(3) In any other case, the day appointed is 1st July 2026.

(4) Where section 33(1)(d) of the Act would otherwise come into force on 1st July 2026 by virtue of paragraph (3), it is to be treated as if it had not come into force in a case where—

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order amends the Welfare Reform Act 2012 (Commencement No. 35) (Abolition of Benefits) Order 2025 (S.I. 2025/1148 C. 55) (“the No. 35 Order”).

The No. 35 Order appointed 1st April 2026 for ending future entitlement to income support and income-based jobseeker’s allowance. This Order inserts new articles 3A and 7 which make corresponding provision in relation to income-related employment and support allowance and housing benefit.

Income-related employment and support allowance is the income-related element of the “old style” allowance. The “amending provisions” (as defined in the No. 35 Order) are the mechanism for abolishing entitlement to that element and converting any entitlement to the contributory element into the “new style” allowance.

Article 2 of the No. 35 Order brought the amending provisions into force in relation to awards of old style employment and support allowance where the claimant was receiving only the contributory element. New article 3A appoints 1st July 2026 for the coming into force of those provisions in relation to any remaining awards. This is subject to a saving provision for cases where either the claimant has an appointee or the Secretary of State determined within the previous 6 months that an appointee was likely to be needed. The saving provision does not prevent the award from being terminated as a consequence of a claim for universal credit or a failure to claim universal credit by the deadline specified in a migration notice.

Article 6 of the No. 35 Order brought the abolition of housing benefit into force from 14th November 2025 in cases where working age claimants who were receiving only that benefit moved from temporary or specified accommodation.

New article 7 appoints 1st July 2026 for the general abolition of housing benefit (except certain prisoners for whom the abolition takes effect on their release). The abolition is subject to a general saving provision for any claimant who is exempt from the restrictions on new claims for housing benefit. These exemptions include claimants who are over state pension age and claimants who are under that age and occupying temporary or specified accommodation. Where the saving provision in new article 3A(2) applies to a claimant with an award of income-related employment and support allowance, it also applies to their housing benefit award.
