories based on management's best estimates of net realisable value."

Provisions

General

"Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

Provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of resources would be required to settle the obligation, the provision is reversed."

Contingent Assets/ Liabilities

“Contingent assets are not recognised. However, when realisation of income is virtually certain, the related asset is no longer a contingent asset and is recognised as an asset.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed in notes to accounts when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future event not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made.”

Retirement and other employee benefits

Retirement benefit in the form of provident fund is a defined contribution scheme. The Company has no obligation, other than the contribution payable to the provident fund. The Company recognises contribution payable to the provident fund scheme as an expense, when an employee renders the related service. If the contribution payable to the scheme for service received before the balance sheet date exceeds the contribution already paid, the deficit payable to the scheme is recognised as a liability after deducting the contribution already paid. If the contribution already paid exceeds the contribution due for services received before the balance sheet date, then excess is recognised as an asset to the extent that the pre-payment will lead to, for example, a reduction in future payment.

Retirement benefit in the form of gratuity is a defined benefit scheme. Gratuity liability of employees is accounted for on the basis of actuarial valuation on projected unit credit method at the close of the year. Company’s contribution made to Life Insurance Corporation is expensed off at the time of payment of premium.

"Remeasurements, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability, are recognised immediately in the balance sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through OCI in the period in which they occur.

Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.
Past service costs are recognised in profit or loss on the earlier of:
− The date of the plan amendment or curtailment, and
− The date that the Company recognises related restructuring costs
Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net defined benefit liability. The Company recognises the following changes in the net defined benefit obligation as an expense in the statement of profit and loss:
− Service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailments and non-routine settlements; and
− Net interest expense or income"
Short-term and other long-term employee benefits
"A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries in the period the related service is rendered at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for that service.

Liabilities recognised in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related service. Liabilities recognised in respect of other long-term employee benefits are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows expected to be made by the Company in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date."

Provision for Margin on Finished Goods in Transit represents the estimated profit element on goods invoiced but not yet delivered. The provision is reversed in the subsequent financial period upon delivery.

Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Initial recognition
All financial assets and liabilities are recognized at fair value on initial recognition, except for trade receivables which are initially measured at transaction price. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities, that are not at fair value through profit or loss, are added to the fair value on initial recognition. Regular way purchase and sale of financial assets are accounted for at trade date.

Subsequent measurement

Financial assets carried at amortised cost
A financial asset is subsequently measured at amortised cost if it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold the asset in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income
A financial asset is subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if it is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. The Company has made an irrevocable election for its investments which are classified as equity instruments to present the subsequent changes in fair value in other comprehensive income based on its business model. Further, in cases where the Company has made an irrevocable election based on its business model, for its investments which are classified as equity instruments, the subsequent changes in fair value are recognized in other comprehensive income.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss
A financial asset which is not classified in any of the above categories are subsequently fair valued through profit or loss.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are subsequently carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method, except for contingent consideration recognized in a business combination which is subsequently measured at fair value through profit and loss. For trade and other payables maturing within one year from the balance sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

Derecognition of financial instruments

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under Ind AS 109. A financial liability (or a part of a financial liability) is derecognized from the Company's balance sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

Fair value of financial instruments

In determining the fair value of its financial instruments, the Company uses a variety of methods and assumptions that are based on market conditions and risks existing at each reporting date. The methods used to determine fair value include discounted cash flow analysis, available quoted market prices and dealer quotes. All methods of assessing fair value result in general approximation of value, and such value may never actually be realized.

Impairment

Financial assets

The Company recognizes loss allowances using the expected credit loss (ECL) model for the financial assets which are not fair valued through profit or loss. Loss allowance for trade receivables with no significant financing component is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL. The amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) that is required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date to the amount that is required to be recognised is recognized as an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Cash Flow Statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated.

Earnings per share (EPS)

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) expenditure

CSR Expenditure as per provisions of section 135 of the Act read with rules issued thereunder, is charged to the statement of profit and loss as an expense.

Segment Reporting

The accounting policies adopted by the Company for segment reporting are in line with the Indian accounting standard on Segmental Reporting.

Primary Segment
The Company has two reportable segment Viz. Polymer and Trading, which have been identified in line with the Indian Accounting standard 108 on Segment Reporting, considering the organizational structure as well as differential risk and return of these segments.

Secondary Segment

The company achieved a PAT margin of 7.73% in FY 2026 compared to 6.44% in FY 2025, representing an improvement of 1.29%. This enhancement can be primarily attributed to increased revenue from operations during the year, coupled with lower cost of procurement of materials which can be attributed to our strategic procurement approach: by sourcing key raw materials from a select group of suppliers, we leverage higher volumes to negotiate better rates and ensure consistent input quality; by monitoring market trends, we flexibly switch between domestic and international markets to minimize costs and optimize operations; by maintaining advance stocks, we meet our customers' tight delivery schedules; and, when appropriate, we opportunistically sell excess inventory to capitalize on arbitrage opportunities without disrupting our normal production.

Of the ₹ 587.34 lakhs profit improvement, the primary contribution came from our cost of materials consumed together with purchase of traded goods, which decreased from 80.97% of revenue from operations in FY 2025 to 79.90% in FY 2026. This indicates that we were able to procure materials at a lower price in FY 2026 compared to FY 2025.

For cash & cash equivalents, other bank balances and derivative financial instruments-Since the Company deals with only high-rated banks and financial institutions, credit risk in respect of cash and cash equivalents, derivative financial instruments, other bank balances and bank deposits is evaluated as very low. –

For loans comprising security deposits paid - Credit risk is considered low because the Company is in possession of the underlying asset. –

Fair value measurement

Fair value of the financial instruments is classified in various fair value hierarchies based on the following three levels:

Level 1: Quoted prices for identical instruments in an active market.

Level 2: Directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices) observable market inputs, other than Level 1 inputs; and.

Level 3: Inputs which are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). Fair values are determined in whole or in part using a net asset value or valuation model based on assumptions that are neither supported by prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument nor are they based on available market data.

Our Company had prayed the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate to pass an order for inter alia, issuing process against the Accused, and directing payment for reimbursement of the amount of the cheques and maximum punishment as prescribed under the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881. The Judicial Magistrate First Class pursuant to an order dated May 06, 2026, issued a fresh bailable warrant against the Accused. The matter is presently pending and shall be listed for hearing on March 2, 2027.

4. Our Company filed four complaint cases against Shiv Priya Cables Private Limited and others (the "Accused") before the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, Patiala House Court, New Delhi under Sections 138 and 142 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, as amended in relation to dishonour of eight cheques of an aggregate amount of ₹ 7.82 lakhs each issued by the Accused for purchase of goods from our Company. The cheques issued by the Accused were dishonoured with the remark "refer to drawer". Our Company had prayed the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate to pass an order for inter alia, issuing process against the Accused and directing payment for reimbursement of the amount of the cheques, along with interim compensation at the rate of 20% of the cheque amount in accordance with the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881. The matters are currently pending for adjudication. In two of these matters, the Accused did not appear despite the matter being passed over, and the Court has issued non-bailable warrants against the accused. The matters are currently pending for adjudication. The next dates of hearing in respect of these matters are on January 1, 2027, January 22, 2027 and April 18, 2027.

5. Our Company filed a complaint case against M/s Saffron Cable Industries Private Limited and others (the "Accused") before the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, Patiala House Court, New Delhi under Sections 138, 141 and 142 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, as amended in relation to dishonour of a cheque of an amount of ₹ 11.48 lakhs issued by the Accused for purchase of goods from our Company. 6. Our Company filed a two complaint cases against M/s Vandana Industries Limited and others (the "Accused") before the Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, Patiala House Court, New Delhi (the "Court") under Sections 138, 141 and 142 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, as amended in relation to dishonour of two cheques of an amount of ₹ 11.12 lakhs issued by the Accused for purchase of goods from our Company. The cheques issued by the Accused were dishonoured with the remark "funds insufficient". Pursuant to an order dated November 17, 2025, the Court acquitted the Accused of the offences alleged under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 (the "Impugned Order"). Subsequently, our Company filed a criminal appeal under Section 415 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 before the Court of District and Sessions Judge, Patiala House Courts, New Delhi, challenging the Impugned Order on the grounds that the Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate erred in law and on facts in acquitting the Accused by disregarding the statutory presumptions under Sections 118 and 139 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, and by failing to properly appreciate the oral and documentary evidence on record. We further contended that the Magistrate ignored material admissions and drew erroneous conclusions regarding the absence of supporting documents, and failed to apply settled judicial precedents, resulting in a perverse and unsustainable judgment. Our Company has prayed that the Court pass an order to inter alia, (i) call for the records of the trial court (ii) set aside the Impugned Order; and (iii) convict the Accused for the offence under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, or alternatively remand the matter to the trial court for consideration of additional evidence. The matter is presently pending and shall be listed for hearing on November 4, 2026.

7. A first information report was registered by our Company against Gupta Power Infrastructure Limited, and its Directors (the "Accused") under Sections 504, 506 and 120B of the Indian Penal Code, 1860 at the police station located in Kaushambi, Ghaziabad, Uttar Pradesh, alleging cheating, fraud, criminal conspiracy, criminal breach of trust, misrepresentation and related offences in connection with the supply of polymer compounds. Our Company alleged that pursuant to purchase orders, it supplied PVC, PE and XLPE compounds to the Accused on credit against agreed payment terms of 180 days through letters of credit. However, the Accused allegedly failed to provide the requisite LCs and subsequently defaulted on its payment obligations. Our Company had earlier stopped supplies due to payment delays but resumed supplies upon the Accused agreeing to the revised payment terms. Despite receiving and utilising the supplied goods, the Accused allegedly failed to provide the agreed letters of credit and defaulted in payment of invoices, resulting in an alleged outstanding principal amount of ₹189.22 lakhs, and further loss on account of alleged non-compliances with applicable GST provisions resulting in an additional GST liability. Pursuant to the registration of the FIR, the police have registered the case and commenced investigation. As on the date, the matter is under investigation.

8. Our Company has filed a criminal complaint against M/s Kapil Cables Limited, and others (the "Accused") before the Court of Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, Patiala House Courts, New Delhi under Sections 138 and 141 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 in relation to the dishonour of cheque bearing no. 054818 dated February 9, 2026 for an amount of ₹21.98 lakhs issued by the Accused towards payment for goods supplied by our Company. The cheque was dishonoured upon presentation with the remark "Kindly Contact Drawer Bank". Subsequent to the dishonour of the cheque, the Accused made part payments aggregating ₹11.00 lakhs and an amount of ₹10.98 lakhs remains outstanding. Our Company has prayed before the Court, inter alia, for summoning and prosecuting the Accused under the provisions of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, imposing appropriate fines and directing payment of compensation in respect of the dishonoured cheque. The matter is presently pending and shall be listed for hearing on November 25, 2026.

9. A first information report was registered on August 13, 2026 at Verna Police Station, South Goa, under Section 406 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860, on the complaint of our Vice President – Operations, Joydeep Guha on behalf of our Company, against Abdul Kalam, proprietor of M/s Hana Traders (the "Accused"). The complaint alleges that our Company entrusted approximately 22,880 kg of HDPE lumps/PE Wax to the Accused for grinding and processing between February 12, 2024 and March 14, 2024, against delivery challans and related documents. Out of the material so entrusted, only 11,191 kg was allegedly returned, leaving approximately 10,969 kg unreturned. Despite repeated demands, the Accused allegedly failed to return the balance material and subsequently obtained payment of ₹1.55 lakhs towards grinding charges on the representation that the material would be returned upon receipt of such payment. Our Company subsequently alleged that the Accused became unresponsive and that the material had been sold in the open market, resulting in a loss of approximately ₹8.95 lakhs to our Company. It was further alleged that the stated premises of the Accused did not have any grinding facility and that the Accused could not be located. The first information report was registered under Section 406 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860 and the matter is presently under investigation by Verna Police Station.

Phased implementation of Unified Payments Interface

SEBI has issued the UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of inter alia, equity shares. Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, the UPI Mechanism has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under ASBA) for applications by RIBs through Designated Intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days to up to three Working Days. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI payment mechanism, the UPI Circulars have introduced the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019 until March 31, 2019 or floating of five main board public issues, whichever was later. Subsequently, the timeline for implementation of Phase I was extended till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, a RIB had the option to submit the ASBA Form with any of the Designated Intermediary and use his/ her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days.

RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India and FEMA. While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The RBI and the concerned ministries/departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment. The Government of India has from time to time made policy pronouncements on foreign direct investment ("FDI") through press notes and press releases.

The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India (formerly, Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion) ("DPIIT") issued the Consolidated FDI Policy Circular of 2020, ("Consolidated FDI Policy") which, with effect from October 15, 2020, consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT that were in force and effect prior to October 15, 2020.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of RBI, provided that: (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the Consolidated FDI Policy and transfer does not attract the provisions of the SEBI Takeover Regulations,(ii) the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the Consolidated FDI policy, and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI/RBI. The RBI and the concerned ministry/department are responsible for granting the approval for foreign investment under the FDI Circular and FEMA.

On October 17, 2019, Ministry of Finance, Department of Economic Affairs, had notified the FEMA Rules, which had replaced the Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer and Issue of Security by a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations 2017. Foreign investment in this Issue shall be on the basis of the FEMA Rules. Further, in accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020 issued by the DPIIT and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, will require prior approval of the Government, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future FDI in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction/ purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government. Pursuant to the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) (Fourth Amendment) Rules, 2020 issued on December 8, 2020, a multilateral bank or fund, of which India is a member, shall not be treated as an entity of a particular country nor shall any country be treated as the beneficial owner of the investments of such bank of fund in India. These investment restrictions shall also apply to subscribers of offshore derivative instruments.

As per the Consolidated FDI Policy, read with FEMA Rules, 100% foreign direct investment is permitted under the automatic route in the sector in which our Company operates, however, investments under the foreign direct investment route by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country will require prior approval of the Government of India. Each Bidder should seek independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Issue. In the event such prior approval of the Government of India is required and such approval has been obtained, the Bidder shall intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Issue in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Bid/Issue Period.
