Transitional Provisions

10.—(1) The amendments made by regulations 3 to 9 do not apply to cases where the relevant date occurs before 1st October 2026.

(2) Where the complaint presented to the Employment Tribunal is made under regulation 8(1) of the 2000 Regulations, or regulation 7(1) of the 2002 Regulations in the case of an alleged infringement of regulation 3(1) or 6(2) of the 2002 Regulations, the relevant date is either—

- (a) the date of the less favourable treatment or detriment to which the complaint relates, or
- (b) where the act or failure is part of a series of similar acts or failures comprising the less favourable treatment or detriment, the date of the last of them.

(3) Where the complaint presented to the Employment Tribunal is made under regulation 7(1) of the 2002 Regulations, in the case of an alleged infringement of regulation 3(6), the relevant date is either—

- (a) the date on which other individuals were informed of the vacancy, or
- (b) if there is more than one date, the last date on which other individuals were informed of the vacancy.

(4) Where the complaint presented to the Employment Tribunal is made under regulation 29(1) of the 2004 Regulations, the relevant date is either—

- (a) the date on which the time off was taken, or
- (b) the date on which it is alleged the time off should have been permitted.

(5) Where the complaint presented to the Employment Tribunal is made under regulation 9(1) of the 2010 Regulations, regulation 3(1) of the 2015 Regulations or regulation 8(1) of the 2022 Regulations, the relevant date is either—

- (a) the date of the act or failure to act to which the complaint relates, or
- (b) where that act or failure is part of a series of similar acts or failures, the date of the last of them.

(6) Where the complaint presented to the Employment Tribunal is made under regulation 5(1) or 6(1) of the 2010 Regulations, or regulation 4(1) of the 2018 Regulations, the relevant date is the date of the conduct to which the complaint relates.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations amend seven statutory instruments to extend time limits for presenting complaints to the Employment Tribunal for specified matters from three months to six months.

Regulation 10 makes transitional provision so that the amendments made apply only where the act or failure to act to which the complaint relates occurs on or after 1st October 2026. Provision is also made so that where the complaint relates to a series of acts or failures to act, then the extended time limits will only apply where the last of those acts or failures occurs on or after 1st October 2026.

Similarly, where the detriment or less favourable treatment complained of is a series of similar acts or failures, the amendments made by these Regulations will only apply to cases where the date of the last act or failure is on or after 1st October 2026.

A full impact assessment, which outlines the effect that extending Employment Tribunal time limits will have on the costs to businesses, stakeholders, and households, is available as part of the impact assessments for the Employment Rights Act 2025 (c. 36) and related secondary legislation on www.gov.uk/guidance/employment-rights-bill-impact-assessments/ and from the Department for Business and Trade, Old Admiralty Building, Admiralty Place, London, SW1A 2DY.
