EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

Part 4 of the Immigration Act 2014 (c. 22) (“the 2014 Act”) established a scheme for the referral of proposed marriages and civil partnerships to the Secretary of State, who must decide whether to investigate the proposed marriage or civil partnership to determine whether it is a sham. All proposed marriages and civil partnerships where at least one party is not exempt must be referred to the Secretary of State. Exempt persons include (among others) those who are exempt from immigration control.

Regulation 3 amends Schedule 1 of the Referral of Proposed Marriages and Civil Partnerships Regulations 2015 (S.I. 2015/123) to provide that a person may produce a share code to demonstrate via their online UK Visas and Immigration account that they are exempt from immigration control for the purposes of entering a marriage or civil partnership in England and Wales.

Regulation 4 amends Schedule 1 of the Sham Marriage and Civil Partnership (Scotland and Northern Ireland) (Administrative) Regulations 2015 (S.I. 2015/404) to provide that a person may produce a share code to demonstrate via their online UK Visas and Immigration account that they are exempt from immigration control for the purposes of entering a marriage or civil partnership in Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Where the individual has provided a share code, but the registrar is unable to access the individual’s UK Visas and Immigration account using this code, for example, because it has expired, they can request that the individual generates and provides a further share code for the relevant UK Visas and Immigration account.
